Historical Note

André Emmerich (1924-2007) was one of America's most noted contemporary art dealers and opened the André Emmerich Gallery in New York in 1954. The gallery showcased contemporary art, particularly Color Field painting and monumental sculpture.

André Emmerich was born on October 11, 1924 in Frankfurt, Germany. From age 7 he was raised in Amsterdam before emigrating with his family to New York City in 1940. He studied at Oberlin College and developed an interest in pre-Columbian art and antiquities. After graduation, he spent ten years in Paris working as a writer and editor before returning to New York. He married Constance Emmerich and the couple had three sons, Adam, Noah, and Toby.

In 1954 Emmerich opened the André Emmerich Gallery at 18 East 77th Street and initially specialized in contemporary American and European art and pre-Columbian antiquities. In 1956, the gallery moved to 17 East 64th Street, and in 1959 to the Fuller Building at 41 East 57th Street. Emmerich wrote two books about pre-Columbian art, Art Before Columbus in 1963 and Sweat of the Sun, Tears of the Moon: Gold and Silver in Pre-Columbian Art in 1965.

In 1961, Emmerich learned that French and Company, a gallery advised by art critic Clement Greenberg, was closing its department of contemporary art. French and Company had represented Color Field painters Morris Louis, Kenneth Noland, and Jules Olitski. Emmerich immediately invited Louis and Noland to be represented by his gallery. In 1966 he extended the invitation to Olitski as well, and Helen Frankenthaler joined soon after. The gallery's reputation as one of the earliest and most important promoters of Color Field painters was launched.

In addition to Color Field painters, the gallery represented, among others, Pierre Alechinsky, Karel Appel, Milton Avery, Herbert Ferber, Sam Francis, John Graham, Al Held, David Hockney, Hans Hofmann, John Hoyland, Judy Pfaff, Miriam Schapiro, and Anne Truitt.

Until January 1983, sales of pre-Columbian art primarily went through an entity called André Emmerich Inc. (AE Inc.), while sales of contemporary went through the André Emmerich Gallery Inc. (AEG). In 1983, the two entities were merged and operated under the name André Emmerich Gallery Inc.

In 1971, Emmerich began operating a downtown gallery at 420 West Broadway, in SoHo, in space shared with Leo Castelli, Virginia Dwan, and Ileana Sonnabend. In 1972, Emmerich opened a branch of his gallery in Zurich. He incorporated the Galerie André Emmerich GmbH primarily for the purpose of leasing gallery space in Zurich. Until February 1974, sales of Pre-Columbian art in Zurich were made by an entity called André Emmerich Gallery Inc., New York Filiale Zurich. The Galerie André Emmerich GmbH was officially liquidated in May 1982. The Filiale was formally closed in October 1996. Galerie André Emmerich also enjoyed a short-lived joint venture with Gimpel & Hanover.

André Emmerich served as president of the Art Dealers Association of America from 1972-1974 and again from 1991-1994.

Emmerich opened a private 150 acre sculpture park, Top Gallant Farm, on his estate in Pawling, New York, in 1982, where he stored and exhibited monumental sculptures by artists his gallery represented including Anthony Caro, Beverly Pepper, Alexander Liberman, Alexander Calder, Mark di Suvero, George Rickey, and Keith Haring. David Hockney painted waves onto floor of the property's swimming pool in 1986. Emmerich operated the sculpture park until 1996.

Emmerich sold his gallery to Sotheby's in 1996. He continued to be affiliated with the gallery until Sotheby's closed the gallery in 1998. Emmerich then began work on his memoir, My Life With Art, excerpts of which have been published in Art News, the Wall Street Journal, and The New Criterion.

Andre Emmerich died in New York 2007 and is survived by his second wife, Susanne Emmerich.

