Summary:	The records of the New York City gallery James Graham & Sons measure 103.6 linear feet and date from 1815, 1821, circa 1896-2011 (bulk 1950s-1980s). The collection generally documents the gallery's contemporary art department during the time in which Robert Claverhouse Graham, Sr. worked at the gallery (1940-1979); records prior to 1954 are sparse and scattered. Gallery records include artist files; correspondence; exhibition files; financial records; inventory records; printed materials; sales, loans, and consignment records; scrapbooks; and photographic materials. Also found are records from Coe Kerr Gallery regarding exhibitions.

Administrative Information

Acquisition Information

The James Graham & Sons records were donated in 2007, 2008, and 2012 by Priscilla Caldwell and Jay Grimm of James Graham & Sons and in 2018 by Cameron Shay of James Graham & Sons.

Related Material

Among the other resources relating to James Graham & Sons in the Archives of American Art is an oral history interview with Robert Claverhouse Graham, November 19, 1976, and the David Herbert papers, 1950-1995.

Processing Information

The collection was processed to a minimal level and a finding aid prepared by Sarah Haug in 2012. Folder titles were transcribed from original folder headings; additional information provided by the processing archivist was written in brackets. The addition to the collection, boxes 102-110, was processed and added to the finding aid by Christopher DeMairo in 2022.

Historical Note

The James Graham & Sons gallery has been owned and managed by the Graham family in New York City since 1857. Throughout its history, the gallery has specialized in decorative arts, antiques, and 19th-early 20th century and contemporary American art.

In 1857, Samuel Graham founded a gallery at 66 Third Street and specialized in furniture. Graham was joined by his son James in the 1880s and expanded the business to include antiques and decorative arts. James A. Graham, the third generation Graham, joined the gallery in the early 20th century. James Graham and antiques dealer Marshall Clapp created Clapp & Graham in 1914, a partnership which was dissolved around 1940.

James R. Graham, the fourth generation Graham, joined the gallery in 1937, followed by his brother Robert Claverhouse Graham, Sr. in 1940. The gallery was then named James Graham & Sons and was located at 514 Madison Avenue. At this time, the gallery specialized in bronzes, ceramics, silver, sculptures, and 19th-early 20th century American art. Robert C. Graham, Sr. introduced modern American art, especially The Eight, into the gallery's inventory.

In 1955, the gallery moved to 1014 Madison Avenue, where it remained until the late 2000s. That same year, Graham opened its first contemporary department with Albert Duveen. Duveen-Graham Modern Art gallery was based on the third floor of the Madison Avenue building and dealt solely in contemporary art until its closing in 1958. Robert C. Graham, Jr. (Robin) joined the gallery in 1963, becoming the fifth generation Graham to run the family business. The gallery is currently located at 32 East 67th Street.

Betsy Fahlman's "James Graham & Sons: A Century and a Half in the Art Business" (2007) was a valuable resource in constructing this Historical Note.

Scope and Content Note

The records of the New York City gallery James Graham & Sons measure 103.6 linear feet and date from 1815, 1821, circa 1896-2011 (bulk 1950s-1980s). The collection generally documents the gallery's contemporary art department during the time in which Robert Claverhouse Graham, Sr. worked at the gallery (1940-1979); records prior to 1954 are sparse and scattered. Gallery records include artist files; correspondence; exhibition files; financial records; inventory records; printed materials; sales, loans, and consignment records; scrapbooks; and photographic materials. Also found are records from Coe Kerr Gallery regarding exhibitions of artwork by Jamie Wyeth, and to a lesser extent, Andrew and N.C. Wyeth.

Over the years, the gallery changed names and established contemporary art departments. In addition to records of James Graham & Sons, the collection holds the records of Duveen-Graham Modern Art (in partnership with Albert Duveen), Graham Gallery, Graham Modern, JG|Contemporary, and, to a lesser extent, The Clapp and Graham Co.

Alphabetical files are a mix of business correspondence and business records. The bulk of the series contains correspondence with galleries, museums, other institutions, and, to a lesser extent, clients regarding sales, consignments, and loans of artwork. Also found are materials relevant to the daily operations of the gallery, including correspondence, subject files, and scattered financial, business and legal records.

