Repository: Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery Archives
Title: Ernst Herzfeld Papers
Date: 1903-1947
Identifier: FSA.A.06
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Extent: 150 Linear feet (circa 30,000 items)
Language: Collection is in English, Arabic, German, Hebrew, and Persian.
Summary: An outstanding scholar in the field of Iranian studies, Ernst Herzfeld (1879--1948) explored all phases of Near Eastern culture from the prehistoric period to Islamic times. This collection documents Herzfeld’s excavations at Samarra, Persepolis, Pasargadae, and Aleppo and includes correspondence; field notebooks; drawings; sketchbooks; inventories of objects; "squeeze" copies of architectural details; and photographs.

Administrative Information

Acquisition Information
Ernst Herzfeld donated his papers to the Freer Gallery of Art in 1946.

Provenance
It was his friend and colleague, Richard Ettinghausen, then curator of Near Eastern art at the Freer Gallery of Art, who encouraged Ernst Herzfeld to donate his papers to the Smithsonian Institution. Since the original gift in 1946, there have been a number of significant additions. Herzfeld's sister, Charlotte Bradford, arranged for several donations to be made from the estate in 1950 and 1951, and, at her request, papers left by Herzfeld in Cairo were given to the Freer Gallery by Prof. Murad Kamil of Fuad I University in 1952. After extensive investigation, Herzfeld’s final edited manuscript of "The Persian Empire", thought to have been lost, was discovered and given to the Freer Gallery in 1965 by the French Institute of Oriental Archaeology in Cairo. An old friend, the numismatist George C. Miles, added substantially to the papers in 1960 and 1970.

Available Formats
Microfiche available at the Freer Gallery of Art Library.

Processing Information
The guide to the Ernst Herzfeld Papers was prepared by Joseph M. Upton in 1974. Partially unprocessed. Processing completed by Colleen Hennessey and Xavier Courouble.

Biographical / Historical

The Ernst Herzfeld Papers document the career of Ernst Herzfeld (1879--1948), a German architect, archaeologist, and historian of Islamic and Pre-Islamic studies. After training as an architect he studied archaeology under Delitzch from 1903 to 1906 at the excavations at Assur in Mesopotamia. A student of Latin, Greek, Arabic, Persian, Turkish, and Hebrew, Herzfeld received a doctorate in Humanistic Studies at universities in Munich and Berlin in 1907. His work with Friedrich Sarre to survey the monuments of the Tigris-Euphrates valleys resulted in landmark studies in architectural history, published in 1911 and 1920.

In 1920 Herzfeld was appointed to the chair of Historical Geography in Berlin and began his excavation at Samarra. Herzfeld's work there led to a six-volume publication. He published widely throughout his life on the sources of Islamic architecture and ornament, including the Royal Palace at Persepolis.

From 1934 until the end of his life Herzfeld spent his time producing many books and articles, lecturing, and working at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton (1936--1945.) Many of his works continue to be published post-humously.

1879 July 23 Born in Celle, Germany.
1897 Received diploma from Joachimsthaler Gymnasium, Berlin.
1897-circa 1898 Fulfilled military service.
circa 1899 Studied architecture at the Technical University and Assyriology, art history, and philosophy at the Friedrich-Wilhems Universität in Berlin.
1903 Passed exam in structural engineering.
1903-1905 Assistant to Walter Andrae (1875-1956) in Assur.
1905-1906 Traveled throughout Iran and Iraq.
1907 Excavation in Cilicia.
1910 Herzfeld and Sarre jointly publish, "Iranische Felsreliefs" (Berlin, 1910).
1911-1913 Field Director under direction of Sarre during expedition to Samarra.
circa 1914 Drafted into service in France and Poland during World War I. Sent to Iraq where he functioned as a surveyor.
1916 Father died.
1917 Appointed associate professor for Historical Geography and Art History of the Ancient Orient at Berlin.
Along with Friedrich Sarre and others, founded the German-Persian Society to increase cultural and economic exchange between Germany and Persia.

1922
Mother died.

1922-1934
In Persia, where he completed many excavations and studies.

1928
Excavation at Pasargadae.

1931-1934
Appointed director of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago and moved to Persepolis.

1934
As grandson of Jews, Nazi legislation expelling state employees of Jewish descent forced Herzfeld to retire as a professor employed by the state. Moved to London.

1936
Delivered Lowell Lectures. Moved to Boston. Lectured on Iranian history and appointed a member of the Princeton Institute for Advanced Study.

1944
Retired from Princeton University.

1948 January 20
Died.

Scope and Contents

Papers (1899–1962) of German born archaeologist Ernst Emil Herzfeld (1879–1948), a preeminent scholar of Near Eastern and Iranian studies. The collection measures 150 linear feet (circa 30,000 items) and documents Herzfeld's work as a pioneer in the field and sheds light on his excavations at Samarra, Persepolis, Pasargadae, and Aleppo. Formats include correspondence; field notebooks; drawings; sketchbooks; inventories of objects; "squeeze" copies of architectural details; and photographs.

Arrangement

This collection is organized into seven series.

• Series 1: Travel journals
• Series 2: Sketchbooks
• Series 3: Notebooks
• Series 4: Photographic files 1-42
• Series 5: Drawings and maps
• Series 6: Squeezes
• Series 7: Samarra Expedition

Series 1: Travel Journals, 1905-1928, 1905-1929

8 Items (Travel journals; various dimensions)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Language: Text in German and Arabic.

Scope and Contents: The travel journals are in Herzfeld's handwriting in German. They have been transliterated into typed versions of which each page is faced by a xerox copy of the original, showing sketches and inscriptions.

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel journals, 1905-1928" is composed of eight travel journals which contain descriptions of plant and animal life, as well as comments on the countless people Herzfeld encountered, their economic and their social activities. The journals also contain descriptions of the practical daily problems of travel, especially with a caravan; the dreams or nightmares he experienced on sleepless nights; and a great variety of thoughts on politics, people or history which crossed his mind during the sometimes tedious hours of travel. Finally facts with archaeological significance in the narrow sense of ruins, buildings and artifacts, as well as topographical notes for the preparation of maps, were noted to be ultimately incorporated in subsequent finished studies.

- FSA A.6 01.01, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-47", provides first an account of a trip (October 25 to November 19, 1928) to Khurramabad (Iran) in which Herzfeld accompanied Reza Shah, and second an account of a trip (February 17 to March 19, 1929) from Tehran (Iran) to Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran).

- FSA A.6 01.02, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-81", provides an account of an expedition (September 2 to November 18, 1905) from Assur (Iraq) to Shiraz (Iran) ("Von Kalat Schergat nach Schiraz, 1905").

- FSA A.6 01.03, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-82", provides an account of an expedition (November 23 to January 03, 1906) from Shiraz (Iran) to Constantinople (Turkey) ("Von Schiraz nach Teheran und Constantinopel, 1905").

- FSA A.6 01.04, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-83", provides an account of an expedition (February 14 to November 14, 1923) from Berlin to Pasargadae (Iran) ("Tagebuch. Persien I, 1923").

- FSA A.6 01.05, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-84", provides an account of an expedition (November 15, 1923 to April 30, 1924) from Pasargadae (Iran) to bushire (Iran) ("Tagebuch. Persien II, 1923-1924").

- FSA A.6 01.06, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-85", provides an account of an expedition (December 1, 1923 to March 21, 1924) from Kabul (Afghanistan) to Mashhad (Iran) ("Afghanistan -Ostpersien I, 1923-1924").

- FSA A.6 01.07, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "S-7", provides first an account of a roundtrip (June 3 to June 29, 1911) Samarra (Iraq) - Sulaimaniya (Iraq), and second an account of a trip (September 12 to September 19, 1911) from Balad (Iraq) to Seleucia - Ctesiphon ("Samarra Tagebuch 2, Reise nach Sulaymānīyah und nach Ktesiphon Baghdad").

- FSA A.6 01.08, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "S-10", provides an account of an expedition (July 8 to August 27, 1913) from Samarra (Iran) to Asadabad (Hamadan, Iran) ("Tagebuch der Rückreise von Samarra 1913").

General: It is impractical to include in the Index the name of every person or place mentioned in the Journals. These were essentially short-hand notes intended to remind Herzfeld of facts to be incorporated in subsequent finished studies. Many of the items, especially in N-81 and N-82, are topographical notes for the preparation of maps. Herzfeld tended to note everything he saw and heard, so the Journals contain descriptions of plant and animal life, as well as comments on the countless people he encountered, their economic and their social activities. The Journals also contain descriptions of the practical daily problems of travel, especially with a caravan; the dreams or nightmares he experienced on sleepless nights; and a great variety of thoughts on politics, people or history which crossed his mind during the sometimes tedious hours of travel. He even includes snatches of poetry.

The items entered in the Index are, therefore, primarily those of archaeological significance in the narrow sense of ruins, buildings and artifacts, especially if Herzfeld inserted a sketch. He was accustomed on these exploratory trips to supplement the Journals with comprehensive photographic record (see the inventory to the photographic File) and sketchbooks (see the inventory to the sketchbooks).

The circumstances under which the Journals were written often led to inconsistencies in the spelling which was sometimes again modified in printed texts. It might also be mentioned that there are differences in the transliteration of Near Eastern script according to the French, German or English systems, not to speak of the "personal" systems sometimes adopted by writers in the field. Since Herzfeld published in all three languages, all three systems occur in the catalogues of the collection; but I am confident that that fact will cause no particular hardship for scholars.

- Travel journals titles are provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Ernst Herzfeld's handwritten sketchbooks captions and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

Local Numbers: FSA A.06 1

Arrangement: In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Travel Journals were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel Journals, 1905-1928) for eight travel journals. For some reason, Upton has given these journals an accession number related to the series he created for the notebooks (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) and for the Samarra material (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 7: Records of Samarra Expeditions, 1906-1945), probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

1.1: N-47: "Trip to Khurramābād and Ahwaz", 1928 October 25–November 19

1 Diary (1 volume (46 pages); 14.6 cm. x 8 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Language: Text in German and Arabic.

Scope and Contents: Herzfeld traveled in Reza Shah's party for the inauguration of the new road and took advantage of the opportunity to copy archaeological inscriptions, such as those at Pul-i Kalhur, and record a newly discovered prehistoric grave and contents at Gilwerān.

- FSA A.6 01.01, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-47", provides first an account of an expedition (October 25 to November 19, 1928) to Khurramabad (Iran) in which Herzfeld accompanied Reza Shah for the inauguration of the new road. Herzfeld took advantage of the opportunity to copy archaeological inscriptions, such as those at Pul-i Kalhur, and to record a newly discovered prehistoric grave and contents at Gilwerān.
The journal also provides an account of an expedition (March 1 to March 19, 1929) from Karachi (Pakistan) to Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran).

- The account of the trip to Khurramabad and Ahwaz reads, "Burūjird, inscription of Masjid-i Jāmi', 1022 H., October 26, 1928 (pp. 2-6); Rezā Shāh, dinner at Khurramābād with gift of engraved silver map, October 28, 1928 (pp. 17-19); Pul-i Kalhur (on Kalkān river by tunnel between Khurramābād and Dizful), sketch: Kufic inscription, 374 H. (pp. 23-24); Rezā Shāh, opening of new road by Shah, October 30, 1928 (pp. 25-26); notes on bridge with sketch: plan of area of bridge, construction, and two identical inscriptions, October 30, 1928 (pp. 30-34); Pul-i Dukhtar (vicinity of Pul-i Kalhur), comments on bridge, October 30, 1928 (p. 36); Rezā Shāh, mired in impassable roads, on foot and by launch to Ahwāz, November 2-3, 1928 (pp. 40-46); Gilwerān (4-5 Klm. from Khurramābād on old road), notes on prehistoric grave with sketch: elevation of grave, as well as pottery and bronzes, November 16, 1928 (pp. 57-62)."

1 Diary (1 volume (68 pages); 20.5 cm. x 17.1 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Language: Text in German and Arabic.
Local Numbers: Ernst Herzfeld Papers, N-82

Arrangement: In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Travel Journals were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel Journals, 1905-1928) for eight travel journals. For some reason, Upton has given this journal an accession number related to the series he created for the notebooks (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.), probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

General: - Additional information from staff reads, "The handwritten text of the Journal in Gothic script was first transliterated by Mrs. Franz Pariser and later reviewed by Ernst Herzfeld's former collaborator, Friedrich Krefter. Please contact the Archives for digital access to the transliterated copy."

Scope and Contents:
- FSA A.6 01.03, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-82", provides an account of an expedition (November 20, 1905 to January 5, 1906) from Shiraz (Iraq) to Tehran (Iran), then finally to Constantinople (Turkey).
- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; von Schiraz nach Teheran and Constantinople, 1905"
- Barm-i dilak (Iran): Three Sasanian reliefs and [sketch depicting presentation a flower], November 23, 1905, (pp. 3-4).
- Qasr-i Abu Nasr (Iran): Notes and sketch of top section of standing door frame, November 23, 1905, (pp. 4-5).
- Persepolis (Iran): Notes and sketches of general site of terrace (p.10), hole for roof timbers (p.11), traces of balustrade on stairs (p.12), and lotus buds in King's hands as well as plan and elevation of southern tomb (p.14), November 24, 1905, (pp. 9-15).
- Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran): Sasanian reliefs and Achaemenian tombs, detail sketch of king's crowns (pp.16-17); elevation of Darius' tomb; Kaaba(p.18); dune-like mound in front of tombs, November 24, 1905, (pp. 15-31).
- Pasargadae (Iran): Sketch of section of old rock-cut road from Sīwand (p.22); plan of immediate area of tomb of Cyrus (pp.23-24); plan of anten of palace (p.29), November 25-26, 1905, (pp. 22-31).
- Yazdikhāst (Iran): Sketch of plan of site of town; tile of caravansarai, November 29, 1905, (pp. 41-42).
- Isfahān (Iran): See also Chehel Sutûn and Hasht Behisht. Discussion of tilework in Isfahān (pp.59-60); sketch of rug pattern (p.61); description of rugs for sale (pp.70-71) with sketch of lily design (p.71), November 29 to December 7, 1905, (pp. 44-75).
- Isfahan (Iran): Sketch of plan of Hasht Behisht, December 1, 1905, (p. 47).
- Isfahan (Iran): Sketch of lion column base of Chehel Sutūn, December 1, 1905, (pp. 49-50).
- Sketch of plan and location of tile panels with detailed description of subjects and colors, December 4, 1905, (pp. 55-58).
- Julfa (Iran): Two churches, December 6, 1905, (pp. 67-69).
- Teheran (Iran): Herzfeld's first visit, December 14-16, 1905, (pp. 81-93).
- Ray (Iran): Tower of silence and ruins, December 16, 1905, (pp. 88-89).
- Rasht (Iran): December 27, 1905, (p. 93).
- Sinope (Turkey): Sketch of plan of harbor (p.110), enroute from Persia to Germany, December 28, 1905, (p. 110).

Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel Journals; Expedition to Persia, Diary 1

Local Numbers: Ernst Herzfeld Papers, N-83

Arrangement: In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Travel Journals were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel Journals, 1905-1928) for eight travel journals. For some reason, Upton has given this journal an accession number related to the series he created for the notebooks (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.), probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

General: Additional information from staff reads, "The handwritten text of the Journal in German was transliterated and reviewed by Ernst Herzfeld's former collaborator, Friedrich Krefter, with the assistance of his wife, Maria Krefter. Please contact the Archives for digital access to the transliterated copy."

Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel Journals; Expedition to Persia, Diary 2

Local Numbers:
Ernst Herzfeld Papers, N-84
FSA A.6 03.084
FSA A.6 01.05

Arrangement: In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Travel Journals were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel Journals, 1905-1928) for eight travel journals. For some reason, Upton has given this journal an accession number related to the series he created for the notebooks (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.), probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

General:
- Additional information from staff reads, "The handwritten text of the Journal in German was transliterated and reviewed by Ernst Herzfeld's former collaborator, Friedrich Krefter, with the assistance of his wife, Maria Krefter. Please contact the Archives for digital access to the transliterated copy."

1 Diary (1 volume (141 pages); 15.5 cm. x 20 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
The Journal ends at Salami, just before Herzfeld reached Mashhad. From Bombay to Mashhad via Kabul, Sistan (Kūh-i Khwāja and Shahristān), Kuhistan (Birjand, Khargird). Journal No.II which would cover the stay in Mashhad and the trip to Tehran via Sangbast, Nishapur, Sabzevar,Damghan, Bistam, Radkan and Simnan is not in the Archive.

- FSA A.6 01.06, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-85", provides an account of Herzfeld's visits (December 1924 and January 1925) to museums in Bombay and Delhi (India), Kabul (Afghanistan), Karrachi and Peshawar (Pakistan), as well as an account of an expedition (January 25, 1925 to March 21, 1925) from Zahedan, in the province of Sistan and Baluchestan (Iran), to Salami (Iran), a village south of Mashhad (Iran) in the province of Khorasan. During this trip which ultimately led him to Tehran (Iran), Herzfeld visited Kuh-i Khwaja (Iran), Shahristan (Iran), Birjand (Iran), Qa'In (Iran), and Khargird (Iran). Finally, many historical notes are to be found throughout the diary.

- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; Afghanistan - Ostpersien I, 1924-1925"

Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel Journals; Diary of Expedition from Kabul (Afghanistan) to Mashhad (Iran)

Local Numbers: Ernst Herzfeld Papers, N-85

Arrangement: In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Travel Journals were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel Journals, 1905-1928) for eight travel journals. For some reason, Upton has given this journal an accession number related to the series he created for the notebooks (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.), probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

General: Additional information from staff reads, “Only part of the handwritten text of the Journal in German was transliterated and reviewed by Ernst Herzfeld’s former collaborator, Friedrich Krefter, with the assistance of his wife, Maria Krefter. Please contact the Archives for digital access to the transliterated copy.”