Scope and Content Note

The André Emmerich Gallery records and André Emmerich papers measure 311.4 linear feet and date from 1929 to 2009. The collection documents the business of the André Emmerich Gallery as well as André Emmerich's life and activities related to the business of selling art. Gallery records include correspondence; appointment books; administrative and subject files; exhibition files; artist files and accounts; inventory, sales, purchase, and consignment records; chronological files; financial and legal records; printed materials; original artwork; photographic and audiovisual materials. Also found are personal papers and records relating to André Emmerich.

The records document the gallery's daily business operations, exhibitions, and relationships with artists, dealers, clients, galleries, and museums. Artists particularly well-represented throughout the collection include Anthony Caro, Sam Francis, Helen Frankenthaler, David Hockney, Hans Hofmann, Morris Louis, Kenneth Noland, Jules Olitski, and Beverly Pepper.

Records pre-dating the gallery's establishment in 1954 are primarily newspaper and magazine clippings related to artists, personal photographs and photographs of artists, an original etching, and some of André Emmerich's personal records including biographical materials, correspondence, writings, and legal and financial records. Records post-dating the gallery's closure in 1998 are primarily residual business records related to the final disposition of artwork, clippings, photographs of André Emmerich and gallery staff, biographical materials, personal correspondence, writings, legal and financial records, and condolences received by Emmerich's wife upon his death in 2007.

Correspondence is primarily with galleries, museums and clients about business matters. Correspondence files also cover topics such as appraisals, authentications, offers of sale, artists seeking representation, image requests, job applications and recommendations. Also included are the New York gallery's copies of correspondence between the New York staff and the Zurich staff.

André Emmerich's appointment books document appointments, notes, and reminders about Emmerich's business and personal activities. Four appointment books relating to the birth of Emmerich's three sons and second marriage were kept by the family. The appointment books are access restricted and require written permission to use.

Administrative files include corporate records establishing the Andre Emmerich gallery's structure, records documenting the gallery's daily operations, advertising and publicity material, and records about the Sotheby's acquisition. There are also materials related to Top Gallant Farm, from its establishment to its closure. Travel records relate to André Emmerich's business trips and vacations along with some files on the travels of a several staff members at the gallery. Files about the operations of the Galerie André Emmerich in Zurich, Switzerland are included in the series as well.

Subject files relate to Emmerich's gallery business as well as personal and political interests, such as antiquities, art fairs and exhibitions, lecture research, art associations, and sculpture parks. There are several files on the art critic Clement Greenberg and former president of Gay Men's Health Crisis, Nathan Kolodner, who was also an art dealer and director of the Andre Emmerich Gallery.

Exhibition files contain numerous exhibition catalogs and printed materials related to exhibitions held or organized by the André Emmerich Gallery in Manhattan and Galerie André Emmerich in Zurich. The files contain materials ranging such as exhibition invitations, posters, printed materials, press releases, and guest books. Photographs of exhibitions can be found in the Photographic Materials series.

Artist files include biographical materials, clippings, correspondence, mailing lists, price lists, printed materials, and occasionally lectures, writings, and audiovisual materials for many of the artists represented or shown by André Emmerich Gallery. The General Correspondence files might contain duplicates or expanded versions of some of the correspondence. Photographs of artists can be found in the Photographic Materials series.

Artist accounts comprise account statements prepared periodically by the gallery documenting each artist's expenses and sales. Ledgers and general accounting files can be found in the Other Financial and Legal Records series.

Inventory records include inventory cards describing artwork entering and leaving the gallery and files containing various gallery inventories. Artist inventory cards, representing artists from both the New York and Zurich galleries, list the artist, title, date, media and measurements of an artwork. The cards also indicate whether the work was ultimately sold, returned to the artist, consigned, etc., and divided into categories accordingly. Inventory files show various gallery inventories.

Sales records document gallery sales and include paid invoices, records relating to Zurich sales, general sales records such as price lists and canceled sales, and Sotheby's Parke-Bernet auction reports. There are gaps in sales invoices in 1961-1964 and 1969-1971.

Purchase records include correspondence and invoices related to purchases and offers; annotated invoices for works of art bought by the gallery; André Emmerich, Inc. related purchase records; "Non-Modern" art related purchase records.