Exhibition files provide scattered documentation of the gallery's exhibitions through catalogs, clippings, correspondence, guest books, notes, photographs, press materials, price lists, and sales receipts and other financial records.

Artists' Files document the numerous artists who have been represented by the gallery, especially modern American artists. Folders for each artist can contain a variety of materials, including correspondence with the artist or with institutions regarding consignments, loans, sales and exhibitions; photographic materials primarily of artwork; sales invoices; exhibition catalogs, postcards, and other printed materials; press releases; magazine and newspaper clippings; price lists; artist binders; and research materials on artists and artwork. Also found are some subject files, per original arrangement. There is extensive material related to artists Carmen Cicero, Susan Crile, Elaine De Kooning's portrait of President John F. Kennedy, Edwin Dickinson, muralist Seymour Fogel, Nancy Fried, Irving Kriesberg, Gari Melchers, Jonathan Santlofer, Reeve Schley, Peter Stevens, Joan Thorne, and Selina Trief.

Artwork files document sales, consignments, and loans of artwork primarily from the mid-1980s to 2000s. Materials include agreements and contracts; condition reports; correspondence; invoices and receipts; photographs of artwork; shipping records; and photocopied printed material and other documentation. This series requires written permission from the donor in order to access.

Sales records from 1959-1984 (missing 1974) are found in the Financial Records series. Also found are check stub books from the mid-late 1950s; price lists; records for the Four Seasons Charter Corp.; and scattered banking, consignment, tax, and other financial records. Inventory cards from mid-1950s-1970s and inventory lists, often with notations and prices, are found in the series Inventory Records.

Coe Kerr Gallery Records regarding the Wyeths document Jamie Wyeth's exhibitions primarily from the mid-1970s-early 1980s. Also found is limited material regarding Andrew Wyeth and N.C. Wyeth. Materials include correspondence, photographs, exhibition printed materials, and extensive newspaper clippings.

There are exhibition catalogs, books, announcements, magazines, clippings, postcards, posters and other printed materials related to artists, John Graham & Sons exhibitions, and exhibitions by Graham artists held at other galleries and museums. Also found is an 1815 fifty cent note which was redeemed in 1821.

Seven scrapbooks document discrete aspects of the business, including the gallery's advertising, participation in an art fair, and the careers of artists Guy Coheleach and Van Dearing Perrine. Materials housed in the scrapbooks include clippings, catalogs, photographs, and other printed materials.

Photographic Materials include mostly black and white photographs, negatives, slides and transparencies of artwork; scattered photographs of installations, artists, and the gallery; and a handful of personal snapshots. The bulk of the photographs are undated, but were likely printed between 1950s-1990s.

Container Listing

Series 1: Alphabetical Files, 1902-1999, circa 1896 (bulk 1955-1986)

15 Linear feet (Boxes 1-15, 102)

Scope and Contents: The bulk of Alphabetical Files is a mix of business correspondence and business records. The correspondence is mostly with galleries, museums, universities, and, to a lesser extent, clients concerning sales, consignments, loans and exhibitions. Also found are general inquiries to the gallery; subject files related to exhibitions and the daily operation of the gallery; some bills and receipts; and scattered business and legal records.

Upon processing, the original arrangement of materials found in this series was unknown. The processing archivist chose to describe the series "Alphabetical Files" as portions of the mixed materials were often arranged alphabetically.

Arrangement: Folders are arranged alphabetically by folder title.

Series 2: Exhibition Files, 1947-2004, 1912

8.1 Linear feet (Boxes 16-24, 102)

Scope and Contents: Exhibition Files documents the gallery's exhibitions through catalogs, clippings, correspondence, guest books, notes, photographs, press materials, price lists, and scattered sales receipts and other financial records. Materials found here only provide partial documentation of the gallery's exhibition schedule. Exhibitions at the gallery from the 1980s-1990s are especially under-represented.

In addition to James Graham & Sons, this series includes exhibitions held by Duveen-Graham Gallery, Graham Gallery, Graham Modern, and JG|Contemporary, as well as Graham's participation in art fairs (late 1980s-1990s). Additional exhibition materials are also found in other series.