Series 2: Sketchbooks, 1923-1931, undated

35 Items (Sketchbooks; various dimensions)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Language: Text in German and Arabic.
Scope and Contents:
- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 2: Sketchbooks, 1923-1931," which is composed of 35 sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), is organized into thirteen subseries and covers Herzfeld's travels and surveys of the most major archaeological sites in Persia, Mesopotamia and Northern Syria, from 1923 to 1931. It also covers the field activities at Pasargadae (Spring 1928) and of the Persepolis Expedition (1931).
- FSA A.6 02.01, which includes eight sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher I, II, III, IV, VI, VII, and VIII), covers Herzfeld's travels and surveys of the most major archaeological sites in Persia from 1923 to 1924.
- FSA A.6 02.02, which includes three sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher IX, X, and XI), provides a succinct but seemingly comprehensive view of the site of Pasargadae where Herzfeld formal excavations only occupied twenty-eight days in April and May 1928.
- FSA A.6 02.03, which includes one sketchbook (Skizzenbüch XII), in part covers Herzfeld's years of travel and survey of most major archaeological sites in eastern Iran (Khorasan, Persia) in 1925.
- FSA A.6 02.04, which includes one sketchbook (Skizzenbüch XIII), in part covers Herzfeld's years of travel and survey of most major archaeological sites in eastern Iran (Sistan-Quhistan, Persia) in 1925.
- FSA A.6 02.05, which includes one sketchbook (Skizzenbüch XIV), provides records of Herzfeld's observations related to Isfahan (Iran), Kerman (Iran), Na'in (Iran), and Saweh (Iran).
- FSA A.6 02.06, which includes one sketchbook (Skizzenbüch XV), provides records of Herzfeld's observations during a campaign of excavation at Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran) and Sistan (Iran), carried out in February and March 1929.
- FSA A.6 02.07, which includes seven sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher XVI, XVII, XVIII, XIX, XX, XXI, and XXII), covers the field activities of the Persepolis Expedition, including excavations at Istakhr (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), and the terrace complex of Persepolis (Iran). Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch III: Persien, 1923
Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"Ernst Herzfeld's years in Iran [Persia] from [February] 1923 to [the end of October] 1925 were made possible by a private company with limited liability called the Gesellschaft zur Förderung von Ausgrabungen und Forschungsreisen GmbH, which was founded in 1923. Its aim was to foster excavations and scientific expeditions in Asia and to publish the results. [...] Consequently Herzfeld was able to travel freely in Iran and survey most major archaeological sites, including Pasargadae, Persepolis, and Kuh-e Khwaja, and develop for future excavations." [Jens Kröger, "Ernst Herzfeld and Friedrich Sarre", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.61 and P.64]

- SK-3 is the third of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, inscriptions and reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, artifacts and decorative motifs related to Khurha (Iran), Wandadih (Iran), Ab-i'arm (Iran), Isfahan (Iran), Linjan District (Iran), Dehbid (Iran), Khan-i Khurra.

Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch IV: Persien, 1923

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"Ernst Herzfeld's years in Iran [Persia] from [February] 1923 to [the end of October] 1925 were made possible by a private company with limited liability called the Gesellschaft zur Förderung von Ausgrabungen und Forschungsreisen GmbH, which was founded in 1923. Its aim was to foster excavations and scientific expeditions in Asia and to publish the results. [...]. [Consequently] Herzfeld was able to travel freely in Iran and survey most major archaeological sites, including Pasargadae, Persepolis, and Kuh-e Khwaja, and develop for future excavations." [Jens Kröger, "Ernst Herzfeld and Friedrich Sarre", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.61 and P.64]

- SK-4 is the fourth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, inscriptions and reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, artifacts and decorative motifs related to Pasargadae (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), Hajjiabad (Iran), Isfahan (Iran), and Persepolis (Iran).

- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch IV: Persien, 1923"

- In Finding Aid, caption for pg. 1 reads, "Pasargadae [(Iran)], Mashhad i Madar i Sulaiman [Mashhad-i-Madar-i-Suleiman at Mausoleum of Cyrus the Great]: sketch of north-west portal of mosque; copy of enframing inscription of 612 or 622 (?) Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"Ernst Herzfeld's years in Iran [Persia] from [February] 1923 to [the end of October] 1925 were made possible by a private company with limited liability called the Gesellschaft zur Förderung von Ausgrabungen und Forschungsreisen GmbH, which was founded in 1923. Its aim was to foster excavations and scientific expeditions in Asia and to publish the results. [...] Consequently Herzfeld was able to travel freely in Iran and survey most major archaeological sites, including Pasargadae, Persepolis, and Kuh-e Khwaja, and develop for future excavations." [Jens Kröger, "Ernst Herzfeld and Friedrich Sarre", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.61 and P.64]

- SK-6 is the sixth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, inscriptions and reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, artifacts and decorative motifs related to Persepolis (Iran).

- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch VI: Persien, 1923"

- In Finding Aid, caption for pg. 1 reads, "Persepolis [(Iran)], northern vorhalle [portico] of the Apadana: plan, [see FSA A.6 05.0878]."

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"Ernst Herzfeld's years in Iran [Persia] from [February] 1923 to [the end of October] 1925 were made possible by a private company with limited liability called the Gesellschaft zur Förderung von Ausgrabungen und Forschungsreisen GmbH, which was founded in 1923. Its aim was to foster excavations and scientific expeditions in Asia and to publish the results. [...] [Consequently] Herzfeld was able to travel freely in Iran and survey most major archaeological sites, including

Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch VIII: Persien, 1924
Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
"Ernst Herzfeld's years in Iran [Persia] from [February] 1923 to [the end of October] 1925 were made possible by a private company with limited liability called the Gesellschaft zur Förderung von Ausgrabungen und Forschungsreisen GmbH, which was founded in 1923. Its aim was to foster excavations.
and scientific expeditions in Asia and to publish the results. [...] Consequently Herzfeld was able to travel freely in Iran and survey most major archaeological sites, including Pasargadae, Persepolis, and Kuh-e Khwaja, and develop for future excavations." [Jens Kröger, "Ernst Herzfeld and Friedrich Sarre", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.61 and P.64]

Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch IX: Pasargadae I, 1928

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"Herzfeld's long acquaintance with the ruins, the many years that he had apparently spent contemplating their significance, and, not least, his little-advertised preliminary campaign at Pasargadae in mid-November 1923, did much to allow him to provide a succinct but seemingly comprehensive view of a site where his formal excavations only occupied twenty-eight days in April and May 1928." [David Stronach, "Ernst Herzfeld and Pasargadae", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.109]

- SK-9 is the ninth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, inscriptions and reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, artifacts and decorative motifs related to Pasargadae (Iran).

Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch X: Pasargadae II, 1928
Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"Herzfeld's long acquaintance with the ruins, the many years that he had apparently spent contemplating their significance, and, not least, his little-advertised preliminary campaign at Pasargadae in mid-November 1923, did much to allow him to provide a succinct but seemingly comprehensive view of a site where his formal excavations only occupied twenty-eight days in April and May 1928." [David Stronach, "Ernst Herzfeld and Pasargadae", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.109]

- SK-10 is the tenth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, inscriptions and reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, artifacts and decorative motifs related to Istakhr (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), Pasargadae (Iran), and Persepolis (Iran).

Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XII: Persien, Khurasan, 1925
Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"Ernst Herzfeld's years in Iran [Persia] from [February] 1923 to [the end of October] 1925 were made possible by a private company with limited liability called the Gesellschaft zur Förderung von Ausgrabungen und Forschungsreisen GmbH, which was founded in 1923. Its aim was to foster excavations and scientific expeditions in Asia and to publish the results. [...] [Consequently] Herzfeld was able to travel freely in Iran and survey most major archaeological sites." [Jens Kröger, "Ernst Herzfeld and Friedrich Sarre", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.61 and P.64]

- SK-12 is the twelfth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, inscriptions and reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, artifacts and decorative motifs related to Sangbast (Iran), Nishapur (Iran), Zafarani (Iran), Nazabad (Iran), Khosrogird (Iran), Miyandasht (Iran), Bistam (Iran), Mil-i Radkan (Iran), Damghan (Iran), Ahuan (Iran), Simnan (Iran), and Ray (Iran).

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"Ernst Herzfeld's years in Iran [Persia] from [February] 1923 to [the end of October] 1925 were made possible by a private company with limited liability called the Gesellschaft zur Förderung von Ausgrabungen und Forschungsreisen GmbH, which was founded in 1923. Its aim was to foster excavations and scientific expeditions in Asia and to publish the results. [...] Consequently Herzfeld was able to travel freely in Iran and survey most major archaeological sites." [Jens Kröger, "Ernst Herzfeld and Friedrich Sarre", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.61 and P.64]

- SK-13 is the thirteenth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, inscriptions and reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, artifacts and decorative motifs related to Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran), Shahristan (Iran), Zahedan (Iran), Qasimabad (Iran), Khargird (Iran), Mil-i Radkan (Iran), Tus (Iran), and Sangbast (Iran).

2.6: Kūh i Khwāja, 1929

Scope and Contents: This subseries includes sketchbook XV.
Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

The sketchbook relates primarily to a campaign of excavation at Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran), carried out by Ernst Herzfeld in February and March 1929.

- SK-15 is the fifteenth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, inscriptions and reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, artifacts and decorative motifs related to Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran), and Sistan (Iran).

- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XV: Kuh i Khwaja, 1929"

"The excavations at Pasargadae in 1928 and at Kuh-i Khwaja in 1929 were only possible because of the funds Herzfeld received from the Notgemeinschaft der Deutschen Wissenschaft. He was able to excavate at these sites thanks to the network of Friedrich Sarre at the Berlin State Museum, Eduard Meyer at the University of Berlin, Gerhart Rodenwaldt at the German Archaeological Institute, Friedrich Schmidt-Ott, president of the Notgemeinschaft der Deutschen Wissenschaft, and the Islamic scholar Carl Heinrich Becker, who was Prussian minister of culture from 1925 to 1930." Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XVI: P.T. 33.

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"The field activities of the Persepolis Expedition were initiated by Professor Ernst Herzfeld in Spring 1931, after the French archaeological monopoly had been replaced by the new Antiquity Law, which opened Iran to archaeological field work by other nations. The expedition ended in fall 1939, after the outbreak of World War II. [...] At the end of 1934, Herzfeld was removed from his position as expedition director. He left Persepolis for the last time toward the end of November 1934 and went to London." [Elspeth R. M. Dusinberre, "Herzfeld in Persepolis", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.137 and P.161]

Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XVII: Persepolis

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"The field activities of the Persepolis Expedition were initiated by Professor Ernst Herzfeld in Spring 1931, after the French archaeological monopoly had been replaced by the new Antiquity Law, which opened Iran to archaeological field work by other nations. The expedition ended in fall 1939, after the outbreak of World War II. [...] At the end of 1934, Herzfeld was removed from his position as expedition director. He left Persepolis for the last time toward the end of November 1934 and went to London." [Elspeth R. M. Dusinberre, "Herzfeld in Persepolis", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.137 and P.161]

- SK-17 is the seventeenth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, and decorative motifs related to Istakhr (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), and Persepolis (Iran).

Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XXI: Persepolis

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"The field activities of the Persepolis Expedition were initiated by Professor Ernst Herzfeld in Spring 1931, after the French archaeological monopoly had been replaced by the new Antiquity Law, which opened Iran to archaeological field work by other nations. The expedition ended in fall 1939, after the outbreak of World War II. [...] At the end of 1934, Herzfeld was removed from his position as expedition director. He left Persepolis for the last time toward the end of November 1934 and went to London." [Elspeth R. M. Dusinberre, "Herzfeld in Persepolis", Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies, 1900-1950. Edited by Ann Gunter and Stefan R. Hauser. Leiden: Brill, 2005. P.137 and P.161]

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- Additional information from staff reads, "Ernst Herzfeld inadvertently duplicated the numbering of page 29 through page 35. He later corrected the duplicated set of numbers which now ranges from page 35 to page 47. Unfortunately, in his four inventories of objects, he did not apply these corrections when referring to sketchbook 28."

- SK-28 is the twenty-eighth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on archaeological remains, reliefs and inscriptions, prehistoric artifacts and decorative motifs related to Babylon (Iraq), Baghdad (Iraq), Bujnurd (Iran), Constantinople (Turkey), Hamadan (Iran), Harshin (Iran), Isfahan (Iran), Masshad (Iran), Nihavand (Iran), Ray (Iran), Saveh (Iran) and the prehistoric mound of Tepe Giyan (Iran).

- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XXVIII: Antiken II."

- In Finding Aid, caption for pg. 1 reads, "three polished jugs or vases: left) [black ware with burnished linear pattern], [see N-91, inventory number 2476], [see FSA A.6 04.GN.0055; center] [ceramic vessel], [see N-91, inventory number 2474], [see FSA A.6 05.0643], [see FSA A.6 04.GN.0024; right) [small gray ware vessel], [see N-91, inventory number 2475], [see FSA A.6 04.GN.0031]."

FSA A.06 02.12.29

Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XIX: Antiken III

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- SK-29 is the twenty-ninth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on archaeological remains, prehistoric artifacts and decorative motifs related to Harsin (Iran) and the prehistoric mound of Tepe Giyan (Iran).

- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XIX: Antiken III."

- In Finding Aid, caption for pg. 1 reads, "eight small bronzes with [human and animal design], of Luristan type: top center) [see FSA A.6 04.GN.0158]; top right) [see FSA A.6 04.GN.0158]; bottom left) [see N-89, inventory number 1507]; [see FSA A.6 04.GN.0160]; bottom center) [see FSA A.6 04.GN.0156]; bottom right) [see N-89, inventory number 900], [see FSA A.6 04.GN.0157]."

FSA A.06 02.12.30
Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XXX: Antiken IV
Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook title and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- SK-30 is the thirtieth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on archaeological remains, prehistoric artifacts and decorative motifs related to Babylon (Iraq), Harsin (Iran), and the prehistoric mound of Tepe Giyan (Iran).
- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XXX: Antiken IV."

Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XXXII: Damas I
Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook captions and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

The monuments and inscriptions of Northern Syria were surveyed and collected between 1908 and 1914 by Moritz Sobernheim and Ernst Herzfeld as part of a broader project, sponsored by the Institut de France, that of Max van Berchem's "Matériaux pour un Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicarum." The drawing may be related to this survey as well as to additional expeditions to Damascus (Syria) carried out by Ernst Herzfeld as early as 1903 and as later as 1930.

- SK-32 is the thirty-second of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on topography, landscape, inscriptions and reliefs, archaeological remains, architecture, artifacts and decorative motifs related to Damascus (Syria).

- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XXXII: Damas I"

- In Finding Aid, caption for pg. 1 reads, "[Damascus (Syria)], Citadel (March 29, 1914): [southern fortification wall], ornamentation on [tower B, tower C, and tower D] and [eastern] wall."

- In Finding Aid, caption for pg. 2 reads, "[Damascus (Syria)], Citadel (March 29, 1914): profiles of inscription enframements; [northern corner of fortification walls], [reused Ayyubid inscription frame on eastern wall of tower G], [see FSA A.6 04.GN.3444];[blason] with stylized fleur-de-lis."

Ernst Herzeld; Skizzenbuch XXXV: 4 Homs

Sketchbooks, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 13 subject categories.
Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Herzfeld's original sketchbook captions and Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

The monuments and inscriptions of Northern Syria were surveyed and collected between 1908 and 1914 by Moritz Sobernheim and Ernst Herzfeld as part of a broader project, sponsored by the Institut de France, that of Max van Berchem's "Matériaux pour un Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicaeum." The drawings are related to this survey as well as additional expeditions to Northern Syria carried out by Ernst Herzfeld as early as 1903 and as later as 1930.

SK-35 is the thirty-fifth of a series of thirty-five sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher), in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded his observations on inscriptions, archaeological remains, architecture, and decorative motifs related to Hama (Syria) and Hims (Syria).

Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Ernst Herzfeld; Skizzenbuch XXXV: 4 Homs"

- In Finding Aid, caption for pg. 1 reads, "Hims (Syria), left) transcription of Arabic inscription in Shrine of Khaled Ibn al-Walid. [see FSA A.6 05.1361; FSA A.6 05.1364]; right) notes on mihrab and minbar of Great Mosque of Nur al-Din, [see FSA A.6 04.GN.3726]."

4 Items (Ledgers)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Language: Text in German and Arabic.
Local Numbers: FSA A.06 03
Arrangement: Notebooks, ledgers, notes, and sketches, housed in document boxes and stored on shelves, are organized by Joseph Upton into 131 subdivisions.

General:
- Notebooks titles are provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

Scope and Contents:
- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks" is composed of 131 folders including a large variety of locations, names, topics, genres, and languages. As of today, only four inventories of objects (ledgers) have been digitized and are available online.
- FSA A.6 03.089 consists of an inventory book to which Ernst Herzfeld recorded archaeological remains, prehistoric artifacts and antiquities collected, acquired, or observed in several cities throughout Mesopotamia and Persia in 1923 and 1924.
- FSA A.6 03.090 consists of an inventory book which supplies an abbreviated and corrected version of FSA A.6 03.089 and a continuation of N-91.
- FSA A.6 03.091 consists of an inventory book which is a continuation of FSA A.6 03.089. Herzfeld added an inventory of objects collected, acquired, or observed in several cities throughout Persia in 1926 and 1927, 1929, and finally 1932 and 1933.
- FSA A.6 03.092 consists of an inventory book which displays two separate inventories of objects. The first list comprises a finds journal from the session of excavations at Pasargadæ, carried out by Herzfeld and Krefter in April and May 1928. The second list, without dates, enumerates prehistoric artifacts and antiquities collected, acquired, or observed in Baghdad, Hamadan, Harsin, Kermanshah, Nihavand, Tehran, and possibly Ur.

Available Formats: Microfiche available at the Freer Gallery of Art Library.

Biographical / Historical: "Ernst Emil Herzfeld (1879-1948) was an orientalist whose many talents led him to explore all phases of Near Eastern culture, from the prehistoric period to Islamic times and from linguistics and religion to art and architecture." In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Notebooks were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this notebook an accession number, N-2, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld’s original organization.
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FGs Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- FSA A.6 03.002, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-2", provides illustrations with captions and descriptive notes on various Parthian and Sassanid (Sasanian) coins.
- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-2 reads, "Designs on fifty-seven Parthan coins with descriptive notes; notes on Drouin article "Monnaies Sasanides inédites"; notes on Sasanian coins in Paruck."

FSA A.6 03.015

In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Notebooks were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this notebook an accession number, N-15, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-15 reads, "Excerpts from texts dealing with Sistan. Pahlavi Afdīh ē Sagastān, Māh ē Fravartīn, PA NĀM ē Yazdān, with discussions by Markwart and Nöldeke."

1 Notebook (3 pages; 12 cm. x 22.5 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Notes: Ernst Herzfeld Papers; N-79

In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Notebooks were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this notebook an accession number, N-79, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- FSA A.6 03.079, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-79", provides notes on Tell Halaf and Doura Europos.
- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-79, reads, "Notes on Tell Halaf and Doura Europos."

"Ernst Herzfeld's years in Iran [Persia] from 1923 to 1925 were made possible by a private company with limited liability called the Gesellschaft zur Förderung von Ausgrabungen und Forschungsreisen GmbH, which was founded in 1923. Its aim was to foster excavations and scientific expeditions in Asia and to publish the results. [...] Consequently Herzfeld was able to travel freely in Iran and survey most major archaeological sites, [...]." - The first of a series of four inventory books, in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded archaeological remains, prehistoric artifacts and antiquities collected or acquired in several cities throughout Mesopotamia and Persia in 1923 and 1924.

- Additional information from staff reads: "Herzfeld has diversely applied to each inventory number, which are ranging from 1 to 2,032, a place of provenance and/or acquisition; dates; sketches; a storage box letter code; references to specific museum institutions, collectors, and antique dealers; physical descriptions; a dynasty and reign attribution; currency prices in Indian Rupee and in British Pound Sterling; and cross-references to additional materials (glass negatives, photographic prints, sketchbooks, and paper squeezes) within the Ernst Herzfeld Papers."

- Handwritten caption, in pencil (probably later addition), on inside of front cover reads: "Herzfeld Coll."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-89 reads, "Inventory of objects in Herzfeld Collection, Nos. 1-2032, most with sketch, description, place of acquisition, price and provenance. There are some cross-references to sketchbooks and, in some cases, a note of disposition."

- The second of a series of four inventory books, in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded archaeological remains, prehistoric artifacts and antiquities collected or acquired in several cities throughout Mesopotamia and Persia in 1923 and 1924.