Consignment records include correspondence and consignment agreements documenting consignments to and from the André Emmerich Gallery; consignments from other galleries to André Emmerich, Inc.; and general consignment records.

Chronological files include copies of invoices or cover letters documenting the movement of artwork into and out of the gallery through sales, consignments, loans, and approvals. Records dating January through August 1968, January through March 1969, and September 1969 through July 1971 are missing.

Financial and legal records include client and partner account statements, resale and exempt organization certificates, accounting ledgers, and legal files related to disputes involving or of interest to the gallery.

Printed materials include auction catalogs and reports, books, and clippings describing André Emmerich, the galleries in New York and Zurich, Top Gallant Farm, and the art world. Also included is a large scrapbook created by the gallery containing clippings and gallery announcements dated 1955-1958. Clippings relating to particular artists can be found in the Artists Files series.

There are two pieces of original artwork in the collection. One is a 1974 print of a 1933 composite etching by Esther Dick Gottlieb, Adolphe Gottlieb, Edgar Levy, Lucille Corcos Levy, David Smith, and Dorothy Dehner Smith. The second is a 1998 lithograph by Louise Bourgeois, called The Face of the Critic. The artist gave the lithograph as a gift in honor of Robert Hughes and the Archives of American Art and is numbered 61 out of a series of 300.

Photographic materials include prints, slides, negatives, and transparencies. Subjects include artists, André Emmerich, gallery installations, Top Gallant Farm, events, artists' studios, gallery staff, gallery space, and artwork. Photographs which show André Emmerich are indicated as such in the finding aid.

Audiovisual materials includes videocassettes and one audiocassette related to the art world. Videocassettes related to specific artists can be found in the Artists Files series. Videocassettes related to André Emmerich can be found in the André Emmerich Personal Papers and Records series. Videocassettes related to Top Gallant Farm and Sotheby's can be found in the Administrative Files series.

Personal papers and records relating to André Emmerich include biographical materials, personal correspondence, writings and lectures, and legal and financial records. The biographical materials include an address book, interviews and identifying documents. Writings include articles, edits, dissertations, lectures, etc. There are also some miscellaneous correspondence which is organized chronologically.

The small addition received in 2014 includes general correspondence, administrative files, exhibition files, artists' files, inventory records, consignment records, printed material, photographic materials, and André Emmerich personal papers and records.

Subseries 1.2: Appraisals, 1961-1998, 2000

Scope and Contents: Correspondence regarding appraisals usually comes from individuals and organizations requesting André Emmerich's appraisal of artwork. The requests are occasionally accompanied by images of the artwork in question. Appraisals dating from the 1960s usually refer to Pre-Columbian art and contain more descriptive detail than appraisals for 20th century art. Appraisals dating from the 1990s frequently contain standardized language. The requester is usually the artwork's current owner, but Emmerich was also sometimes contacted by museums considering an acquisition or by insurance adjusters after a theft.

The correspondence is arranged chronologically.

Subseries 1.3: Authentications, 1963, 1973-1997

Scope and Contents: Correspondence regarding authentications usually comes from clients, museums, galleries, conservators, and appraisers inquiring about the authenticity of artwork. The correspondence includes letters of authenticity, requests that an artwork be authenticated, requests that certificates of authentication be provided, doubts about the authenticity of a work, and reports supporting or denying the authenticity of an object, its date, or conservation work performed on it. These letters often enclose photographs of the work in question. This series occasionally includes correspondence with the artist considered to be the creator or the artwork or correspondence with the artist's representative.

Some of these correspondents are also represented in the Galleries/Museums/Clients subseries.

The correspondence is arranged chronologically.

Subseries 1.4: Offers, 1963-1966, 1989-1997

Scope and Contents: Correspondence regarding offers usually comes from individuals and galleries interested in selling a piece of artwork to the André Emmerich Gallery. Many of these offers enclose a photograph or sketch of the artwork in question. Most of these offers are either declined by the gallery or are referred to other galleries, dealers, or auction houses, but occasionally Emmerich would request additional photographs or information about the object or ask for a chance to see or handle the item in person.