Arrangement: Originally, much of the material was arranged by subject, such as British pottery shows or Illustration exhibitions. However, the series has been rearranged chronologically according to exhibition date. Guest books are arranged at the end of the series.

Series 3: Artists' Files, circa 1907-2009 (bulk 1955-1999)

47.5 Linear feet (Boxes 24-62, 95-96, 102-110)

Scope and Contents: Artists' Files documents the relationship or interest the gallery had with individual artists, especially modern American artists. Folders for each artist can contain a variety of materials, such as correspondence with the artist, clients, galleries, and museums regarding consignments, exhibitions, loans, and sales; photographs, slides, and transparencies, primarily of artwork; sales invoices; exhibition catalogs, postcards, and other printed materials; press releases; magazine and newspaper clippings, often compiled in binder sleeves; price lists and related exhibition records; artist binders containing biographical information and photographs; and research materials on artists and artwork. Also found are some scattered subject files, per original arrangement.

There is extensive material related to artists Carmen Cicero, Susan Crile, Elaine De Kooning's portrait of President John F. Kennedy, Edwin Dickinson, muralist Seymour Fogel, Nancy Fried, Irving Kriesberg, Gari Melchers, Jonathan Santlofer, Reeve Schley, Peter Stevens, Joan Thorne, and Selina Trieff. Researchers are encouraged to also consult Alphabetical Files when researching particular artists or artworks.

Arrangement: Folders are arranged alphabetically by artists' last name or subject.

Series 4: Artwork Files, circa early 1900s-2011 (bulk 1983-2009)

9.3 Linear feet (Boxes 63-71, 94, 101)

Scope and Contents: Artwork Files documents sales, consignments, and loans of artwork through agreements and contracts; condition reports; correspondence; invoices and receipts; photographs of artwork; shipping records; and photocopied printed material and other documentation. Most photographs are described on the back with the following: artist name, title of artwork, artwork date, size, and medium. This series requires written permission from the donor in order to access.

Arrangement: Folders are arranged according to the original order, loosely in alphabetical order by artist's last name and by title of the artwork. A handful of folders of miscellaneous materials related to artwork are filed at the end of the series.

Series 6: Inventory Records, circa 1954-1993

2.1 Linear feet (Boxes 76-78, 96)

Scope and Contents: The bulk of this series are inventory cards from mid-1950s-1970s arranged very loosely in alphabetical order by artist's last name. Researchers are encouraged to consult the entire span of the inventory cards, rather than relying on alphabetical order. Also found are lists of inventory, often with notations and prices.

Arrangement: Folders are arranged alphabetically by folder title.

Series 9: Scrapbooks, 1897-1990s

0.9 Linear feet (Boxes 82, 98-100)

Scope and Contents: This series contains 7 scrapbooks. Four of the scrapbooks chronicle the gallery's advertising efforts from 1940-1968 and 1981-1986; one scrapbook contains photographs of an art fair; and two scrapbooks document the careers of artists, Guy Coheleach and Van Dearing Perrine. Materials housed in the scrapbooks include clippings, catalogs, photographs, and other printed materials.

Arrangement: Scrapbooks are arranged alphabetically by folder title.

Series 10: Photographic Materials, 1929-1990s

11.5 Linear feet (Boxes 83-93, 96, 100-101, 110)

Scope and Contents: Photographic Materials includes mostly black and white photographs, negatives, slides and transparencies of artwork; scattered photographs of installations, artists, and the gallery; and a handful of personal snapshots. The bulk of the photographs are undated, but were likely printed between 1950s-1990s.

The photographs of artwork frequently include descriptive information on the back, including title, date of painting, dimensions, inventory number, price (sometimes in code), sold date, buyer name, and photographer's contact information. Also found are a few disassembled binders of collated photographs, and scattered exhibition catalogs, price lists, artists' biographies, and newspaper clippings interfiled with the photographs. Additional photographs are found in Artists' Files, following the original arrangement.

Arrangement: Folders are filed alphabetically by artist's last name or subject, followed by unidentified photographs and photographs of artwork by various artists. Photographs of Seymour Fogel's artwork, exhibitions, and installations, as well as one folder of negatives related to Charlie Dye are filed at the end of this series and requires written permission of the donor in order to access (Boxes 93 and 101).