- Additional information from staff reads: "Herzfeld has diversely applied to each inventory number, which are ranging from 1 to 1,864, and from 2,885 to 2,980, a place of provenance and/or acquisition; dates; sketches; a storage box letter code; references to collectors, and antique dealers; physical descriptions; a dynasty and reign attribution; currency price in Indian Rupee; and cross-references to additional materials (glass negatives, sketchbooks) within the Ernst Herzfeld Papers."
The content of ledger N-90 may tentatively be summarized into two subdivisions: 1) inventory numbers 1 to 1864, are a duplication of ledger N-89, and appear to be following a long series of entries entered in that ledger with much less handwritten annotations. As well, approximately 35 inventory numbers display different descriptive information from ledger N-89 to ledger N-90; 2) inventory numbers 2885 to 2980, which do not carry any dates, are a continuation of ledger N-91. The series seem to cover Herzfeld field activities of collecting and acquiring antiquities in Harsin, Saweh, Nahavand and Tepe Giyan, as well as acquiring stamp and cylinder seals in Tehran, Kermanshah, and Baghdad. FSA A.06 03.091

In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, ledgers were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purposes, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this ledger an accession number, N-91, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

"The first four pages of ledger N-91, including inventory numbers 2032 to 2135, are a continuation of ledger N-89, which appears to be covering a period of field activities carried on by Ernst Herzfeld in 1923 and 1924. However, inventory number 2267 displays a handwritten note in English which reads, "lost in Princeton." From 1936 to 1944, Herzfeld was a member of the School of Humanistic Studies, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, New Jersey. Finally, three sets of additional dates have been identified in ledger N-91: Autumn 1926 - Spring 1927, entered in inventory number 2261; October-November-December 1929, in inventory numbers 2810/2811/2822; 1932-1933, in inventory numbers 2843/2855/2867."

- The third of a series of four inventory books, in which Ernst Herzfeld recorded archaeological remains, prehistoric artifacts and antiquities collected or acquired in several cities throughout Persia in 1923 and 1924, as well as 1926 and 1927, 1929, and finally 1932 and 1933.

- Additional information from staff reads: "Herzfeld has diversely applied to each inventory number, which are ranging from 2,032 to 2,884, a place of provenance and/or acquisition; dates; dimensions; sketches; another set of inventory numbers accordant to a specific location; references to museum institutions; physical descriptions; a dynasty and reign attribution; Krans currency prices; and cross-references to additional materials (glass negatives, sketchbooks) within the Ernst Herzfeld Papers."

- Additional information from staff reads: "The list of inventory numbers in ledger N-91 reveals a lack of continuity through duplication and missing numbers. In terms of duplication, inventory numbers 2032, 2648, 2671 to 2690, and 2788 have all double entries; in terms of missing numbers, inventory numbers 2136 to 2199 and inventory number 2788 are all absent. Furthermore, inventory number 2648 occupies a full ledger page with 12 separate entries."

- "The content of ledger N-91 may tentatively be summarized into six subdivisions: 1) inventory numbers 2032 to 2135, are a continuation of ledger N-89, and appear to be following a long series of entries entered in that ledger. The series starts with inventory number 1859 under which an handwritten note reads: "Shiraz. Jan. [19]24"; 2) inventory numbers 2200 to 2255 cover Herzfeld field activities of collecting and acquiring antiquities in Tehran and Hamadan during the months of May and June 1926. The series starts with inventory number 2200 under which an handwritten note reads: "Teheran. Mai. [19]26"; 3) inventory numbers 2256 to 2502 cover Herzfeld field activities of collecting and acquiring antiquities in Tepe Giyan during Autumn 1926 to Spring 1927. The series starts with inventory number 2260 under which an handwritten note reads: "Tepe Qiyān. Herbst 1926 - Frühling 1927. (Teheran)"; 4) inventory numbers 2503 to 2808 cover Herzfeld field activities of collecting and acquiring antiquities in Tepe Giyan (mostly), Sawa, and Ray, at the end of Spring 1927. The series starts with inventory number 2503 under which an handwritten note reads: "Tepe Qiyān. 3 mai [19]27. Yahyā"; 5) inventory numbers 2809 to 2842 cover Herzfeld field activities of collecting and acquiring antiquities in modern Hamadan and Kermanshah from late October 1929 to early December 1929. The series starts with inventory number 2810 under which an handwritten note reads: "Agbatana, 30 Oct. [19]29; 6) inventory numbers 2843 to 2884 cover Herzfeld field activities of collecting and acquiring antiquities in Tepe Giyan, Baghdad, Sultanabad, Cairo, Isfahan, and Tehran in Autumn 1932 and Summer 1933. Inventory number 2855, for example, has an handwritten note which reads: "Isfahan, end Juli [19]33." [Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery Archives, Archives cataloger]

- Additional information related to ledger N-91 reads.Two series of handwritten notes on small sheet of papers were found within ledger N-91: 1) within the page starting with inventory number 2357, one small page including list of antiquities and associated prices; 2) within the page starting with inventory number 2810, seven small pages including list of antiquities and associated prices." [Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery Archives, Archives cataloger]

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-91 reads, "Inventory of Herzfeld's Collection. Continuation of N-89, Nos. 2032-2884 (No.2032 is used twice, once for another coin in N-89). No prices are entered after 2535. Nos.2261-2511 are headed "Tepe Giyān, Fall 1926-Spring 1927." There are frequent references to photos or sketchbook entries and many of the objects are noted as in the Field Museum, Chicago."

FSA A.06 03.092
In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Ledgers were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this ledger an accession number, N-92, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- The fourth of a series of four inventory books, which displays two separate inventories of objects. The first list describes archaeological remains, prehistoric artifacts and antiquities which were collected during a session of excavations at Pasargadae in April and May 1928, carried out by Ernst Herzfeld, assisted by the architect Friedrich Krefter. The second list, without dates, enumerates prehistoric artifacts and antiquities collected, acquired, or observed in Baghdad, Hamadan, Harsin, Kermanshah, Nihavand, Tehran, and possibly Ur.

- Additional information from staff reads: "For the Pasargadae finds journal, Herzfeld has diversely applied to each inventory number, which are ranging from 1 to 34, the excavated building or site; dates; sketches; physical descriptions; and cross-references to additional materials (glass negatives, sketchbooks, and paper squeezes) within the Ernst Herzfeld Papers."
- Additional information from staff reads: "For the prehistoric objects, Herzfeld has diversely applied to each inventory number, which are ranging from 1 to 60 (in addition of 19 objects un-numbered), a place of provenance and/or acquisition; sketches; and physical descriptions."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-92 reads, "Inventory. Nos. 1-34 headed "1928. Pasargadae"; Nos. 1-79 which follow in another series are from Nihavand, Harsin, Baghdad, etc..."

FSA A.6 03.104
In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Notebooks were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this notebook an accession number, N-104, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-103 reads, "Notes on Achaemenian throne-bearers: Persepolis, Behistun, Naqsh-i Rustam."

Language: Text in Arabic.
Notes: Contains study notes on Arabic historical inscriptions in Damascus (a few in Hamah) (see also N-99). The folder also contains (1) corrected galley proofs of a text by van Berchem for a selection of von Oppenheim's photographs of buildings in Damascus; (2) an outline in Herzfeld's writing of a method proposed for the publication of historical Arabic inscriptions in Syria (in this instance, the Jam'i Nuri in Hamah), based on van Berchem's system for the Corpus, with marginal comments by Sobernhein. (This was apparently a precursor for the Aleppo volumes); and (3) miscellaneous inscriptions, including Damascus, Diarbekir and Gulpain.

Ernst Herzfeld Papers; N-111

In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Notebooks were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this notebook an accession number, N-111, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-111 reads, "(CIA Damascus) Contains study notes on Arabic historical inscriptions in Damascus (a few in Hamah) (see also N-99). In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Travel Journals were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 1: Travel Journals, 1905-1928) for eight travel journals. For some reason, Upton has given this journal an accession number related to the series he created for the notebooks (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.), probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Additional information from staff reads, "The handwritten text of the Journal in Gothic script was first transliterated by Mrs. Franz Pariser and later reviewed by Ernst Herzfeld's former collaborator, Friedrich Krefter. Please contact the Archives for digital access to the transliterated copy."

- FSA A.6 03.115, on which Joseph Upton's classification mentions "N-115", provides an account of the first fourteen days of an expedition (September 2 to November 18, 1905) from Assur (Iraq) to Shiraz (Iran).

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-115 reads, "Entries from Sept. 1-14th, 1905 in Gothic script. Beginning of trip from Schergat, reported in Journal N-81."

&lt;list&gt;&lt;item&gt;No.1 Letter to Dr. C.H. Becker (founder of the Journal of Islamic Studies, Der Islam, and subsequently Minister of Education for Prussia). From Tehran (Zarganda, German Summer Legation), July 22, 1923. Herzfeld gives summary of trip London-Baghdad and on to Tehran via Paikuli (see N-33, pp.1–9); comments on costs of caravan travel and notes still uncertain over permits for travel to Afghanistan and money for continuation of trip;&lt;/item&gt;&lt;item&gt;No.2 To Dr. Becker from Tehran, Sept.30, 1923. Explanation of withdrawal of permission to go to Afghanistan (accused of being Bolshevik or British agent); Parsis offered money for trip and Herzfeld asked for 1000 pounds stlg.; mentions results of trip from Basra to Tehran in archaeological information and artifacts;&lt;/item&gt;&lt;item&gt;No.3 From N.S.Nyberg, Cairo (Matarieh), April 10, 1924. Long letter on decipherment of certain Pahlavi words and about Avroman documents, which Herzfeld sent him better copies and photographs. Comments "Wenn es nun endlich über Iran zu tagen beginn, so ist das zum allergrößten Teil Ihr Verdiest und Ihr unsterblicher Ruhm";&lt;/item&gt;&lt;item&gt;No.4 From Nyberg, Uppsala, Nov.18, 1926. Thanks Herzfeld for Reisebericht (ZDMG) and congratulates on new Pahlavi inscriptions (quotation in No. 3 is from this letter)&lt;/item&gt;&lt;item&gt;No.5 To Dr. Becker from German Legation, Tehran, March 30, 1928. Reviews significance of Kartīr inscriptions and prehistoric pottery from Persepolis. Writes of house, library and collections as foundation for German Institute in Persia and of lectures and teaching; arrival of Krefter for Pasargadae excavations and related difficulties in getting official permission; of abrogation of French archaeological monopoly, problems relating to it, and arrival of Godard as Director; and of his acute financial problems;&lt;/item&gt;&lt;item&gt;No.6 To Excellenz Schmidt-Ott (Deutsche Notgemeinschaft, Berlin) from Basra-Karrachi, Feb.26, 1929. Thanks for funds for Sistan Expedition and describes trip with Reza Shah from Khurramabad to Ahwaz; and his own trip from Tehran enroute to Sistan;&lt;/item&gt;&lt;item&gt;No.7 From Minister Becker, Berlin, Dec.30, 1929. Comments on | financial difficulties in Germany and changes in Ministries and Faculties.

hand of Pere de Menasce says: "E.H. worked on this book up to the time of his death. The Illustrations are in Albums, I, II, III, IV." For the Albums see N-129--132

Volume N-128

N-128: 1. A brown envelope marked "Pahlavi Material List".
Notes: The bulk of the material on the inscriptions at Paikuli is in N-128, supplemented by an Album of photographs and blueprints in N-129 and a black, loose-leaf notebook (Corpus), No.8 in N-127. The material was examined and catalogued in 1953 by Prof. J. de Menasce, University of Fribourg, Switzerland. His detailed catalogue and comments are given in two papers in the file, one entitled "A Provisional Inventory of the Literary Remains of the late Professor E.E. Herzfeld concerning Iran..."; the other "A Guide to the Middle Persian material in the Herzfeld Archive....". The Guide also has additions or emendations in pencil, presumably entered at a later date, probably by Prof. R.N. Frye. An element of confusion is introduced in the Paikuli material by the 32 blocks either newly discovered or cleaned, re-photographed and re-drawn by Herzfeld in 1924, after the publication of the earlier blocks had appeared in the Paikuli volume. The new blocks required some re-arrangement in the ordering of the original blocks. As Prof. de Menasce implies in his note, only a close study of the material by a competent scholar can determine which of the proposed arrangements is the correct one.

In addition to the above guides, there is (1) a separate undated and unsigned sheet entitled "Pahlavi Material in the Herzfeld Collection" and (2) a new summary of Herzfeld's last arrangement of Paikuli blocks, including those unpublished, based on the arrangement in No.13, N-128. The summary gives the old (Herzfeld's) numbers of the original squeezes in the Archive (noted on separate file catalogue cards) and the new numbers given to the squeezes when they were re-organized for storage. The summary also gives the negative numbers of the squeezes and stones (when available) and the numbers of the published blocks as they appear in Herzfeld's last copy.

With the papers noted above is a detailed catalogue of three of the four large Albums in N-129, prepared by Pére de Menasce, as well as correspondence of Mr. Wenley, Prof. de Menasce and others concerning the publication of the Paikuli material. For information about the squeezes themselves, see the "Catalogue of Squeezes"

Volume N-128

N-128: 2. A folder of heavy white paper with the Kartīr inscription at Sar Mashhad, enclosing 4 photographs (with blueprints) of sections of the inscription; a tracing of an unidentified amulet with page giving inscriptions in two Pahlavi scripts: cursive and book Pahlavi; 2 pages of what appear to be Pahlavi inscriptions on bullae. The folder is marked "All these to be microfilmed for Rev. J. de Menasce"

Volume N-128

N-128: 3. Manila folder containing: (1) the Pahlavi and Greek texts of the Ka'ba inscription, Naqsh-i Rustam; (2) a comparative table of transliterated
Volume N-128

N-128: 4. Tracings of 26 Paikuli block inscriptions, and photographs of 126 (all but three) of the small transcripts of the blocks from Herzfeld's last copy. Those missing are (1) transcript of a seal inscription, (2) of an unnumbered block E 1, and (3) of a new unnumbered block marked "before D-5." See No. 13 for the small transcripts. On the back of each photograph is noted the number of the block and its location in the series of blocks.

Volume N-128

N-128: 5. Manila folder marked "Paikuli, the Sasanian Version. Blueprints of the unpublished squeezes. The numbers on the back refer to those given by E.H. to his latest copies of the blocks."

Volume N-128

N-128: 6. Manila folder of blueprints of unpublished Pahlavik or Parthian squeezes. A note on the cover (which also includes folder 5) by P. de Menasce says: "Blueprints. These are photographs of E.H.'s latest squeezes mostly unpublished or photographed anew." The numbers on the backs are from Herzfeld's last copy.

Volume N-128

N-128: 7. Manila folder with blueprints of Kartir inscription, Naqsh-i Rajab; large photographs of (1) Greek inscription at Sarpul, (2) Kartir inscription, Naqsh-i Rajab, (3) (right side of Main Staircase, Persepolis, and (4) Pahlavi and Greek inscriptions on horse's rump, Naqsh-i Rustam.

N-128: 10. Long manila envelope contains small drawings of individual Paikuli blocks and long strips of transcript, apparently showing an attempt to reconstruct the lines of the inscriptions. Envelope also contains tracing of a coin of Phraates IV with Greek inscriptions.

Volume N-128

N-128: 11. ("Parthian") A record of the Pahlavik stones as prepared by Rawlinson in Hebrew script with Herzfeld's notations of changes.

Volume N-128

N-128: 12. ("Sasani") Similar record of Rawlinson's list of the Parsik stones in Hebrew with, in some cases, Herzfeld's transliteration into Pahlavi. Also contains 11 slips of blocks with existing text supplemented by Rawlinson's copies.

material." (The unnumbered block marked "before D-5" seems to be another version of the block following E-7 (J.M.U.:74))

| Volume N-128 | N-128: 14. ("Paikuli II, 1923, 1--7 Juni") This is the field sketchbook of Herzfeld's last trip to Paikuli with sketches of new inscriptions and notes. Also contains sketch of an inscribed Sasanian bulla from Sarpul |
| Volume N-129 | N-129: Contains four large albums of photographs and blueprints |
| Volume N-129 | N-129: 1. Album marked Album I, "Pahlavi Inschriften b." It bears a notation by de Menasce: "Fragments of the Paikuli inscription newly washed and newly found stones photographed (since the publication of Paikuli)...." Includes photographs of stones and some blueprints of tracings. At the end of the Album are tracings of squeezes of sections of the Pahlavi inscription at Sar Marshad |
| Volume N-129 | N-129: 2. Marked Album II "Pahlavi Inschriften c." A notation by Prof. de Menasce reads: "The Paikuli Inscription, Sasanian ( Parsīk) as published by E.H." Photographs of stones and blueprints of tracings. The following tracings have corrections made by Herzfeld: All and A12 (p.5), B7 (p.11), B14 (p.18), F6 (p.38), H2 (p.47) |
| Volume N-129 | N-129: 3. Album III. Notation by de Menasce reads "22 leaves, pages numbered from 1 to 44; on the cover "Corpus Inscriptionum Parthicarum" (this title does not correspond to the contents); the former title, almost erased, seems to have been "Pahlavi Inschriften a." The Inventory by de Menasce (N-128, No. 1) gives a page by page description of the contents of Album II consisting almost exclusively of Aramaic and Pahlavi inscriptions from Sarpul, Naqsh-i Rustam, Naqsh-i Rajab, Hajjiabad, Taq-i Bustān, etc. through that on the Mil-i Radkan |
| Volume N-129 | N-129: 4. Album IV. Notation by Prof. de Menasce reads: "The Paikuli Inscription, Parthian (Pahlavik) as published by E.H." Photographs of stones and blueprints of tracings. The following tracings have corrections by Herzfeld: A'11 (p.23), B'1 (p.24), B'11 (p.28), B'9 (p.29), C'1 (p.31), C'3 (p.34), C'4 (p.35), C'6 (p.36), C'9 (p.37), D'7 (p.41), E'7 (p.45), D'12 (p.46), E'14 (p.47), F'2 (p.49), G'3 (p.58), G'6 (p.60). In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Notebooks were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this notebook an accession number, N-130, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

FSA A.6 03.106: Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks; Transcription of Various Cuneiform Inscriptions (N-106), 1904-1946
1 Notebook (133 pages; 20.5 cm. x 10.4 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Notes: Ernst Herzfeld Papers; N-106

In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Notebooks were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this notebook an accession number, N-106, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Notebooks were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this notebook an accession number, N-110, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- Original handwritten title on cover reads: "Arabische Inschriften III."
- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-110, p. 1 reads, "The Throne Sura as a decorative Kufic panel."

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-127, folder 1 reads, "Marked "Pahlavi" contains studies of Pahlavi inscriptions, such as monograms on bullae, and what appears to be a preliminary draft of an article attempting to elucidate the relationships between monumental and cursive scripts and Pahlavik, Parsik and book Pahlavi. It starts: "Die Awesta-schrift ist, trotzdem sie die einzelnen Buchstaben nicht verbindet, eine Schreibschrift, eine Kursive, keine Denkmalschrift, keine monumental.".

