Biographical / Historical

Edward and Gaye Ellington are the children of the late Mercer Kennedy Ellington. The son of jazz great Edward Kennedy (Duke) Ellington, Mercer continued the musical family legacy as a trumpet player, pianist and composer. A musician from a young age, Mercer led his own bands, as well as his father's Duke Ellington Orchestra. Edward, who played the guitar, often traveled with his grandfather and father on tour. After Duke's passing, Mercer inherited leadership responsibilities of the orchestra. Edward then became a member of the band and continued to work with his father on the road. Mercer managed and controlled Mercer Records and Fantasy Records, and eventually managed Ellington Productions, Incorporated and the Duke Ellington Orchestra. In 2003, Edward and Gaye founded the Duke Ellington Legacy Band. Shortly after the success of the new band, Edward and Gaye created the Duke Ellington Legacy Big Band, an eighteen piece ensemble dedicated to the Ellington sound. The Legacy also produces educational curricula and develops programming and lecture series for the public.

Scope and Contents

The Edward and Gaye Ellington collection contains the records of the businesses and material left by their father, Mercer Kennedy Ellington. Ruth Ellington, Duke's sister, and Mercer managed similar aspects of Duke's estate and music. Ruth Ellington managed Tempo Records while Mercer managed Fantasy Records. This collection indicates that there was a distinct line of demarcation between Fantasy Records and Tempo Records. If there were issues of copyright or contractual agreements, the collection contains paperwork covering the matter. There are, however, some overlaps in material particularly in the music manuscripts, photographs and personal papers relating to the Ellington family. The collection is divided into eight series and includes music manuscripts, programs, awards, business records, photographs, slides, correspondence, contracts, newspaper clippings, magazine articles, press releases, catalogues lyrics, scripts and handwritten notes.

Arrangement

The collection is arranged into eight series.

Ellington, Duke, 1899-1974

Container Listing

Series 1: Music, Scripts and Compositional Materials, 1928 - 1974, undated

Subseries 1.1: Music Manuscripts

Scope and Contents: Materials consist primarily of handwritten Duke Ellington scores including rare manuscripts of Ellington's early work (i. e. Swampy River), numerous scores for titles never recorded by Duke Ellington and his Orchestra (i. e. JBYBOI) and many sketches and scores for his end-of-life work, the Scared Concerts. The music manuscripts at times complement the extant materials in the Duke Ellington Collection and the Ruth Ellington Collection of Duke Ellington Materials. Heretofore unavailable scores from the Latin American Suite, among other extended works, add important documents to the public record. Included are many scores by Mercer Ellington and published sheet music. Scattered throughout the collection are also scores by Billy Strayhorn. The music manuscripts are arranged in alphabetical order by title.

Series 3: Photographs, 1933 - 1974

Scope and Contents: Materials include black and white and color prints and slides documenting Duke Ellington's musical career. Included among these materials are images of Duke Ellington alone and with the Duke Ellington Orchestra. Duke Ellington can be seen performing in concerts, receiving awards, in candid shots with band members, composing music, signing autographs, with family and friends, meeting with presidents and heads of states, with military personnel, with other musicians and on television appearances.

There are also a number of photographs documenting the Ellington Orchestra on international tours in places such as Argentina, Burma, Czechoslovakia, England, India, Iraq, Jamaica, Japan, Jordan, Yugoslavia, the Philippines, Sweden and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

In addition, there are some candid and publicity photographs of Mercer Ellington with the Ellington Orchestra under his direction. The photographs are arranged by subject and the slides are arranged in chronological order.