Some of these correspondents are also represented in the Galleries/Museums/Clients subseries.

The correspondence is arranged chronologically.

Scope and Contents: This subseries contains letters from artists contacting the gallery looking for representation. Some attach press clippings, exhibition programs and announcements, resumes or curricula vitae, biographies, artists' statements, catalogs, publications, business cards, postcards, or other publicity materials. Most of the letters are written by the artists themselves, but a few are written by someone else recommending the artist. Letters are occasionally accompanied by photographs or slides of artwork. Most of these artists receive a negative form letter in return. In later years, the gallery referred this form letter as the "Sorry Artist Letter" or "SAL."

Some correspondence is in French, Dutch, Italian, and German.

The correspondence is arranged chronologically.

Subseries 3.6: Travel, 1984-1998, 2000

Scope and Contents: Travel files primarily document gallery business trips and vacations taken by André Emmerich. A handful of files relate to travel by staff members Loretta Howard, Donald McKinney, and James Yohe. Files include correspondence about travel planning and appointments; notes about visits; correspondence forwarded to Emmerich while he was away from New York; museum tickets, invitations, receipts, postcards, and other travel ephemera; visa applications; information about Emmerich's trips to a health spa called the Pritikin Longevity Center; and occasional photographs of artwork. The files also often include Emmerich's handwritten travel reports.

Most records are in English, but collateral material related to trips to foreign countries is in the languages of the visited countries.

Files are arranged chronologically by date of travel.

28 Linear feet (Boxes 40-68, 307, 308, OV 320-323)

Scope and Contents: Artists files include biographical materials, clippings, correspondence with artists, mailing lists, price lists, and printed materials from other galleries. For many artists, this series also includes lectures or writings by or about the artist, video recordings, and subject files specific to the artist. Some of these files also contain correspondence with other galleries, museums, or clients about the artist or about logistics regarding exhibitions or sales.

Some of the correspondence with museums or galleries about artists in this series, such as correspondence regarding organizing exhibitions or sales, might be duplicated or expanded in Series 1: General Correspondence Files, Subseries 1: Galleries/Museums/Clients.

The most voluminous files, at least 30 folders each, are for the following artists: Milton Avery, Anthony Caro, Sam Francis, Helen Frankenthaler, Al Held, David Hockney, Hans Hofmann, Alexander Liberman, Morris Louis, Beverly Pepper and Dorothea Rockburne. The bulk of the contents consist of clippings and correspondence, as well as project files for specific commissions.

Some records are in French, Japanese and Korean.

Arrangement: Artists files are arranged alphabetically by artist and then alphabetically by folder title.

Series 7: Artist Accounts, 1958-1998

13.5 Linear feet (Boxes 68-81)

Scope and Contents: Artist account statements were prepared periodically by the gallery for each artist or artist's representative. Statements indicate the titles of sold artwork, the names of clients who purchased the work, the purchase price, the gallery's commission, and the balance due to the artist. The statements occasionally also include debits for advances, restoration work, or other expenses charged to the artists or shared between artist and gallery, and other supporting documentation such as invoices or receipts.

Most of the artists have approximately ten folders. The most voluminous artist files, thirty folders or more, belong to Anthony Caro, Helen Frankenthaler, Hans Hofmann, Morris Louis, and Beverly Pepper.

Some of the records are in German and Italian.

Arrangement: These records are arranged alphabetically by artist and then chronologically. The two exceptions are the folders dedicated to Anthony Caro and Hans Hofmann, both of which have subject files in addition to dated files. The folders with dates only are arranged chronologically, followed by the alphabetically arranged subject files. The subject files for Anthony Caro include bank statements, transactions with Barford Sculptures, Ltd., and Zurich account, whereas Hans Hofmann's subject files includes the checking and saving account and information on his tapestries.