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-127, folder 2 reads, "Envelope containing pages apparently from a draft of The Persian Empire, Chaps. XIV-XV dealing with the Achaemenian Satrapies as reflected in the figures of Tribute-bearers and Throne-bearers at Bistun, Persepolis and Naqsh-i Rustam."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-127, folder 3 reads, "Marked "Aramaeisches". Contains tracings and photographs of Aramaic inscriptions from various sources and a Table comparing Hebrew letters of the alphabet with those found in other inscriptions including Avroman, Naqsh-i Rustam, Hajjiabad, Paikuli, Persepolis and Taq-i Bustan."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-127, folder 4 reads, "Photographs and blueprints of squeezes of the Kartîr inscription, Naqsh-i Rustam."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-127, folder 5 reads, "Marked "File III" containing photographs and blueprints of squeezes of inscriptions at: (1) Sarpul (cuneiform); (2) Naqsh-i Rajab (Kartîr); (3) Hajjiabad; (4) Naqsh-i Rustam (Ardashir); (5) Arabic inscriptions at Persepolis."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-127, folder 6 reads, "Marked "File II" contains reading notes on "Tabula Pentisgerdana (?)", Tomascheck; also miscellaneous loose sheets found in "Corpus Inscriptionum Partharicarum", including Sasanian seal-stones, Hephthalite coins, Greek and cuneiform inscriptions; and an envelope with Oriental Institute photographs of stone blocks inscribed in Greek from the Fratadara temple, Persepolis (see SK-XIX. p.9 and 15); and a photo of three cylinder seals."
- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-127, folder 7 reads, "Copy of the Pahlavi inscription on the Ka'ba at Naqsh-i Rustam (either for Ghirshman or by him)."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-127, folder 8 reads, "Black, loose-leaf notebook marked "A Corpus of Parthian and Sasanian Inscriptions, Texts, Transcriptions, Translations". A note in the hand of Pere de Menasce says: "E.H. worked on this book up to the time of his death. The Illustrations are in Albums, I, II, III, IV."."

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Notes: Ernst Herzfeld Papers; N-128
FSA A.6 03.128

In the original arrangement of the Ernst Herzfeld Archive, Notebooks were included in a larger body of diverse material acknowledged by Ernst Herzfeld as his study collection. In the early 1970s, Joseph Upton, for research purpose, rearranged the collection and created a specific series (Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 3: Notebooks, 1904-1946, 1957, n.d.) for 131 notebooks, including four ledgers and eight travel journals. Upton has given this notebook an accession number, N-128, related to the series he created for the notebooks, probably following Herzfeld's original organization.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 1 reads, "A brown envelope marked "Pahlavi Material List". The bulk of the material on the inscriptions at Paikuli is in N-128, supplemented by an Album of photographs and blueprints in N-129 and a black, loose-leaf notebook (Corpus), No.8 in N-127. The material was examined and catalogued in 1953 by Prof. J. de Menasce, University of Fribourg, Switzerland. His detailed catalogue and comments are given in two papers in the file, one entitled "A Provisional Inventory of the Literary Remains of the late Professor E.E.Herzfeld concerning Iran..."; the other "A Guide to the Middle Persian material in the Herzfeld Archive.". The Guide also has additions or emendations in pencil, presumably entered at a later date, probably by Prof. R.N.Frye. An element of confusion is introduced in the Paikuli material by the 32 blocks either newly discovered or cleaned, re-photographed and re-drawn by Herzfeld in 1924, after the publication of the earlier blocks had appeared in the Paikuli volume. The new blocks required some re-arrangement in the ordering of the original blocks. As Prof. de Menasce implies in his note, only a close study of the material by a competent scholar can determine which of the proposed arrangements is the correct one. In addition to the above guides, there is (1) a separate undated and unsigned sheet entitled "Pahlavi Material in the Herzfeld Collection" and (2) a new summary of Herzfeld's last arrangement of Paikuli blocks, including those unpublished, based on the arrangement in No.13, N-128. The summary gives the old (Herzfeld's) numbers of the original squeezes in the Archive (noted on separate file catalogue cards) and the new numbers given to the squeezes when they were re-organized for storage. The summary also gives the negative numbers of the squeezes and stones (when available) and the numbers of the published blocks as they appear in Herzfeld's last copy. With the papers noted above is a detailed catalogue of three of the four large Albums in N-129, prepared by Père de Menasce, as well as correspondence of Mr. Wenley, Prof. de Menasce and others concerning the publication of the Paikuli material. For information about the squeezes themselves, see the "Catalogue of Squeezes".

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 2 reads, "A folder of heavy white paper with the Kartīr inscription at Sar Mashhad, enclosing 4 photographs (with blueprints) of sections of the inscription; a tracing of an unidentified amulet with page giving inscriptions in two Pahlavi scripts: cursive and book Pahlavi; 2 pages of what appear to be Pahlavi inscriptions on bullae. The folder is marked "All these to be microfilmed for Rev. J. de Menasce".

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 3 reads, "Manila folder containing: (1) the Pahlavi and Greek texts of the Ka'ba inscription, Naqsh-i Rustam; (2) a comparative table of transliterated texts of the Kartīr inscriptions at Sar Mashhad, Naqsh-i Rustam. K i Z (Ka'ba) and Naqsh-i Rajab."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 4 reads, "Tracings of 26 Paikuli block inscriptions, and photographs of 126 (all but three) of the small transcripts of the blocks from Herzfeld's last copy. Those missing are (1) transcript of a seal inscription, (2) of an unnumbered block E 1, and (3) of a new unnumbered block marked "before D-5." See No.13 for the small transcripts. On the back of each photograph is noted the number of the block and its location in the series of blocks."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 5 reads, "Manila folder marked "Paikuli, the Sasanian Version. Blueprints of the unpublished squeezes. The numbers on the back refer to those given by E.H. to his latest copies of the blocks"."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 6 reads, "Manila folder of blueprints of unpublished Pahlavik or Parthian squeezes. A note on the cover (which also includes folder 5) by P. de Menasce says: "Blueprints. These are photographs of E.H.'s latest squeezes mostly unpublished or photographed anew." The numbers on the backs are from Herzfeld's last copy."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 7 reads, "Manila folder with blueprints of Kartir inscription, Naqshi Rajab; large photographs of (1) Greek inscription at Sarpul, (2) Kartir inscription, Naqshi Rajab, (3) (right side of Main Staircase, Persepolis, and (4) Pahlavi and Greek inscriptions on horse's rump, Naqshi Rustam."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 8 reads, "Photographic negative of Squeeze 93, 9 Å#x2014 11". Paikuli, p.109. Another Neg.4396."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 9 reads, "Photographic negative of Squeeze 93, 9 Å#x2014 11". Paikuli, p.145. Another Neg.4317."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 10 reads, "Long manila envelope contains small drawings of individual Paikuli blocks and long strips of transcript, apparently showing an attempt to reconstruct the lines of the inscriptions. Envelope also contains tracing of a coin of Phraates IV with Greek inscriptions."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 11 reads, "("Parthian") A record of the Pahlavik stones as prepared by Rawlinson in Hebrew script with Herzfeld's notations of changes."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 12 reads, "("Sasani") Similar record of Rawlinson's list of the Parsik stones in Hebrew with, in some cases, Herzfeld's transliteration into Pahlavi. Also contains 11 slips of blocks with existing text supplemented by Rawlinson's copies."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 13 reads, "Manila envelope of Institute of Advanced Study contains two white envelopes marked A and B. On the large envelope is written "Paikuli, Last Copy. All numbers written by J, de Menasce refer to this". On A de Menasce wrote "The Paikuli Inscription, pahlavīk. Last state of Herzfeld's arrangement. Contains unpublished material." On B de Menasce wrote "The Paikuli Inscription, parsīk. Last state of Prof. Herzfeld's arrangement. Contains unpublished material." (The unnumbered block marked "before D-5" seems to be another version of the block following E-7 (J.M.U.'74))."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-128, folder 14 reads, "("Paikuli II, 1923, 1-7 Juni") This is the field sketchbook of Herzfeld's last trip to Paikuli with sketches of new inscriptions and notes. Also contains sketch of an inscribed Sasanian bulla from Sarpul."

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-129, Album 1 reads, "Album marked Album I, "Pahlavi Inschriften b." It bears a notation by de Menasce: "Fragments of the Paikuli inscription newly washed and newly found stones photographed (since the publication of Paikuli)...." Includes photographs of stones and some blueprints of tracings. At the end of the Album are tracings of squeezes of sections of the Pahlavi inscription at Sar Mashhad."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-129, Album 2 reads, "Marked Album II "Pahlavi Inschriften c." A notation by Prof. de Menasce reads: "The Paikuli Inscription, Sasanian (Parsík) as published by E.H." Photographs of stones and blueprints of tracings. The following tracings have corrections made by Herzfeld: All and A12 (p.5), B7 (p.11), B14 (p.18), F6 (p.38), H2 (p.47)."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-129, Album 3 reads, "Album III. Notation by de Menasce reads "22 leaves, pages numbered from 1 to 44; on the cover "Corpus Inscriptionum Parthicarum" (this title does not correspond to the contents): the former title, almost erased, seems to have been "Pahlavi Inschriften a." The Inventory by de Menasce (N-128, No. 1) gives a page by page description of the contents of Album II consisting almost exclusively of Aramaic and Pahlavi inscriptions from Sarpul, Naqsh-i Rustam, Naqsh-i Rajab, Hajjiabad, Taq-i Bustân, etc. through that on the Mil-i Radkan."

- In Finding Aid, Joseph Upton's caption for N-129, Album 4 reads, "Album IV. Notation by Prof. de Menasce reads: "The Paikuli Inscription, Parthian (Pahlavik) as published by E.H." Photographs of stones and blueprints of tracings. The following tracings have corrections by Herzfeld: A'11 (p.23), B'1 (p.24), B'11 (p.28), B'9 (p.29), C'1 (p.31), C'3 (p.34), C'4 (p.35), C'6 (p.36), C'9 (p.37), D'7 (p.41), E'7 (p.45), D'12 (p.46), E'14 (p.47), F'2 (p.49), G'3 (p.58), G'6 (p.60). The page numbers refer to the Album."

3609 Cyanotypes (photographic prints) (b&w; 16 cm. x 21.7 cm)
343 Copy prints (b&w)
3,890 Glass plate negatives (b&w; 13 cm. x 18 cm)
42 Lantern slides (color; 10 cm. x 15 cm)
8,541 Photographic prints (b&w; various dimensions)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Language: Texts in German language with additional annotation in English.
Scope and Contents: The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives.

The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories--i.e. Prehistoric pottery, bronzes, stone; Persepolis; Sasanian monuments; Syrian monuments, Persian architecture and landscapes, etc.--irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1–6. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located.

In addition to the blueprint binders there were three Albums - Photo Files 25 (Sasanian buildings), 27 (Parthian and Sasanian sculptures) and 28 (Pre-Achaemenian monuments and Pasargadae)--in which Herzfeld had arranged prints in a sequence for study or publication purposes. The order in those Photo Files retains that in the Albums.

In addition to the glass negatives, there is an even larger number of cut films. On his archaeological study trips, Herzfeld was accustomed to supplement his photographs on glass plates with photographs on cut film--sometimes of the same subjects, often of other subjects. Some prints to these negative were identified on the back or could be identified from other prints; but in many instances, especially of landscapes, it has not been possible to place them, except in general categories.

Prints from the cut films have been organized, so far as feasible, in groups of related material and placed in the Photo Files of similar subject matter. The negative number appears in the Photo File. Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources for study purposes. Of those there are no negatives, So far as possible, the prints have been identified and placed in the appropriate Photo File.

The Samarra material, Photo Files 19–23, is in a special category. Files 22 and 23 were arranged in Albums labeled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II", respectively. The only identification was written on the backs of the prints, glued to the pages of the Albums. These notations have been transferred to the captions in the Photo Files. These two Albums apparently were arranged by Herzfeld with a view to a publication of the architecture of Samarra which was never prepared. The drawings for such a publication are in this collection.

With such a large number of prints, especially in view of the fact that some were arranged in different fashions for different purposes, it is inevitable that there should be some duplication and that related material may be found in several Photo Files. The only way a user can be sure he has not missed material concerning his particular interest is to examine the Photo File Lists where every print is recorded. Inasmuch as scholars study the same monument from different points of view, the fact that a photograph has been published in one context does not diminish its value in another context.

Note: Photo Files 35--42 consist of Oriental Institute prints of which the negatives are in Chicago. The prints may be published only with the written permission of the Oriental Institute.

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 4: Photographic Files," which is composed of b&w glass negatives, color lantern slides, b&w photographic prints (both modern and original), b&w cyanotypes, large format b&w films, and b&w duplicate prints (both modern and original), was originally organized into three subseries, the glass n and covers Herzfeld's travels and surveys of the most major archaeological sites in Persia, Mesopotamia and Northern Syria, from 1923 to 1931. It also covers the field activities at Pasargadae (Spring 1928) and of the Persepolis Expedition (1931).

- The Herzfeld Papers in the Archives contains 3,890 glass negatives (FSA A. 06 04.GN.0001- to FSA A. 06 04.GN.5075), which includes eight sketchbooks (Skizzenbücher I, II, III, IV, V, VI, VII, and VIII), covers Herzfeld's travels and surveys of the most major archaeological sites in Persia from 1923 to 1924.

The Herzfeld Papers in the Archives contains 3,890 glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 5,066, without any apparent organization. Of most of these, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, e.g. Prehistoric pottery, bronzes, stone; Persepolis; Sasanian monuments; Persian architecture and landscapes, etc. irrespective of the number on the negative.

In addition to the glass negatives and blueprints, there are a series of 16 binders made of photographic prints (Photo Files, Nos. 1-16) and three albums (Photo Files, Nos. 25, 27, and 28). As well, approximately 1,069 photographic prints, which have no negatives, arranged in Photo Files 19-23, are in a special category. In File 19, prints of illustrations in Die Ausgrabungen von Samarra, vol. 1: Der Wandschmuck der Bauten von Samarra und seine Ornamentik. In File 20, prints of illustrations in Die Ausgrabungen von Samarra, vol.2: Die Keramik von Samarra von F. Sarre, supplemented by unpublished photos of ceramics. In the same file, prints of illustrations in Die Ausgrabungen von Samarra, vol.6: Die Geschichte der Stadt Samarra. In File 21, prints of illustrations in Die Ausgrabungen von Samarra, vol.3: Die Malereien von Samarra. At the end of the file, there are unpublished photographs. Files 22 and 23 were arranged in Albums labeled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II", respectively. These two Albums apparently were arranged by Herzfeld with a view to a publication of the architecture of the palaces, mosques and private houses of Samarra which was never prepared. The only identification, written on the backs of the prints which were glued to the Album page, had a first number in red crayon used in the captions as the negative number. In some cases, an additional number is given in blue crayon, possibly indicating a revision of the list or an alternative negative. The encircled number on the margin gives the position in the Album.

In addition to the glass negatives and the Photo Files, there is an even larger number of cut films and a package of duplicate prints which are, for the most part, unpublished. On his archaeological study trips, Herzfeld was accustomed to supplement his photographs on glass plates with photographs on cut film sometimes of the same subjects, often of other subjects.

Local Numbers:
FSA A.06 4

Arrangement:
- Glass Negatives, numbered from 1 to 5,075, originally stored in 80 wooden boxes of approximately 50 photographs each, are housed in document boxes and stored on shelves.
- Prints are organized in sequential number following publication series, "Die Ausgrabungen von Samarra." They are arranged in photo file folders which are housed in document boxes, and stored on shelves.
General: Titles are provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Ernst Herzfeld's publications and on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

Event: The Papers primarily relate to Herzfeld's survey of the monuments, artifacts, and inscriptions of Western Asia between 1903 and 1947 and particularly to his excavations at Istakhr (Iran), Paikuli (Iraq), Pasargadai (Iran), Persepolis (Iran), Samarra (Iraq) and Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran), as well as various archaeological expeditions throughout Cilicia, Mesopotamia, Northern Syria, and Persia. Additional research material, probably collected by Moritz Sobernheim and Max Freiherr von Oppenheim but preserved by Ernst Herzfeld, was part of a broader project, that of Max van Berchem's "Matériaux pour un Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicarum."

Available Formats: Microfiche available at the Freer Gallery of Art Library.

- SK--Refers to Herzfeld's Sketchbooks in the Archive

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 1", which was arranged by Ernst Herzfeld, provides 220 cyanotype prints (blueprints) of antiquities, prehistoric pottery with painted patterns (geometric ornaments and animal design), bronze and stone objects from the prehistoric mound of Tepe Giyan (Iran) as well as acquired in Baghdad (Iraq).
- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed.
in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located.

4.1.2: Vol. 2, 1904-1946
110 Photographic prints (Volume two: 4 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

FSA A.6 04.PF.01.v2
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
"Photo File 1, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 110 photographic prints of antiquities, mostly pottery with painted patterns (geometric ornaments and animal design), from Harsin (Iran) and the prehistoric mound of Tepe Giyan (Iran).

Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

"Photo File 1, Volume 2" is composed of 110 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA.a.6 04.GN.0043; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0069; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0773; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0750; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0063; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0106; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0102; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0039; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0038; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0866; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0870; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0108; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0040; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0037; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0107; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0204; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0195; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0765; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0765a; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0109; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0753; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0205; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0104; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0769; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0720; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0864; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0865; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0045; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0047; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1076; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1075; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1086; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1085; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1078; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1144; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1080; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0131; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1077; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1084; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1083; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1079; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0078; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0059; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0091; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0715; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0871; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0088; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0083; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0130; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0762; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0096; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0114; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0113; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0105; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0148; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1176; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1098; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1140; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0161; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0539; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0540; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0521; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0732; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0733; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0017; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0016; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0522; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0734; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0015; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0018; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0736; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0523; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0524; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0731; FSA.a.6 04.GN.1091; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0023; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0507; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0508; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0501; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0500; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0506; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0496; FSA.a.6 04.GN.0498; FSA

2 Volumes

1 Volume (225 cyanotype prints; b&w; 16 cm. x 21.7 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

Scope and Contents: The abbreviations used in captions of published photos are:

AHI--Archaeological History of Iran, Herzfeld
AMI--Archaeologische Mitteilungen aus Iran, Herzfeld
Frye--The Heritage of Iran, R.N.Frye
IAE--Iran in the Ancient East, Herzfeld
TA--Am Tor von Asien, Herzfeld

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 2", which was arranged by Ernst Herzfeld, provides 225 cyanotype prints (blueprints) related to archaeological sites and rock relief inscriptions and sculptures at Bisutun site (Iran), Jījnūn (Iran), Kurangūn (Iran), Sarpūl (Iran), Dukkān i Daud (Iran), Sahna (Iran), Sardasht (Iran), Nurābad (Iran) and the ruins of Mil-i Azhdāhā tower (Iran), Kāleh-i Sāfid (Iran), Qasr-i Abu Nasr (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), Istakhr (Iran), and Pasargadae (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 2" is composed of 225 cyanotype prints (blueprints), made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.2169; FSA a.6 04.GN.1490; FSA a.6 04.GN.1492; FSA a.6 04.GN.1491; FSA a.6 04.GN.2170; FSA a.6 04.GN.2171; FSA a.6 04.GN.2172; FSA a.6 04.GN.2173; FSA a.6 04.GN.2174; FSA a.6 04.GN.2175; FSA a.6 04.GN.1495; FSA a.6 04.GN.1496; FSA a.6 04.GN.1497; FSA a.6 04.GN.1498; FSA a.6 04.GN.1499; FSA a.6 04.GN.1500; FSA a.6 04.GN.1501; FSA a.6 04.GN.1502; FSA a.6 04.GN.1503; FSA a.6 04.GN.1504; FSA a.6 04.GN.2176; FSA a.6 04.GN.2177; FSA a.6 04.GN.2178; FSA a.6 04.GN.2179; FSA a.6 04.GN.2180; FSA a.6 04.GN.2181; FSA a.6 04.GN.2182; FSA a.6 04.GN.2183; FSA a.6 04.GN.2184; FSA a.6 04.GN.2185; FSA a.6 04.GN.2186; FSA a.6 04.GN.2187; FSA a.6 04.GN.2188; FSA a.6 04.GN.2189; FSA a.6 04.GN.2190; FSA a.6 04.GN.2191; FSA a.6 04.GN.2192; FSA a.6 04.GN.2193; FSA a.6 04.GN.2194; FSA a.6 04.GN.2195; FSA a.6 04.GN.2196; FSA a.6 04.GN.2197; FSA a.6 04.GN.2198; FSA a.6 04.GN.2199; FSA a.6 04.GN.2200; FSA a.6 04.GN.2201; FSA a.6 04.GN.2202; FSA a.6 04.GN.2203; FSA a.6 04.GN.2204; FSA a.6 04.GN.2205; FSA a.6 04.GN.2206; FSA a.6 04.GN.2207; FSA a.6 04.GN.2208; FSA a.6 04.GN.2209; FSA a.6 04.GN.2210; FSA a.6..."

Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 4: Photographic Files; Pre-Achaemenian, Pasargadae, Naqsh-i Rustam, Istakhr (Cyanotypes File 2)

Local Numbers: Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 2

Arrangement: - Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 14 additional files in excess of the 21 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.
General: - Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 2, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 112 photographic prints related to archaeological sites and rock relief inscriptions and sculptures at Bisutun site (Iran), Jinjun (Iran), Nurabad (Iran) and the ruins of Mil-i Azhdaha tower (Iran), Kåleh-i Şafid (Iran), Qasr-i Abu Nasr (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), Istakhr (Iran), and Pasargadæ (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located.

- "Photo File 2, Volume 2" is composed of 113 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.2193; FSA a.6 04.GN.1161; FSA a.6 04.GN.0418; FSA a.6 04.GN.2192; FSA a.6 04.GN.1190; FSA a.6 04.GN.2195; FSA a.6 04.GN.2196; FSA a.6 04.GN.2197; FSA a.6 04.GN.1179; FSA a.6 04.GN.0981; FSA a.6 04.GN.0980; FSA a.6 04.GN.0982; FSA a.6 04.GN.0453; FSA a.6 04.GN.0470; FSA a.6 04.GN.0276; FSA a.6 04.GN.0451; FSA a.6 04.GN.0275; FSA a.6 04.GN.0277; FSA a.6 04.GN.0455; FSA a.6 04.GN.0272; FSA a.6 04.GN.0988; FSA a.6 04.GN.0412; FSA a.6 04.GN.1538; FSA a.6 04.GN.0466; FSA a.6 04.GN.0415; FSA a.6 04.GN.0459; FSA a.6 04.GN.0297; FSA a.6 04.GN.0295; FSA a.6 04.GN.1187; FSA a.6 04.GN.0458; FSA a.6 04.GN.0278; FSA a.6 04.GN.0452; FSA a.6 04.GN.0450; FSA a.6 04.GN.0491; FSA a.6 04.GN.0462; FSA a.6 04.GN.0463; FSA a.6 04.GN.1117; FSA a.6 04.GN.0469; FSA a.6 04.GN.0465; FSA a.6 04.GN.0464; FSA a.6 04.GN.0456; FSA a.6 04.GN.0409; FSA a.6 04.GN.0410; FSA a.6 04.GN.1533; FSA a.6 04.GN.1532; FSA a.6 04.GN.1119; FSA a.6 04.GN.1006; FSA a.6 04.GN.1160; FSA a.6 04.GN.2215; FSA a.6 04.GN.2216; FSA a.6 04.GN.2217; FSA a.6 04.GN.2214; FSA a.6 04.GN.1547; FSA a.6 04.GN.1546; FSA a.6 04.GN.1544; FSA a.6 04.GN.1548; FSA a.6 04.GN.1549; FSA a.6 04.GN.1550; FSA a.6 04.GN.1551; FSA a.6 04.GN.1468; FSA a.6 04.GN.1468a; FSA a.6 04.GN.0422; FSA a.6 04.GN.0308; FSA a.6 04.GN.0307; FSA a.6 04.GN.0326; FSA a.6 04.GN.2240; FSA a.6 04.GN.2241; FSA a.6 04.GN.0268; FSA a.6 04.GN.1564; FSA a.6 04.GN.1567; FSA a.6 04.GN.1568; FSA a.6 04.GN.1565; FSA a.6 04.GN.1566; FSA a.6 04.GN.0964; FSA a.6 04.GN.2242; FSA a.6 04.GN.2243; FSA a.6 04.GN.1186; FSA a.6 04.GN.1185; FSA a.6 04.GN.1184; FSA a.6 04.GN.1183; FSA a.6 04.GN.1182; FSA a.6 04.GN.1181; FSA a.6 04.GN.1180; FSA a.6 04.GN.1062; FSA a.6 04.GN.1061; FSA a.6 04.GN.1060; FSA a.6 04.GN.1059; FSA a.6 04.GN.1058; FSA a.6 04.GN.1057; FSA a.6 04.GN.1056; FSA a.6 04.GN.1055; FSA a.6 04.GN.1054; FSA a.6 04.GN.1053; FSA a.6 04.GN.1052; FSA a.6 04.GN.1051; FSA a.6 04.GN.1050; FSA a.6 04.GN.0421; FSA a.6 04.GN.0420; FSA a.6 04.GN.0411; FSA a.6 04.GN.2179; FSA

Notes: Print corresponds to negative number 2216.

FSA A.06 04.02.162

Photographic prints are housed in document boxes, and stored on shelves.

Additional information from Staff reads, "Glass negative is missing."

Ernst Herzfeld first visited the site of Pasargadae in November 1905 while on an expedition from Assur (Kalat Schergat, Iraq) to Shiraz (Iran). In mid-November 1923, he conducted a preliminary campaign, completing various measured plans and drawings. Finally, a four-week session of excavations in April and May 1928, funded by the Notgemeinschaft der Deutschen Wissenschaft, was carried out by Ernst Herzfeld, assisted by the architect Friedrich Krefter.
Handwritten notes on related blueprint reads, "Pasargadae, rock-cut road to Persepolis."

2 Volumes

1 Volume (203 cyanotype prints; b&w; 16 cm. x 21.7 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

The abbreviations used in captions of published photos are:
AMI--Archaeologische Mitteilungen aus Iran. Herzfeld
Frye--The Heritage of Iran, R.N.Frye
IAE--Iran in the Ancient East, Herzfeld

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 3", which was arranged by Ernst Herzfeld, provides 203 cyanotype prints (blueprints) of antiquities, bronzes, clay objects, buttons and seals, flints, as well as pottery with painted patterns (geometric ornaments and animal design), from Burujird (Iran), Gilveran (Iran), Harsin (Iran), Nahavand (Iran), Saveh (Iran), Sistan (Iran), Northern Iran as well as Luristan, including Harsin (Iran), Nahavand (Iran) and the prehistoric mound of Tepe Giyan (Iran)

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 3" is composed of 203 cyanotype prints (blueprints), made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.0788; FSA a.6 04.GN.0543; FSA a.6 04.GN.0538; FSA a.6 04.GN.0786; FSA a.6 04.GN.0787; FSA a.6 04.GN.0535; FSA a.6 04.GN.0534; FSA a.6 04.GN.0536; FSA a.6 04.GN.0536; FSA a.6 04.GN.0790; FSA a.6 04.GN.0789; FSA a.6 04.GN.0544; FSA a.6 04.GN.0791; FSA a.6 04.GN.1148; FSA a.6 04.GN.0542; FSA a.6 04.GN.0537; FSA a.6 04.GN.0797; FSA a.6 04.GN.0532; FSA a.6 04.GN.0730; FSA a.6 04.GN.0533; FSA a.6 04.GN.0796; FSA a.6 04.GN.0492; FSA a.6 04.GN.0958; FSA a.6 04.GN.0959; FSA a.6 04.GN.0487; FSA a.6 04.GN.0485; FSA a.6 04.GN.0484; FSA a.6 04.GN.0488; FSA a.6 04.GN.0494; FSA a.6 04.GN.0792; FSA a.6 04.GN.0793; FSA a.6 04.GN.0794; FSA a.6 04.GN.0493; FSA a.6 04.GN.0495; FSA a.6 04.GN.0795; FSA a.6 04.GN.0530; FSA a.6 04.GN.0960; FSA a.6 04.GN.0961; FSA a.6 04.GN.0531; FSA a.6 04.GN.0724; FSA a.6 04.GN.0725; FSA a.6 04.GN.0541; FSA a.6 04.GN.0490; FSA a.6 04.GN.0491; FSA a.6 04.GN.0489; FSA a.6 04.GN.0741; FSA a.6
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 14 additional files in excess of the previous 28 files.

4.3.2: Vol. 2, 1904-1946
103 Photographic prints (Volume two: 2 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
FSA A.6 04.PF.03.v2

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- "Photo File 3, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 100 photographic prints of antiquities, bronzes, flints, as well as pottery with painted patterns (geometric ornaments and animal design), from Gilveran (Iran), Sistan (Iran), Northern Iran as well as Luristan, including Harsin (Iran) and the prehistoric mound of Tepe Giyan (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 3, Volume 2" is composed of 103 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.0528; FSA a.6 04.GN.0529; FSA a.6 04.GN.0526; FSA a.6 04.GN.0527; FSA a.6 04.GN.0100; FSA a.6 04.GN.0565; FSA a.6 04.GN.0557; FSA a.6 04.GN.0098; FSA a.6 04.GN.1175; FSA a.6 04.GN.1174; FSA a.6 04.GN.1159; FSA a.6 04.GN.0019; FSA a.6 04.GN.0392; FSA a.6 04.GN.0486; FSA a.6 04.GN.0391; FSA a.6 04.GN.0048; FSA a.6 04.GN.0119; FSA a.6 04.GN.0056; FSA a.6 04.GN.0384; FSA a.6 04.GN.0049; FSA a.6 04.GN.0360; FSA a.6 04.GN.0127; FSA a.6 04.GN.0055; FSA a.6 04.GN.0355; FSA a.6 04.GN.0356; FSA a.6 04.GN.0376; FSA a.6 04.GN.0123; FSA a.6 04.GN.0028; FSA a.6 04.GN.0058; FSA a.6 04.GN.0030; FSA a.6 04.GN.0027; FSA a.6 04.GN.0377; FSA a.6 04.GN.0383; FSA a.6 04.GN.0359; FSA a.6 04.GN.0122; FSA a.6 04.GN.0353; FSA a.6 04.GN.0051; FSA a.6 04.GN.0382; FSA a.6 04.GN.0361; FSA a.6 04.GN.0054; FSA a.6 04.GN.0033; FSA a.6 04.GN.0032; FSA a.6 04.GN.0031; FSA a.6 04.GN.0050; FSA a.6 04.GN.0386; FSA a.6 04.GN.0120; FSA a.6 04.GN.0052; FSA a.6 04.GN.0862; FSA a.6 04.GN.0860; FSA a.6 04.GN.0125; FSA a.6 04.GN.0124; FSA a.6 04.GN.0362; FSA a.6 04.GN.0381; FSA a.6 04.GN.0188; FSA a.6 04.GN.0861; FSA a.6 04.GN.0121; FSA a.6 04.GN.0357; FSA a.6 04.GN.0029; FSA a.6 04.GN.0057; FSA a.6 04.GN.0387; FSA a.6 04.GN.0285; FSA a.6 04.GN.0279; FSA a.6 04.GN.0394; FSA a.6 04.GN.0735; FSA a.6 04.GN.0281; FSA a.6 04.GN.0284; FSA a.6 04.GN.0286; FSA a.6 04.GN.0288; FSA a.6 04.GN.3181; FSA a.6 04.GN.0230; FSA a.6 04.GN.3213; FSA a.6 04.GN.3214; FSA a.6 04.GN.0389; FSA a.6 04.GN.0390; FSA a.6 04.GN.0399; FSA a.6 04.GN.0283; FSA a.6 04.GN.0396; FSA a.6 04.GN.1142; FSA a.6 04.GN.0290; FSA a.6 04.GN.0287; FSA a.6 04.GN.0525; FSA a.6 04.GN.0398; FSA a.6 04.GN.0395; FSA a.6 04.GN.0289; FSA a.6 04.GN.0397; FSA a.6 04.GN.0726; FSA a.6 04.GN.0729; FSA a.6 04.GN.0728; FSA a.6 04.GN.0393; FSA a.6 04.GN.0282; FSA a.6 04.GN.3182; FSA a.6 04.GN.3180; FSA a.6 04.GN.0723; FSA a.6 04.GN.0095; FSA a.6 04.GN.0716; FSA a.6 04.GN.0717; FSA a.6 04.GN.0354; FSA a.6 04.GN.0101; FSA a.6 04.GN.0094; FSA a.6 04.GN.0722; FSA a.6 04.GN.0099; FSA a.6 04.GN.0721; FSA a.6 04.GN.3215."

4.4: Photo File 4: "Prehistoric Persepolis", 1904-1946

2 Volumes

1 Volume (193 cyanotype prints; b&w; 16 cm. x 21.7 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

Scope and Contents:
The abbreviations used in the captions of published photos are:
IAE--Iran in the Ancient East, Herzfeld
ID--Iranische Denkmäler. Lieferung 3/4 Niphauanda, Herzfeld

These two volumes contain photos of the finds from a village excavated on the plain near the ruins of Persepolis. They should be studied in conjunction with the water-colors and ink drawings: D--05--36 and D--82--88. See also Photo File 41

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 4", which was arranged by Ernst Herzfeld, provides 193 photographic prints related to a trial excavation undertook by Ernst Herzfeld in the summer 1928 as well as a campaign of excavation at the western mound, Tall-i-Bakun A under the auspice of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, carried out by Alexander Langsdorff under Ernst Herzfeld's direction between March 25, 1932 and July 21, 1932.

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

4.4.2: Vol. 2, 1928-1932
95 photographic prints (Volume two: 3 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 4, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 98 photographic prints related to a trial excavation undertook by Ernst Herzfeld in the Summer 1928 as well as a campaign of excavation at the western mound, Tall-i-Bakun A under the auspice of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, carried out by Alexander Langsdorff under Ernst Herzfeld's direction between March 25, 1932 and July 21, 1932.

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located.

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 5", which was arranged by Ernst Herzfeld, provides 354 photographic prints which may first relate to a visit to Persepolis in November 1905 during his expedition return from the Assur (Kalat Schergat, Iraq) excavation. They may also have been taken during the two last months of 1923 and early March 1924 when Herzfeld spent six weeks on the terrace of Persepolis, drafting a plan and providing a photographic record of the whole structure. More photographs were taken in 1928 when the architect Friedrich Krefter joined Herzfeld in Persia to complete various measured plans and drawings in Persepolis. The expedition was funded by the Notgemeinschaft der Deutschen Wissenschaft. Finally, excavations of the Achaemenid site were begun on March 1, 1931, under the auspices of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, until Ernst Herzfeld left Persepolis permanently in Spring 1934.

binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 14 additional files in excess of the 21 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
"Photo File 5, Volume 1", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 172 photographic prints which may first relate to a visit to Persepolis in November 1905 during his expedition return from the Assur (Kalat Schergat, Iraq) excavation. They may also have been taken during the two last months of 1923 and early March 1924 when Herzfeld spent six weeks on the terrace of Persepolis, drafting a plan and providing a photographic record of the whole structure. More photographs were taken in 1928 when the architect Friedrich Krefter joined Herzfeld in Persia to complete various measured plans and drawings in Persepolis. The expedition was funded by the Notgemeinschaft der Deutschen Wissenschaft. Finally, excavations of the Achaemenid site were begun on March 1, 1931, under the auspices of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, until Ernst Herzfeld left Persepolis permanently in Spring 1934.

Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

"Photo File 5, Volume 1" is composed of 172 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.1576; FSA a.6 04.GN.1577; FSA a.6 04.GN.1654; FSA a.6 04.GN.2265; FSA a.6 04.GN.2266; FSA a.6 04.GN.2267; FSA a.6 04.GN.2268; FSA a.6 04.GN.2269; FSA a.6 04.GN.2270; FSA a.6 04.GN.2271; FSA a.6 04.GN.2272; FSA a.6 04.GN.2273; FSA a.6 04.GN.2274; FSA a.6 04.GN.2275; FSA a.6 04.GN.2276; FSA a.6 04.GN.2277; FSA a.6 04.GN.2278; FSA a.6 04.GN.2279; FSA a.6 04.GN.2280; FSA a.6 04.GN.2281; FSA a.6 04.GN.1581; FSA a.6 04.GN.1585; FSA a.6 04.GN.2299; FSA a.6 04.GN.1583; FSA a.6 04.GN.1585; FSA a.6 04.GN.2289; FSA a.6 04.GN.2287;

4.5.2: Vol. 2, 1904-1934
181 Photographic prints (Volume two: 3 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

FSA A.6 04.PF.05.v2
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- "Photo File 5, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 181 photographic prints which may first relate to a visit to Persepolis in November 1905 during his expedition return from the Assur (Kalat Schergat, Iraq) excavation. They may also have been taken during the two last months of 1923 and early March 1924 when Herzfeld spent six weeks on the terrace of Persepolis, drafting a plan and providing a photographic record of the whole structure. More photographs were taken in 1928 when the architect Friedrich Krefter joined Herzfeld in Persia to complete various measured plans and drawings in Persepolis. The expedition was funded by the Notgemeinschaft der Deutschen Wissenschaft. Finally, excavations of the Achaemenid site were begun on March 1, 1931, under the auspices of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, until Ernst Herzfeld left Persepolis permanently in Spring 1934.

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- Additional information from staff reads, "Ernst Herzfeld has visited the Sevruguin Studio in Tehran (Iran) and purchased several Antoin Sevruguin photographic prints. One of them, FSA A.6 04.PF.05.v2.355, is in the Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Photo File 5, Volume 2."

