Title is provided by EEPA staff based on Dr. Henry J. Drewal publication: Mami Wata: Arts for Water Spirits in Africa and Its Diasporas. Los Angeles: Fowler Museum of UCLA and University of Washington Press, 227 pp., 2008. Page 110.

This photograph was taken by Dr. Henry Drewal while conducting field research in southeastern Nigeria, on a Fulbright-Hays Post-Doctoral Research Fellowship from 1977 through 1978.

Original title reads, "Alphonsus Njoku. Mami water/Native Doctor. Mamiwater Sculptured by: Onyeju Ikekwem of Oparachi Ihitte, Aboh LGA Mbaise. About 1963." [Drewal field research notes, book 77-8.1, Roll 129, frame 34, p.83 + 85, 1977-1978].

Publication title reads, "In the shrine of Alphonsius Njoku, the figure of Mami Wata stands on soft drink bottles in a small pool of water. In front of her are offerings in the form of plates, a bottle, a bottle opener, wooden and metal snakes, talcum powder containers, kola nuts, and a candelabrum cluster on a table. A chromolithograph of the Madonna and Child and another of an Indian woman holding a jar appear above Mami Wata. Njoku reports that the latter image appears because Mami wants to be associated with beautiful things." [Henry J. Drewal with contributions by Marilyn Houlberg, Bogumil Jewsiewicki, Amy L. Noell, John W. Nunley, and Jill Salmons, 2008: Mami Wata: Arts for Water Spirits in Africa and Its Diasporas. Los Angeles: Fowler Museum of UCLA and University of Washington Press, 227 pp.].

Donated by Henry John Drewal and Margaret Thompson Drewal, 1992.

Mami Wata: Arts for Water Spirits in Africa and Its Diasporas. Los Angeles: Fowler Museum of UCLA and University of Washington Press, 227 pp., 2008. P. 112, fig. 5.5. [Issued in connection with an exhibition held Apr. 6-July 28, 2008, Fowler Museum of UCLA, Los Angeles].

Imala Double mask connected by intricate image of snakes, animals, and figures carved by Abegure Akere. Died a long time ago. The figure at the back holding a cane and Koran and wearing beard and turban represents Sule, the founder of Islam in Imala. He was member of Onidofoi cult. In his time he helped carry the mask to the market. The other figure with shawl around neck and beard is probably Elemo of Onidofoi cult who was said to wear Muslim dress. He dances with the shawl. The female figures are the iyalase - they worship Onidofoi. They sit before Onidofoi and represent Apotun. They worship with kola. They are also called Awon eya wa because they are believed to have powers of witchcraft. The snakes represent the power of Onidofoi. [Other works by Akere are illustrated in Thompson, Ch.13, pIII. Thompson says Akere did work in 1st quarter of 20thC.] [index cards p5]. The date on the slide is MAY 71.