Series 8: Inventory Records, circa 1954-2000

46.5 Linear feet (Boxes 82-128)

Scope and Contents: Inventory records document the artwork that passed through the gallery's inventory.

Arrangement: The series is arranged as 2 subseries:

- 8.1: Artist Inventory Cards, circa 1954-1998
- 8.2: Inventory Files, circa 1964-2000

Subseries 8.1: Artist Inventory Cards, circa 1954-1998

Scope and Contents: Inventory cards track artwork entering and leaving the gallery. Each card lists a work's artist, title, date, media, and measurements. Most cards include a photograph of the artwork, and most cards further list the ultimate action taken regarding the work (sold, returned to artist or gallery, consigned, etc.), the list price or paid price, exhibition and catalog history, and the history of price quotes given for the work. The gallery used a number of abbreviations for the transactions on the inventory cards:

- NFS - Not For Sale
- RTA - Returned to Artist
- o/c - On Consignment (from)
- o/a - On Approval
- OOG - Out of Gallery
- O/L - On Loan (from)
- TGF - Top Gallant Farm

There are no inventory cards tracking pre-Columbian art and artifacts in the collection. The cards represent works from both the New York gallery and Zurich gallery.

The cards are arranged into ten overlapping groups established by the gallery representing transactions, such as sales and consignments, loans, returns, and other general art movement. Within each category, most of the cards are alphabetized by artist and thereafter by title, but occasionally an artist's work is divided into categories (for example by media) before being arranged alphabetically by title:

- Returned to Artist
- Sold (pre-1993)
- Sold
- Sold and/or Returned to Artist
- Returned to Artist
- Sold
- Old Top Gallant Farm Sculptures
- Emmerich Private Sold
- Last Active Inventory and Sales
- Additional Cards

Series 9: Sales Records, 1959-1998

40 Linear feet (Boxes 128-168)

Scope and Contents: These records primarily document gallery sales and include invoices, shipping records, and related correspondence with clients, galleries, and museums. Additional records document auction sales from Sotheby's Parke-Bernet.

Arrangement: The series is arranged as 4 subseries:

- 9.1: Paid Sales Invoices, 1959-1998
- 9.2: Zurich Sales Records, 1973-1985
- 9.3: General Sales Records, 1976-1998
- 9.4: Sotheby's Parke-Bernet Records of Sale, 1978-1982

Subseries 9.1: Paid Sales Invoices, 1959-1998

Scope and Contents: This subseries includes annotated copies of invoices for works of art sold by the gallery. Invoices are often accompanied by supporting documentation such as related correspondence, shipping records, photocopies of inventory cards, correspondence, invoices for cleaning or restoration work, or invoices to partner galleries for shared expenses.

Invoices for the André Emmerich Gallery are missing for the following years: 1961-1963, 1964 (A-N and S-Z), and 1970. Invoices for André Emmerich, Inc. are missing for the following years: 1962, 1964 (N-R), and 1969-1971. The two entities merged in 1983 and operated under the name André Emmerich Gallery, so there are no folders labeled André Emmerich, Inc. past that year.

These records are arranged chronologically by year the bill was paid and then alphabetically by client.

The etching was created as the result of an evening gathering of artists Esther Dick Gottlieb, Adolph Gottlieb, Edgar Levy, Lucille Corcos Levy, David Smith, and Dorothy Dehner Smith. Each of the six artists drew a small portrait of one of the other artists on an etching plate. Very few images were originally printed in 1933, but in 1974, the surviving artists authorized an edition and signed them. This print is number 96 of the 100 printed in 1974.

The Archives of American Art also holds print number 91 of 100 in the Dorothy Dehner Papers.

This series also contains a 1998 lithograph by Louise Bourgeois titled The Face of the Critic, numbered 61 out of a series of 300. The lithograph was given as a gift by the artist in honor of Robert Hughes and the Archives of American Art.

Arrangement: Artwork is arranged chronologically.