- "Photo File 5, Volume 2" is composed of 181 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.1635; FSA a.6 04.GN.0963; FSA a.6 04.GN.0962; FSA a.6 04.GN.1637; FSA a.6 04.GN.0404; FSA a.6 04.GN.1636; FSA a.6 04.GN.0404; FSA a.6 04.GN.1636; FSA a.6 04.GN.1634; FSA a.6 04.GN.1186; FSA a.6 04.GN.1638; FSA a.6 04.GN.1646; FSA a.6 04.GN.2341; FSA a.6 04.GN.2345; FSA a.6 04.GN.1639; FSA a.6 04.GN.1640; FSA a.6 04.GN.2346; FSA a.6 04.GN.1641; FSA a.6 04.GN.0983; FSA a.6 04.GN.0999; FSA a.6 04.GN.1644; FSA a.6 04.GN.1645; FSA a.6 04.GN.1642; FSA a.6 04.GN.1643; FSA a.6 04.GN.2347; FSA a.6 04.GN.1681; FSA a.6 04.GN.0258; FSA a.6 04.GN.2328; FSA a.6 04.GN.2326; FSA a.6 04.GN.2325; FSA a.6 04.GN.2327; FSA a.6 04.GN.1683; FSA a.6 04.GN.1684; FSA a.6 04.GN.1685; FSA a.6 04.GN.1688; FSA a.6 04.GN.1686; FSA a.6 04.GN.1687; FSA a.6 04.GN.1690; FSA a.6 04.GN.1689; FSA a.6 04.GN.1692; FSA a.6 04.GN.1691; FSA a.6 04.GN.1682; FSA a.6 04.GN.2324; FSA a.6 04.GN.1677; FSA a.6 04.GN.1191; FSA a.6 04.GN.1001; FSA a.6 04.GN.0260; FSA a.6 04.GN.1666; FSA a.6 04.GN.1675; FSA a.6 04.GN.1676; FSA a.6 04.GN.2331; FSA

FSA A.6 04.PF.05.v2.355: Naqsh-i Rajab (Iran): Sasanian Rock Relief (Relief IV) Picturing High Priest Kartir and Middle Persian Inscription, ca. 1900
1 Item (photographic print; b&w; 22.5 cm. x 16.2 cm.)
Creator: Sevruguin, Antoin, 1851-1933
Language: Undetermined.
Notes: Box 3, File 5, Folder 8, Image 17

The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives which he arranged by general categories into 16 separate Photo files, irrespective of the number on the negative. He also collected photographic prints from many sources for study purposes. So far as possible, Joseph Upton has identified and placed these prints in the appropriate Photo file.

Title and summary note are provided by Shabnam Rahimi-Golkhandan, FSg curatorial research specialist.

"I, Kartir, am known in the empire for righteousness and eminence, and known to have been of good service and good will to the Yazads and lords. Further I to the Yazads ward this also thus promised, that, if by the help of the Yazads I, Kartir, for the living upon highest rank were made to look then also by me further to the departed ward of heaven and hell the essential features would be outlined (or proclaimed or enlarged) for the sake, also, of these divine services as within the empire they are performed, for the sake of these also. Further, of whatever kind they may be, that were to be outlined by me by way of becoming more authoritative, and that thus, as I had promised to the Yazads. Further by me those which were established, even thus as by me it (was to be done for) heaven and hell, for these services also orthodoxy and heterodoxy (in) their essential features were (to be) outlined. Now for me then, when by the help of the Yazads this also was established, to the departed ward this thus was outlined, then (to) the Yazads of much better service and will have I become. And for my own soul I have become more provident and quiet. And also on these offerings and services which within the empire are performed much more authoritative have I become. And whosoever sees this inscription and reads it, that one for Yazads and lords and his own soul straight and right let him be. And beyond this, also, in the offerings and services and the Mazdayasnian religion, which is now performed for the living, let him become more authoritative. Now another matter; not everyone may issue a command at will. Let it be known what I have decided: There is a heaven and there is a hell. And whoever is a well doer shall go straight to heaven. And whoever is a sinner shall be cast down to hell. And whoever is a well doer and after well doing persistently runs, this one (in) this bone-endowed body good fame and prosperity shall attain and also (in) this bone-endowed spirit orthodoxy shall (he) overtake, as I, Kartir, have attained. Now I have written this inscription for this purpose, that since for me, Kartir, from of yore onward by rulers and lords many fires with (their) magi by imperial deeds were instituted and for me the great glory of my own name on imperial deeds and documents stands written, that whoever in future time imperial documents or deeds or other inscriptions may see, that one should know, that I am Kartir, who (under) Shapur, King of Kings, Kartir the Magupat [Magus-master] and Ehrpat was entitled; and under Hormizd, King of Kings, and Varahran, King of Kings, son of Shapur, Kartir, Ahura Mazda's Magupat was entitled; and under Varahran, [King of] Kings, son of Varahran, Kartir, Soul-savior of Varahran and Ahura Mazda's Magupat was entitled. Written by Buhtak, scribe of Kartir, the Lord." [Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery Archives, Curatorial Research Assistant]

- On recto of the print, handwritten number (inked, probably by Antoin Sevruguin) reads, "821."
- On recto of the print, scratched handwritten number (inked, probably by Antoin Sevruguin) reads, "51."
- On recto of the print, handwritten caption (probably written by Ernst Herzfeld) reads, "Naqsh i Rajab, Kartir."
- On verso of the print, handwritten caption (probably written by Antoin Sevruguin) in French reads, "Nashché Radjab près Persepolis."

Glass negative numbered FSA A.4 2.12.GN.38.11; available in Myron Bement Smith Collection, Subseries 2.12: Antoin Sevruguin Photographs.

Antoin Sevruguin (1830s-1933) was an official photographer of the Imperial Court of Iran whose commercial photography studio was one of the most successful in Tehran from the late 1870s to about 1934. The astonishing range of Antoin Sevruguin's photographs, and the prolific output of the studio, provides today's viewer with an important resource for examining the cultural histories and hierarchical elements of Iranian society. They assist the scholar in studying architectural sites that may have been damaged or destroyed, or are unavailable for first-hand investigation. Increasingly, the prints are valued for their artistic elements that may sometimes overshadow their documentary value. Most significantly, Sevruguin's images form part of an ongoing history that links a distant past and place to the present.

4.5.3: Vol. 3, 1904-1934
141 Photographic prints (Volume three: 2 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

FSA A.6 04.PF.05.v3

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 5, Volume 3", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 141 photographic prints of antiquities and from archaeological sites such as Bisutun Site (Iran), Istakhr (Iran), Naqsh-i Rajab (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), Pasargadai (Iran), and Persepolis (Iran).
- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- Additional information from staff reads, "Ernst Herzfeld has visited the Sevruguin Studio in Tehran (Iran) and purchased several Antoin Sevruguin photographic prints. Thirteen of them (FSA A.6 04.PF.05.v3.001; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.002; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.003; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.003a; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.004; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.005; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.006; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.007a; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.007b; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.008a; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.008b; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.009; FSA A.6 04.05.v3.037b) are in the Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Photo File 5, Volume 3."

- "Photo File 5, Volume 2" is composed of 141 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.2304; FSA a.6 04.GN.2305; FSA a.6 04.GN.2255; FSA a.6 04.GN.2256; FSA a.6 04.GN.4085; FSA a.6 04.GN.4078; FSA a.6 04.GN.4087; FSA a.6 04.GN.4092; FSA a.6 04.GN.5423; FSA a.6 04.GN.4129; FSA a.6 04.GN.5420; FSA a.6 04.GN.5421; FSA a.6 04.GN.4095; FSA a.6 04.GN.5424; FSA a.6 04.GN.4130; FSA a.6 04.GN.3954; FSA a.6 04.GN.3955; FSA a.6 04.GN.3956; FSA a.6 04.GN.3957; FSA a.6 04.GN.1699; FSA a.6 04.GN.1700; FSA a.6 04.GN.5030; FSA a.6 04.GN.5031; FSA a.6 04.GN.1673; FSA a.6 04.GN.2238; FSA a.6 04.GN.4079; FSA a.6 04.GN.4080; FSA a.6 04.GN.4078; FSA a.6 04.GN.4075; FSA a.6 04.GN.4082; FSA a.6 04.GN.4061; FSA a.6 04.GN.4068; FSA a.6 04.GN.4083; FSA a.6 04.GN.4041; FSA a.6 04.GN.4064; FSA a.6 04.GN.4062; FSA a.6 04.GN.4069; FSA a.6 04.GN.4063; FSA a.6 04.GN.4072; FSA a.6 04.GN.4071; FSA a.6 04.GN.4070; FSA a.6 04.GN.4065; FSA a.6 04.GN.4074; FSA a.6 04.GN.4073; FSA a.6 04.GN.4066; FSA a.6 04.GN.4067; FSA a.6 04.GN.3899; FSA a.6 04.GN.4089; FSA a.6 04.GN.4090; FSA a.6 04.GN.4086; FSA a.6 04.GN.4087; FSA a.6 04.GN.4088; FSA a.6 04.GN.4084; FSA a.6 04.GN.3898; FSA a.6 04.GN.4092; FSA a.6 04.GN.4077; FSA a.6 04.GN.4085; FSA a.6 04.GN.4076; FSA a.6 04.GN.4091; FSA a.6 04.GN.5260; FSA a.6 04.GN.5261."

FSA A.6 04.PF.06
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- "Photo File 6", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 131 photographic prints of Cuneiform and Middle Persian Inscriptions found on Sasanian clay sealings (bullae), tablets and daggers; on rock reliefs at Firuzabad (Iran), Hajjabad (Iran), Naqsh-i Rajab (Iran), Sar Marshad (Iran); as well as on columns from archaeological sites such as Hatra (Iraq), Paikuli (Iraq), and Persepolis (Iran).
- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

2 Volumes

1 Volume (244 cyanotype prints; b&w; 16 cm. x 21.7 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

Scope and Contents: The abbreviations used in the captions of published photos are:

AHI - Archaeological History of Iran, Herzfeld
IAE - Iran in the Ancient East, Herzfeld

Reference should also be made to Photo File 25, "Sasanidischer Bauten", and to Photo Files 17 and 29, which deal specifically with Kūh-i Khwāja.

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 7", which was arranged by Ernst Herzfeld, provides 244 photographic prints which relate to field study of the Seleucid temple at Khurha (Iran), the Seleucid temple of Anahita at Kangavar (Iran), Asadabad (Iran), the rock-cut tombs on the Island of Kharg (Iran), the remains of Abaqa Khan palace at Takhti-i Rustam in Shahriyar district, the medieval mosque of Istakhr (Iran), a burial Site with astudans at Shah Ismael, in the vicinity of Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), the Sasanian palace of Sarvistan at Taq i Girra (Iran), the fortified Sasanian settlement at Qasr-i Abu Nasr (Iran), the great arch of Ctesiphon at Taq-i Kisra (Iraq), the Sasanian palace of Khosrow II Parvez at Qasr-i Shirin (Iran), the ruins of Zindan at Dastagerd (Iran), the Qal'a-ye Dokhtar and the palace of Ardashir at Firuzabad (Iran); the ruins of Mil-i Azhdaha tower at Nurabad (Iran), Bishapur (Iran), Farrashband (Iran), the remains of a chahar taq in the vicinity of Firuzabad (Iran), Paqaleh (Iran), the remains of an unidentified fortress in Kerman province (Iran), Sistan (Iran), the ruins of Ghaga-Shahr, of two fortified structures called Chehel Dokhtaran and Kok-e Zal at Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed... in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located.

Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 4: Photographic Files; Sassanid Architecture (Cyanotypes File 7)

Local Numbers:
Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 7
FSA A.6 04.CY.07

Arrangement:
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 14 additional files in excess of the 21 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

General:
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 7, Volume 1", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 128 photographic prints which relate to field study of the Seleucid temple at Khurha (Iran), the Seleucid temple of Anahita at Kangavar (Iran), Asadabad (Iran), the rock-cut tombs on the Island of Kharg (Iran), the remains of ABAqa Khan palace at Takht-i Rustam in Shahriyar district, the medieval mosque of Istakhr (Iran), a burial Site with astudans at Shah Ismael, in the vicinity of Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), the Sasanian palace of Sarvistan at Taq i Girra (Iran), the fortified Sasanian settlement at Qasr-i Abu Nasr (Iran), the great arch of Ctesiphon at Taq-i Kisra (Iraq), the Sasanian palace of Khosrow II Parvez at Qasr-i Shirin (Iran), the ruins of Zindan at Dastagerd (Iran), the Qa'la-ye Dokhtar and the palace of Ardashir at Firuzabad (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 7, Volume 1" is composed of 128 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.2382; FSA a.6 04.GN.2391; FSA a.6 04.GN.2393; FSA a.6 04.GN.2394; FSA a.6 04.GN.2395; FSA a.6 04.GN.2397; FSA a.6 04.GN.2386; FSA a.6 04.GN.2388; FSA a.6 04.GN.2389; FSA a.6 04.GN.2390; FSA a.6 04.GN.1713; FSA a.6 04.GN.1714; FSA a.6 04.GN.1715; FSA a.6 04.GN.1716;

Sassanid Architecture (Photo File 7, vol. 2), 1904-1934
116 Photographic prints (Volume two: 2 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Language: Undetermined.
Notes: Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Photo File 7, Volume 2
FSA A.6 04.PF.07.v2
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 7, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 116 photographic prints which relate to field study of the ruins of Mil-i Azhdaha tower at Nurabad (Iran), Bishapur (Iran), Farrashband (Iran), the remains of a chahar taq in the vicinity of Firuzabad (Iran), Paqaleh (Iran), the remains of an unidentified fortress in Kerman province (Iran), Sistan (Iran), the ruins of Ghaga-Shahr, of two fortified structures called Chehel Dokhtaran and Kok-e Zal at Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 7, Volume 2" is composed of 116 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.2449; FSA a.6 04.GN.2450; FSA a.6 04.GN.2451; FSA a.6 04.GN.2452; FSA a.6 04.GN.2453; FSA a.6 04.GN.3178; FSA a.6 04.GN.3175; FSA a.6 04.GN.2454; FSA a.6 04.GN.2455; FSA a.6 04.GN.2456; FSA a.6 04.GN.2466; FSA a.6 04.GN.2457; FSA a.6 04.GN.2458; FSA a.6 04.GN.2459; FSA a.6 04.GN.2460; FSA a.6 04.GN.2461; FSA a.6 04.GN.1756; FSA a.6 04.GN.1757; FSA a.6 04.GN.1758; FSA a.6 04.GN.1759; FSA a.6 04.GN.2034; FSA a.6 04.GN.2035; FSA a.6 04.GN.2037; FSA a.6 04.GN.2039; FSA a.6 04.GN.2036; FSA a.6 04.GN.2038; FSA a.6 04.GN.2029; FSA a.6 04.GN.2030; FSA a.6 04.GN.2033; FSA a.6 04.GN.2031; FSA a.6 04.GN.2032; FSA a.6 04.GN.0432; FSA a.6 04.GN.1004; FSA a.6 04.GN.1005; FSA a.6 04.GN.1022; FSA a.6 04.GN.2045; FSA a.6 04.GN.2046; FSA a.6 04.GN.2041; FSA a.6 04.GN.2040; FSA a.6 04.GN.2042; FSA a.6 04.GN.2044; FSA a.6 04.GN.2043; FSA a.6 04.GN.2047; FSA a.6 04.GN.2048; FSA a.6 04.GN.2049; FSA a.6

Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 4: Photographic Files; Sassanid Monuments (Cyanotypes File 8)

Local Numbers: Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 8

FSA A.6 04.CY.08

Arrangement: - Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 14 additional files in excess of the 21 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 8, Volume 1", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 166 photographic prints which relate to study of Sasanian monuments at Hatra (Iraq), Taq-i Bustan (Iran), Hamadan (Iran), Persepolis (Iran), Bisutun Site (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), Sarpul (Iran), Firuzabad (Iran), Naqsh-i Rajab (Iran), Bishapur (Iran), Naqsh-i Bahram (Iran), Sar Mashhad (Iran), Barm-i Dilak (Iran), and Guyum (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

4.9: Photo File 9: "Coins"

Scope and Contents:

The abbreviations used in captions of published photos are:

- AMI—Archaeologische Mitteilungen aus Iran, Herzfeld
- Frye—The Heritage of Iran, R.N. Frye
- IAE—Iran in the Ancient East, Herzfeld
- K-SC—Memoirs of the Archaeological Survey of India, No.38 "Kushano-Sasanian Coins," Herzfeld

Nos.1--7 are of prints in Herzfeld's Blueprint File. They are followed by Nos. 1--5 (not in the Blueprint File) and duplicates. The photos frequently combine coins of various rulers, the principal ones being noted in this List.

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 9" is composed of 166 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.0601; FSA a.6 04.GN.0621; FSA a.6 04.GN.0708; FSA a.6 04.GN.0600; FSA a.6 04.GN.0709; FSA a.6 04.GN.0711; FSA a.6 04.GN.0676; FSA a.6 04.GN.0695; FSA a.6 04.GN.0704; FSA a.6 04.GN.0701; FSA a.6 04.GN.0691; FSA a.6 04.GN.0672; FSA a.6 04.GN.0369; FSA a.6 04.GN.0671; FSA a.6 04.GN.0666; FSA a.6 04.GN.0700; FSA a.6 04.GN.0710; FSA a.6 04.GN.0599; FSA a.6 04.GN.0603; FSA a.6 04.GN.0690; FSA a.6 04.GN.0673; FSA a.6 04.GN.0620; FSA a.6 04.GN.0699; FSA a.6 04.GN.1450; FSA a.6 04.GN.1449; FSA a.6 04.GN.0670; FSA a.6 04.GN.0707; FSA a.6 04.GN.0702; FSA a.6 04.GN.0703; FSA a.6 04.GN.0689; FSA a.6 04.GN.0705; FSA a.6 04.GN.0667; FSA a.6 04.GN.0373; FSA a.6 04.GN.0914; FSA a.6 04.GN.2139; FSA a.6 04.GN.2140; FSA a.6 04.GN.0940; FSA a.6 04.GN.0939; FSA a.6 04.GN.0693; FSA a.6 04.GN.0913; FSA a.6 04.GN.2141; FSA a.6 04.GN.2137; FSA a.6 04.GN.2138; FSA a.6 04.GN.2142; FSA a.6 04.GN.1121; FSA a.6 04.GN.0370; FSA a.6 04.GN.0706; FSA a.6 04.GN.0932; FSA a.6 04.GN.0933; FSA a.6 04.GN.0936; FSA a.6 04.GN.0938; FSA a.6 04.GN.0937; FSA a.6 04.GN.0935; FSA a.6 04.GN.0934; FSA a.6 04.GN.0596; FSA a.6 04.GN.0372; FSA a.6 04.GN.0371; FSA a.6 04.GN.0697; FSA a.6 04.GN.0699; FSA a.6 04.GN.0682; FSA a.6 04.GN.0678; FSA a.6 04.GN.0613; FSA a.6 04.GN.0595; FSA a.6 04.GN.0683; FSA a.6 04.GN.0681; FSA a.6 04.GN.0668; FSA a.6 04.GN.0664; FSA a.6 04.GN.0604; FSA a.6 04.GN.0607; FSA a.6 04.GN.0627; FSA a.6 04.GN.0597; FSA a.6 04.GN.0625; FSA a.6 04.GN.0602; FSA a.6 04.GN.0593; FSA a.6 04.GN.0605; FSA a.6 04.GN.0615; FSA a.6 04.GN.0614; FSA a.6 04.GN.0592; FSA a.6 04.GN.0594; FSA a.6 04.GN.0610; FSA a.6 04.GN.0611; FSA a.6 04.GN.0606; FSA a.6 04.GN.0612; FSA a.6 04.GN.0608; FSA a.6 04.GN.0609; FSA a.6 04.GN.0692; FSA a.6 04.GN.0694; FSA a.6 04.GN.0665; FSA a.6 04.GN.0667; FSA a.6 04.GN.0375; FSA a.6 04.GN.0374; FSA a.6 04.GN.1131; FSA a.6 04.GN.1120; FSA a.6 04.GN.1130; FSA a.6 04.GN.0675; FSA a.6 04.GN.1127; FSA a.6 04.GN.0674; FSA a.6 04.GN.0941; FSA a.6 04.GN.0942; FSA a.6 04.GN.0619; FSA a.6 04.GN.0622; FSA a.6 04.GN.0624; FSA a.6 04.GN.0623; FSA a.6 04.GN.0910; FSA a.6 04.GN.0909; FSA a.6 04.GN.0908; FSA a.6 04.GN.0617; FSA a.6 04.GN.0943; FSA a.6 04.GN.0944; FSA a.6 04.GN.0668; FSA a.6 04.GN.0680; FSA a.6 04.GN.0596; FSA a.6 04.GN.0912; FSA a.6 04.GN.0915; FSA a.6 04.GN.0916; FSA a.6 04.GN.0687; FSA a.6 04.GN.0686; FSA a.6 04.GN.0364; FSA a.6 04.GN.0363; FSA a.6 04.GN.0365; FSA a.6 04.GN.0366; FSA a.6 04.GN.0368; FSA a.6 04.GN.0367; FSA a.6 04.GN.0476; FSA a.6 04.GN.0477; FSA a.6 04.GN.0696; FSA a.6 04.GN.0698; FSA a.6 04.GN.0651; FSA a.6 04.GN.0636; FSA a.6 04.GN.1128; FSA a.6 04.GN.1126; FSA a.6 04.GN.0640; FSA

Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 4: Photographic Files; Persian Architecture and Landscapes (Cyanotypes File 10)

Local Numbers: Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 10

Arrangement: Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 14 additional files in excess of the 21 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- "Photo File 10, Volume 1", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 181 photographic prints which relate to field study of various architectural buildings and archaeological remains at Damghan (Iran), Bistam (Iran), Radkan (Iran), Sabzavar (Iran), Khusravagird (Iran), Nishapur (Iran), Tus (Iran), Sangbast (Iran), and Khargird (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 10, Volume 1" is composed of 181 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.3018; FSA a.6 04.GN.2737; FSA a.6 04.GN.3047; FSA

4.10.2: Vol. 2, 1904-1934
144 Photographic prints (Volume two: 3 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
FSA A.6 04.PF.10.v2
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- "Photo File 10, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 144 photographic prints which relate to Herzfeld house in Tehran (Iran), the Summer house of the German legation at Shimran (Iran), and to mountain expeditions in Kurdistan (Iran) and Khorasan (Iran).
- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 10, Volume 2" is composed of 144 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.0970; FSA a.6 04.GN.0972; FSA a.6 04.GN.0973; FSA a.6 04.GN.0974; FSA a.6 04.GN.0975; FSA a.6 04.GN.0976; FSA a.6 04.GN.0976; FSA a.6 04.GN.0977; FSA a.6 04.GN.1209; FSA a.6 04.GN.1211; FSA a.6 04.GN.1211a; FSA a.6 04.GN.1212; FSA a.6 04.GN.1213; FSA a.6 04.GN.1214; FSA a.6 04.GN.1223; FSA a.6 04.GN.1224; FSA a.6 04.GN.1225; FSA a.6 04.GN.1226; FSA a.6 04.GN.1227; FSA a.6 04.GN.1228; FSA a.6 04.GN.1229; FSA a.6 04.GN.1230; FSA a.6 04.GN.1301; FSA a.6 04.GN.1302; FSA a.6 04.GN.1303; FSA a.6 04.GN.1304; FSA a.6 04.GN.1305; FSA a.6 04.GN.1306; FSA a.6 04.GN.2108; FSA a.6 04.GN.2110; FSA a.6 04.GN.2109; FSA a.6 04.GN.2111; FSA a.6 04.GN.2112; FSA a.6 04.GN.2113; FSA a.6 04.GN.2114; FSA a.6 04.GN.2115; FSA a.6 04.GN.2118; FSA a.6 04.GN.2533; FSA a.6 04.GN.2712; FSA a.6 04.GN.2712a; FSA a.6 04.GN.2713; FSA a.6 04.GN.2714; FSA a.6 04.GN.2715; FSA a.6 04.GN.2716; FSA a.6 04.GN.2718; FSA a.6 04.GN.2719; FSA a.6 04.GN.2720; FSA a.6 04.GN.2721; FSA a.6 04.GN.2722; FSA a.6 04.GN.2723; FSA a.6 04.GN.2724; FSA a.6 04.GN.2725; FSA a.6 04.GN.2726; FSA a.6 04.GN.2727; FSA a.6 04.GN.2728; FSA a.6 04.GN.2728; FSA a.6 04.GN.1206; FSA a.6 04.GN.1207; FSA a.6 04.GN.1208; FSA a.6 04.GN.1210; FSA a.6 04.GN.1210; FSA a.6 04.GN.1215; FSA a.6 04.GN.1216; FSA a.6 04.GN.1222; FSA a.6 04.GN.1222; FSA a.6 04.GN.1231; FSA a.6 04.GN.1232; FSA a.6 04.GN.1233; FSA a.6 04.GN.1234; FSA a.6 04.GN.1235; FSA a.6 04.GN.1236; FSA a.6 04.GN.1237; FSA a.6 04.GN.1238; FSA a.6 04.GN.1238; FSA a.6 04.GN.1239; FSA a.6 04.GN.1240; FSA a.6 04.GN.1241; FSA a.6 04.GN.1242; FSA a.6 04.GN.1243; FSA a.6 04.GN.1244; FSA a.6 04.GN.1245; FSA a.6 04.GN.1246; FSA a.6 04.GN.1247; FSA a.6 04.GN.1248; FSA a.6 04.GN.1249; FSA a.6 04.GN.1250; FSA a.6 04.GN.1251; FSA a.6 04.GN.1252; FSA a.6 04.GN.1253; FSA a.6 04.GN.1254; FSA a.6 04.GN.1255; FSA a.6 04.GN.1256; FSA a.6 04.GN.1257; FSA a.6 04.GN.1258; FSA a.6 04.GN.1259; FSA a.6 04.GN.1260; FSA a.6 04.GN.1261; FSA a.6 04.GN.1262; FSA a.6 04.GN.1263; FSA a.6 04.GN.1264; FSA a.6 04.GN.1265; FSA a.6 04.GN.1266; FSA a.6 04.GN.1267; FSA a.6 04.GN.1268; FSA a.6 04.GN.1269; FSA a.6 04.GN.1270; FSA a.6 04.GN.1271; FSA a.6 04.GN.1272; FSA a.6 04.GN.1273; FSA a.6 04.GN.1274; FSA

2 Volumes

1 Volume (338 cyanotype prints; b&w; 16 cm. x 21.7 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

Scope and Contents:
The abbreviations used in captions of published photos are:

- AHI--Archaeological History of Iran, Herzfeld
- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 11", which was arranged by Ernst Herzfeld, provides 338 photographic prints which relate to field study of various architectural buildings and archaeological remains at Baghdad (Iraq), Kufa (Iraq), Hamadan (Iran), Sunghur (Iran), Asadabad (Iran), Alamut (Iran), Rayy (Iran), Tehran (Iran), Varamin (Iran), Qum (Iran), Qara Tepe (Iran), Isfahan (Iran), Linjan District (Iran), Pasargadae (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), Band-i Amir (Iran), Firuzabad (Iran), Shiraz (Iran), Island of Kharg (Iran), Na'in (Iran), Kerman (Iran), Sistan (Iran), and Zahedan (Iran).
- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

Arrangement: - Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 14 additional files in excess of the 21 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to

Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 4: Photographic Files; Persian Architecture (Cyanotypes File 11)
File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

4.11.2: Vol. 2, 1904-1934
188 Photographic prints (Volume two: 4 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
FSA A.6 04.PF.11.v2

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSG Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 11, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 188 photographic prints which relate to field study of various architectural buildings and archaeological remains at Isfahan (Iran), Linjan District (Iran), Pasargad (Iran), Naqsh-i Rustam (Iran), Band-i Amir (Iran), Firuzabad (Iran), Shiraz (Iran), Island of Kharg (Iran), Na'īn (Iran), Kerman (Iran), Sistan (Iran), and Zahedan (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."
- "Photo File 11, Volume 2" is composed of 188 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.0945; FSA a.6 04.GN.0956; FSA a.6 04.GN.1960; FSA a.6 04.GN.1958; FSA a.6 04.GN.1961; FSA a.6 04.GN.1959; FSA a.6 04.GN.1964; FSA a.6 04.GN.1962; FSA a.6 04.GN.1967; FSA a.6 04.GN.1963; FSA a.6 04.GN.1966; FSA a.6 04.GN.1969; FSA a.6 04.GN.1970; FSA a.6 04.GN.1965; FSA a.6 04.GN.1968; FSA a.6 04.GN.2116; FSA a.6 04.GN.2556; FSA a.6 04.GN.2557; FSA a.6 04.GN.2558; FSA a.6 04.GN.2559; FSA a.6 04.GN.2560; FSA a.6 04.GN.2561; FSA a.6 04.GN.2562; FSA a.6 04.GN.2563; FSA a.6 04.GN.2564; FSA a.6 04.GN.2565; FSA a.6 04.GN.2566; FSA a.6 04.GN.2567; FSA a.6 04.GN.2569; FSA a.6 04.GN.2568; FSA a.6 04.GN.2570; FSA a.6 04.GN.2571; FSA a.6 04.GN.2573; FSA a.6 04.GN.2572; FSA a.6 04.GN.2576; FSA a.6 04.GN.2575; FSA a.6 04.GN.2574; FSA a.6 04.GN.2541a; FSA a.6 04.GN.0955; FSA a.6 04.GN.2577; FSA a.6 04.GN.2578; FSA a.6 04.GN.0946; FSA a.6 04.GN.1972; FSA a.6 04.GN.2579; FSA a.6 04.GN.2580; FSA a.6 04.GN.0953; FSA a.6 04.GN.1971; FSA a.6 04.GN.2581; FSA a.6 04.GN.2582; FSA a.6 04.GN.2583; FSA a.6 04.GN.2585; FSA a.6 04.GN.2584; FSA a.6 04.GN.2586; FSA a.6 04.GN.2590; FSA a.6 04.GN.2591; FSA a.6 04.GN.2588; FSA a.6 04.GN.2587; FSA a.6 04.GN.2589; FSA a.6 04.GN.2593; FSA a.6 04.GN.2592; FSA a.6 04.GN.2594; FSA a.6 04.GN.2595; FSA a.6 04.GN.2500; FSA a.6 04.GN.0952; FSA a.6 04.GN.2596; FSA a.6 04.GN.2597; FSA a.6 04.GN.0951; FSA a.6 04.GN.2599; FSA a.6 04.GN.2598; FSA a.6 04.GN.2600; FSA a.6 04.GN.2601; FSA a.6 04.GN.2602; FSA a.6 04.GN.2603; FSA a.6 04.GN.2604; FSA a.6 04.GN.2605; FSA a.6 04.GN.2606; FSA a.6 04.GN.2607; FSA a.6 04.GN.2608; FSA a.6 04.GN.2609; FSA a.6 04.GN.2610; FSA a.6 04.GN.2611; FSA a.6 04.GN.2612; FSA a.6 04.GN.2613; FSA a.6 04.GN.2614; FSA a.6 04.GN.2616; FSA a.6 04.GN.2618; FSA a.6 04.GN.2620; FSA a.6 04.GN.2617; FSA a.6 04.GN.2619; FSA a.6 04.GN.2621; FSA a.6 04.GN.2622; FSA a.6 04.GN.2623; FSA a.6 04.GN.2624; FSA a.6 04.GN.2626; FSA a.6 04.GN.2629; FSA a.6 04.GN.2627a; FSA a.6 04.GN.2628; FSA a.6 04.GN.2627; FSA a.6 04.GN.2631; FSA a.6 04.GN.2630; FSA a.6 04.GN.2631a; FSA a.6 04.GN.2615; FSA a.6 04.GN.2632; FSA a.6 04.GN.2633; FSA a.6 04.GN.2637; FSA a.6 04.GN.2638; FSA a.6 04.GN.2635; FSA a.6 04.GN.2636; FSA a.6 04.GN.2634; FSA a.6 04.GN.2744; FSA a.6 04.GN.2646; FSA a.6 04.GN.2647; FSA a.6 04.GN.2648; FSA a.6 04.GN.2640; FSA a.6 04.GN.2639; FSA a.6 04.GN.2641; FSA a.6 04.GN.2642; FSA a.6 04.GN.2645; FSA a.6 04.GN.2643; FSA a.6 04.GN.2644; FSA a.6 04.GN.1973; FSA a.6 04.GN.1974; FSA a.6 04.GN.2649; FSA a.6 04.GN.1975; FSA a.6 04.GN.2656; FSA a.6 04.GN.2653; FSA a.6 04.GN.2654; FSA a.6 04.GN.2655; FSA a.6 04.GN.2651; FSA a.6 04.GN.2650; FSA a.6 04.GN.2652; FSA a.6 04.GN.2711; FSA a.6 04.GN.1976; FSA a.6 04.GN.2657; FSA a.6 04.GN.2658; FSA a.6 04.GN.2660; FSA a.6 04.GN.2659; FSA a.6 04.GN.1063; FSA a.6 04.GN.1067;

FSA A.6 04.PF.12: Ernst Herzfeld Papers, Series 4: Photographic Files; Syrian Inscriptions (Photo File 12), 1904-1946
128 Photographic prints (Volume one: 3 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
Language: Undetermined.
FSA A.6 04.PF.12
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series.
labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- "Photo File 12", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 128 photographic prints of Arabic, Aramaic, Greek, and Samaritan inscriptions found at Tripoli (Lebanon), Damascus (Syria), and Palmyra (Syria), as well as family portraits of Moritz Sobernheim and Ernst Herzfeld.

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 12" is composed of 128 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.3210; FSA a.6 04.GN.3189; FSA a.6 04.GN.3190; FSA a.6 04.GN.3197; FSA a.6 04.GN.3212; FSA a.6 04.GN.3211; FSA a.6 04.GN.3856; FSA a.6 04.GN.3862; FSA a.6 04.GN.3865; FSA a.6 04.GN.3547; FSA a.6 04.GN.3550; FSA a.6 04.GN.3422; FSA a.6 04.GN.3546; FSA a.6 04.GN.3859; FSA a.6 04.GN.3858; FSA a.6 04.GN.3861; FSA a.6 04.GN.3860; FSA a.6 04.GN.3863; FSA a.6 04.GN.3864; FSA a.6 04.GN.3579; FSA a.6 04.GN.3582; FSA a.6 04.GN.3425; FSA a.6 04.GN.3541; FSA a.6 04.GN.3424; FSA a.6 04.GN.3544; FSA a.6 04.GN.3545; FSA a.6 04.GN.3548; FSA a.6 04.GN.3539; FSA a.6 04.GN.3532; FSA a.6 04.GN.3533; FSA a.6 04.GN.3451; FSA a.6 04.GN.3453; FSA a.6 04.GN.3454; FSA a.6 04.GN.3456; FSA a.6 04.GN.3457; FSA a.6 04.GN.3391; FSA a.6 04.GN.3860; FSA a.6 04.GN.3406; FSA a.6 04.GN.3423; FSA a.6 04.GN.3401; FSA a.6 04.GN.3403; FSA a.6 04.GN.3400; FSA a.6 04.GN.3404; FSA

Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 13, Volume 1", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 137 photographic prints of antiquities; silver, copper, bronze, stone, bone, and clay objects; amulets, buttons and seals; tablets as well as pottery with painted patterns (geometric ornaments and animal design), from Bujnurd (Iran), Constantinople (Turkey), Nihavand (Iran), Baghdad (Iraq), Kufa (Iraq), the prehistoric mound of Tepe Giyan (Iran), Luristan province (Iran), Hamadan (Iran), and Kuh-e Khwaja (Iran), Rayy (Iran), and from the Museum of Shah, Tehran (Iran).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located.

- "Photo File 13, Volume 1" is composed of 137 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.0020; FSA a.6 04.GN.0021; FSA a.6 04.GN.0021a; FSA a.6 04.GN.0022; FSA a.6 04.GN.0138; FSA a.6 04.GN.0139; FSA a.6 04.GN.0140; FSA a.6 04.GN.0141; FSA a.6 04.GN.0142; FSA a.6 04.GN.0143; FSA a.6 04.GN.0144; FSA a.6 04.GN.0145; FSA a.6 04.GN.0146; FSA a.6 04.GN.0147; FSA a.6 04.GN.0149; FSA a.6 04.GN.0150; FSA a.6 04.GN.0151; FSA a.6 04.GN.0152; FSA a.6 04.GN.0153; FSA a.6 04.GN.0154; FSA a.6 04.GN.0155; FSA a.6 04.GN.0156; FSA a.6 04.GN.0157; FSA a.6 04.GN.0158; FSA a.6 04.GN.0159; FSA a.6 04.GN.0160; FSA a.6 04.GN.0210; FSA a.6 04.GN.0211; FSA a.6 04.GN.0212; FSA a.6 04.GN.0213; FSA a.6 04.GN.0214; FSA a.6 04.GN.0215; FSA a.6 04.GN.0216; FSA a.6 04.GN.0217; FSA a.6 04.GN.0218; FSA a.6 04.GN.0219; FSA a.6 04.GN.0220; FSA a.6 04.GN.0221; FSA a.6 04.GN.0222; FSA a.6 04.GN.0223; FSA a.6 04.GN.0224; FSA a.6 04.GN.0225; FSA a.6 04.GN.0226; FSA a.6 04.GN.0227; FSA a.6 04.GN.0228; FSA a.6 04.GN.0229; FSA a.6 04.GN.0230; FSA a.6 04.GN.0231; FSA a.6 04.GN.0232; FSA a.6 04.GN.0233; FSA a.6 04.GN.0237; FSA a.6 04.GN.0238; FSA a.6 04.GN.0239; FSA a.6 04.GN.0329; FSA a.6 04.GN.0330; FSA a.6 04.GN.0331; FSA a.6 04.GN.0332; FSA a.6 04.GN.0333; FSA a.6 04.GN.0423; FSA a.6 04.GN.0436; FSA a.6 04.GN.0437; FSA a.6 04.GN.0438; FSA a.6 04.GN.0439; FSA a.6 04.GN.0440; FSA a.6 04.GN.0441; FSA a.6 04.GN.0442; FSA a.6 04.GN.0443; FSA a.6 04.GN.0444; FSA a.6 04.GN.0445; FSA a.6 04.GN.0446; FSA a.6 04.GN.0447; FSA a.6 04.GN.0718; FSA a.6 04.GN.0738; FSA a.6 04.GN.1038; FSA a.6 04.GN.1039; FSA a.6 04.GN.1040; FSA a.6 04.GN.1047; FSA a.6 04.GN.1048; FSA a.6 04.GN.1049; FSA a.6 04.GN.1099; FSA a.6 04.GN.1100; FSA a.6 04.GN.1101; FSA a.6 04.GN.1103; FSA a.6 04.GN.1104; FSA a.6 04.GN.1105; FSA a.6 04.GN.1106; FSA a.6 04.GN.1107; FSA a.6 04.GN.1108; FSA a.6 04.GN.1109; FSA a.6 04.GN.1132; FSA a.6 04.GN.1133; FSA a.6 04.GN.1134; FSA a.6 04.GN.1138; FSA a.6 04.GN.1139; FSA a.6 04.GN.1143; FSA a.6 04.GN.1149; FSA a.6 04.GN.1153; FSA a.6 04.GN.1155; FSA a.6 04.GN.1177; FSA a.6 04.GN.1197; FSA a.6 04.GN.1198; FSA a.6 04.GN.1199; FSA a.6 04.GN.1200; FSA a.6 04.GN.1411; FSA a.6 04.GN.1203; FSA a.6 04.GN.1204; FSA a.6 04.GN.1307; FSA a.6 04.GN.1308; FSA

4.13.2: Vol. 2, 1904-1934
139 Photographic prints (Volume two: 3 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
FSA A.6 04.PF.13.v2
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- "Photo File 13, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 139 photographic prints of antiquities; silver, copper, bronze, stone, and wood objects; as well as pottery from Baznagird (Iran), Zenjan (Iran), Isfahan (Iran), Ctesiphon (Iraq), Daghestan (Iran), and from the Museum of Shah, Tehran (Iran).
- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 13, Volume 2" is composed of 139 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.1332; FSA a.6 04.GN.1333; FSA a.6 04.GN.1334; FSA a.6 04.GN.1335; FSA a.6 04.GN.1336; FSA a.6 04.GN.1337; FSA a.6 04.GN.1338; FSA a.6 04.GN.1339; FSA a.6 04.GN.1340; FSA a.6 04.GN.1341; FSA a.6 04.GN.1342; FSA a.6 04.GN.1343; FSA a.6 04.GN.1344; FSA a.6 04.GN.1345; FSA a.6 04.GN.1346; FSA a.6 04.GN.1347; FSA a.6 04.GN.1348; FSA a.6 04.GN.1349; FSA a.6 04.GN.1350; FSA a.6 04.GN.1351; FSA a.6 04.GN.1352; FSA a.6 04.GN.1353; FSA a.6 04.GN.1354; FSA a.6 04.GN.1355; FSA a.6 04.GN.1356; FSA a.6 04.GN.1357; FSA a.6 04.GN.1358; FSA a.6 04.GN.1359; FSA a.6 04.GN.1360; FSA a.6 04.GN.1361; FSA a.6 04.GN.1362; FSA a.6 04.GN.1363; FSA a.6 04.GN.1364; FSA a.6 04.GN.1365; FSA a.6 04.GN.1366; FSA a.6 04.GN.1367; FSA a.6 04.GN.1368; FSA a.6 04.GN.1369; FSA a.6 04.GN.1370; FSA a.6 04.GN.1371; FSA a.6 04.GN.1372; FSA a.6 04.GN.1373; FSA a.6 04.GN.1374; FSA a.6 04.GN.1375; FSA a.6 04.GN.1381; FSA a.6 04.GN.1387; FSA a.6 04.GN.1388; FSA a.6 04.GN.1389; FSA a.6 04.GN.1390; FSA a.6 04.GN.1391; FSA a.6 04.GN.1392; FSA a.6 04.GN.1393; FSA a.6 04.GN.1394; FSA a.6 04.GN.1395; FSA a.6 04.GN.1396; FSA a.6 04.GN.1397; FSA a.6 04.GN.1398; FSA a.6 04.GN.1399; FSA a.6 04.GN.1400; FSA a.6 04.GN.1401; FSA a.6 04.GN.1402; FSA a.6 04.GN.1403; FSA a.6 04.GN.1404; FSA a.6 04.GN.1405; FSA a.6 04.GN.1406; FSA a.6 04.GN.1407; FSA a.6 04.GN.1408; FSA a.6 04.GN.1409; FSA a.6 04.GN.1410; FSA a.6 04.GN.1202; FSA a.6 04.GN.1412; FSA a.6 04.GN.1413; FSA a.6 04.GN.1414; FSA a.6 04.GN.1415; FSA a.6 04.GN.1416; FSA a.6 04.GN.1417; FSA a.6 04.GN.1418; FSA a.6 04.GN.1419; FSA a.6 04.GN.1420; FSA a.6 04.GN.1421; FSA a.6 04.GN.1422; FSA a.6 04.GN.1423; FSA a.6 04.GN.1424; FSA a.6 04.GN.1425; FSA a.6 04.GN.1426; FSA a.6 04.GN.1427; FSA a.6 04.GN.1428; FSA a.6 04.GN.1429; FSA a.6 04.GN.1430; FSA a.6 04.GN.1431; FSA a.6 04.GN.1432; FSA a.6 04.GN.1433; FSA a.6 04.GN.1434; FSA a.6 04.GN.1435; FSA a.6 04.GN.1436; FSA a.6 04.GN.1437; FSA a.6 04.GN.1438; FSA a.6 04.GN.1439; FSA a.6 04.GN.1440; FSA a.6 04.GN.1441; FSA a.6 04.GN.1442; FSA a.6 04.GN.1443; FSA a.6 04.GN.1444; FSA a.6 04.GN.1445; FSA a.6 04.GN.1446; FSA a.6 04.GN.1447; FSA a.6 04.GN.1448; FSA a.6 04.GN.1453; FSA a.6 04.GN.1454; FSA a.6 04.GN.1455;

61 Photographic prints (Volume three: 2 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
31 Photographic prints (Volume three (addition): 1 folder; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator:  Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
   FSA A.6 04.PF.13.v3
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.
- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- "Photo File 13, Volume 3", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 92 photographic prints of antiquities; silver, copper, bronze, stone, bone, and clay objects; amulets, buttons and seals; papyrus and manuscripts; as well as pottery with painted patterns (geometric ornaments and animal design), from Hims (Syria), Damascus (Syria), Baghdad (Iraq), and from the Arab Museum, Cairo (Egypt) and the Museum of Shah, Tehran (Iran).
- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 13, Volume 3" is composed of 61 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.2127; FSA a.6 04.GN.2128; FSA a.6 04.GN.2129; FSA a.6 04.GN.2131; FSA a.6 04.GN.2130; FSA a.6 04.GN.2132; FSA a.6 04.GN.2133; FSA a.6 04.GN.2134; FSA a.6 04.GN.2135; FSA a.6 04.GN.2136; FSA a.6 04.GN.2164; FSA a.6 04.GN.2144; FSA a.6 04.GN.2145; FSA a.6 04.GN.2146; FSA a.6 04.GN.2165; FSA a.6 04.GN.2166; FSA a.6 04.GN.2167; FSA a.6 04.GN.2168; FSA a.6 04.GN.3183; FSA a.6 04.GN.3184; FSA a.6 04.GN.3185; FSA a.6 04.GN.3186; FSA a.6 04.GN.3187; FSA a.6 04.GN.3192; FSA a.6 04.GN.3193; FSA a.6 04.GN.3194; FSA a.6 04.GN.3195; FSA a.6 04.GN.3196; FSA a.6 04.GN.3198; FSA a.6 04.GN.3204; FSA a.6 04.GN.3205; FSA a.6 04.GN.3206; FSA a.6 04.GN.3207; FSA a.6 04.GN.3209; FSA a.6 04.GN.3216; FSA a.6 04.GN.3233; FSA a.6 04.GN.3234; FSA a.6 04.GN.3235; FSA a.6 04.GN.3236; FSA a.6 04.GN.3237; FSA a.6 04.GN.3238; FSA a.6 04.GN.3239; FSA a.6 04.GN.3256; FSA a.6 04.GN.3257; FSA a.6 04.GN.3258; FSA a.6 04.GN.3259; FSA a.6 04.GN.3261; FSA a.6 04.GN.3536; FSA a.6 04.GN.3740; FSA a.6 04.GN.3720; FSA a.6 04.GN.3775; FSA a.6 04.GN.3851; FSA a.6 04.GN.3853; FSA a.6 04.GN.3854; FSA a.6 04.GN.3867; FSA a.6 04.GN.3868; FSA a.6 04.GN.3869; FSA a.6 04.GN.3870; FSA a.6 04.GN.3871; FSA a.6 04.GN.3872; FSA a.6 04.GN.3878."

- At the end of "Photo File 13, Volume 3," Joseph Upton has added 31 photographic prints. Thirteen of these prints have a negative number including nine that are related to the glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.3945; FSA a.6 04.GN.5013; FSA a.6 04.GN.3960; FSA a.6 04.GN.5535; FSA a.6 04.GN.5536; FSA a.6 04.GN.5533; FSA a.6 04.GN.5534; FSA a.6 04.GN.3959; FSA a.6 04.GN.3850; FSA a.6 04.GN.5005; FSA a.6 04.GN.5002; FSA a.6 04.GN.5000; FSA a.6 04.GN.5001."

Corpus--Matériaux pour un Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicarum, Part II, Tome II, vol.3, Plates. Herzfeld
SA-II--Ars Islamica, X (1943), "Damascus: Studies in Architecture, II," Herzfeld

168 Photographic prints (Volume one: 3 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst. 1879-1948
FSA A.6 04.PF.14.v1
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 14, Volume 1", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 168 photographic prints which relate to field study of various archaeological sites and architectural buildings, as well as Arabic inscriptions from Ma'arat al-Nu'man (Syria), Sarmin (Syria), Hama (Syria), Hisn Akkar and Hisn al-Akrad (Syria), Der'a (Syria), Marathus (Extinct city), Jerusalem, Cairo (Egypt), Amman (Jordan), Petra (Jordan), and Baalbeck (Lebanon).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 14, Volume 1" is composed of 168 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.3199; FSA a.6 04.GN.3372; FSA a.6 04.GN.3251; FSA a.6 04.GN.3371; FSA a.6 04.GN.3376; FSA a.6 04.GN.3376a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3836; FSA a.6 04.GN.3836a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3835; FSA a.6 04.GN.3837; FSA a.6 04.GN.3833; FSA a.6 04.GN.3834; FSA a.6 04.GN.3834a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3375; FSA a.6 04.GN.3375a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3368; FSA a.6 04.GN.3367; FSA a.6 04.GN.3369; FSA a.6 04.GN.3370; FSA a.6 04.GN.3370a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3373; FSA a.6 04.GN.3373a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3374; FSA a.6 04.GN.3366; FSA a.6 04.GN.3365; FSA a.6 04.GN.33692; FSA a.6 04.GN.3691; FSA a.6 04.GN.3332; FSA a.6 04.GN.3415; FSA a.6 04.GN.3418; FSA a.6 04.GN.3418a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3114; FSA a.6 04.GN.3116; FSA a.6 04.GN.3414; FSA a.6 04.GN.3408; FSA a.6 04.GN.3409; FSA a.6 04.GN.3409a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3105; FSA a.6 04.GN.3412; FSA a.6 04.GN.3413; FSA a.6 04.GN.3107; FSA a.6 04.GN.3118; FSA a.6 04.GN.3106; FSA a.6 04.GN.3420; FSA a.6 04.GN.3117; FSA a.6 04.GN.3104; FSA a.6 04.GN.3112; FSA a.6 04.GN.3410; FSA a.6 04.GN.3410a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3421; FSA a.6 04.GN.3421a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3110; FSA a.6 04.GN.3109; FSA a.6 04.GN.3108; FSA a.6 04.GN.3416; FSA a.6 04.GN.3416a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3411; FSA a.6 04.GN.3411a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3419; FSA a.6 04.GN.3419a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3113; FSA

Baalbeck (Lebanon): Umayyad Mosque within the Citadel: View of Arabic Inscription No. XXIX, in Naskhi Mameluke Script. 1899-1914. 13 cm. x 18 cm. As early as 1893, Ernst Herzfeld, Moritz Sobernheim, and Max Freiherr von Oppenheim participated in Max Van Berchem's project to create a Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicarum. During the following 25 years, research materials such as glass negatives, photographic prints, drawings, maps, and notebooks were circulating among the four archaeologists. In the case of this glass negative, it may have been taken by Moritz Sobernheim on a visit to Baalbeck between 1899 and 1905, as mentioned in his 1922 publication, "Baalbek in Islamischer Zeit, in Voradruck aus dem Werke: Baalbek, Ergebnisse der Ausgrabungen und Untersuchungen in den Jahren 1898 bis 1905, Vol. 3." Handwritten notes accompanying related print in photo file 14, vol. 2 reads, "Baalb. XXIX."

Additional information from staff reads, "Under the Ayyubids (1175-1250) and the Mamluks (1279-1516), Baalbek witnessed a revival of its political and economic role. To defend the city from crusader attacks, the Ayyubids built a citadel on the site of the temples of Jupiter and Bacchus, which continued to be used during the Mamluk period. Of this citadel and the town that existed within, the fortification wall, a gate, the towers and a mosque remain. Outside the fortified citadel, the old Shiite Mosque, the great and the small Ras al-Ain Mosques, Qubbat al-Amjad, Qubbat Douris and Qubbat as-Saadin were constructed." Additional information from Staff reads, "Glass negative is missing."

Most were probably taken by Herzfeld 1908--914 or 1914--0, during the periods when he and Sobernheim, or he alone, were recording inscriptions on and near Aleppo. Herzfeld traveled also in Palestine and other places in Syria. Unless the prints are labelled, the locations are uncertain, though probably in Palestine or Syria.</td>

<td>- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled &quot;Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II.&quot; The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.</td>

The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation</td>

SA-IV--Ars Islamica, XIII-XIV (1948) "Damascus: Studies in Architecture, IV. The Mosque"

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 15", which was arranged by Ernst Herzfeld, provides 313 photographic prints which relate to field study of various architectural buildings as well as Arabic inscriptions at Aleppo (Syria).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Ernst Herzfeld Papers; Cyanotypes File 15" is composed of 313 cyanotype prints (blueprints), made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.3808; FSA a.6 04.GN.3804; FSA a.6 04.GN.3804a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3382; FSA a.6 04.GN.3059; FSA a.6 04.GN.3054; FSA a.6 04.GN.3052; FSA a.6 04.GN.3055; FSA a.6 04.GN.3349; FSA a.6 04.GN.3347; FSA a.6 04.GN.3354; FSA a.6 04.GN.3355; FSA a.6 04.GN.3053; FSA a.6 04.GN.3065; FSA a.6 04.GN.2765; FSA a.6 04.GN.3385; FSA a.6 04.GN.3056; FSA a.6 04.GN.3379; FSA a.6 04.GN.3384; FSA a.6 04.GN.3387; FSA a.6 04.GN.3387a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3388; FSA a.6 04.GN.2770; FSA a.6 04.GN.2768; FSA a.6 04.GN.3386; FSA a.6 04.GN.3066; FSA a.6 04.GN.2775; FSA a.6 04.GN.3497; FSA a.6 04.GN.3063; FSA a.6 04.GN.3062; FSA a.6 04.GN.3377; FSA a.6 04.GN.3317; FSA a.6 04.GN.3068; FSA a.6 04.GN.3060; FSA a.6 04.GN.3380; FSA a.6 04.GN.3061a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3061b; FSA a.6 04.GN.3383; FSA a.6 04.GN.3381; FSA a.6 04.GN.3746; FSA a.6 04.GN.3749; FSA a.6 04.GN.3320; FSA a.6 04.GN.3318; FSA a.6 04.GN.3752; FSA a.6 04.GN.3316; FSA a.6 04.GN.3319; FSA a.6 04.GN.3378; FSA a.6 04.GN.3315; FSA a.6 04.GN.3751; FSA a.6 04.GN.3266; FSA a.6 04.GN.3348; FSA a.6 04.GN.3352; FSA a.6 04.GN.3739; FSA a.6 04.GN.3742; FSA a.6 04.GN.3679; FSA a.6 04.GN.3312; FSA a.6 04.GN.3275; FSA a.6 04.GN.3264; FSA a.6 04.GN.3290; FSA a.6 04.GN.3686; FSA a.6 04.GN.3274; FSA a.6 04.GN.3273; FSA a.6 04.GN.3268; FSA a.6 04.GN.3270; FSA a.6 04.GN.3269; FSA a.6 04.GN.3272; FSA a.6 04.GN.3265; FSA a.6 04.GN.2729; FSA a.6 04.GN.3276; FSA a.6 04.GN.3277; FSA a.6 04.GN.3267; FSA a.6 04.GN.3299; FSA a.6 04.GN.3300; FSA a.6 04.GN.3271; FSA a.6 04.GN.3747; FSA a.6 04.GN.3748; FSA a.6 04.GN.3103; FSA a.6 04.GN.3741; FSA a.6 04.GN.3740; FSA a.6 04.GN.3313; FSA a.6 04.GN.3744; FSA
- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 14 additional files in excess of the 21 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 15, Volume 1", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 189 photographic prints which relate to field study of various architectural buildings, as well as Arabic inscriptions from Aleppo (Syria).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 15, Volume 1" is composed of 189 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.3808; FSA a.6 04.GN.3804; FSA a.6 04.GN.3804a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3382; FSA a.6 04.GN.3059; FSA a.6 04.GN.3054; FSA a.6 04.GN.3052; FSA a.6 04.GN.3055; FSA a.6 04.GN.3349; FSA a.6 04.GN.3347; FSA a.6 04.GN.3354; FSA a.6 04.GN.3355; FSA a.6 04.GN.3053; FSA a.6 04.GN.3065; FSA a.6 04.GN.2765; FSA a.6 04.GN.3385; FSA a.6 04.GN.3386; FSA a.6 04.GN.3387; FSA a.6 04.GN.3387a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3388; FSA a.6 04.GN.2770; FSA a.6 04.GN.2768; FSA a.6 04.GN.3386; FSA a.6 04.GN.3066; FSA a.6 04.GN.2775; FSA a.6 04.GN.3497; FSA a.6 04.GN.3063; FSA a.6 04.GN.3062; FSA a.6 04.GN.3377; FSA a.6 04.GN.3317; FSA a.6 04.GN.3378; FSA a.6 04.GN.3330; FSA a.6 04.GN.3348;

- Additional information from Staff reads, "Mashhad al-Husayn today is actually a reconstructed building. The original structure was badly damaged by a massive explosion in 1918 (the shrine had been used to store ammunition since the end of World War I) and remained in ruins for about forty years. All Herzfeld photographs are from the original building."

38 Photographic prints (Volume two (addition): 1 folder; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)

Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948
FSA A.6 04.PF.15.v2

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.
- "Photo File 15, Volume 2", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 162 photographic prints which relate to field study of various architectural buildings, as well as Arabic inscriptions from Aleppo (Syria).
- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 15, Volume 2" is composed of 124 photographic prints, made from the following glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.3155; FSA a.6 04.GN.3132; FSA a.6 04.GN.3166; FSA a.6 04.GN.3160; FSA a.6 04.GN.3167; FSA a.6 04.GN.3163; FSA a.6 04.GN.3168; FSA a.6 04.GN.3159; FSA a.6 04.GN.3346; FSA a.6 04.GN.3363; FSA a.6 04.GN.3644; FSA a.6 04.GN.3138; FSA a.6 04.GN.3136; FSA a.6 04.GN.3135; FSA a.6 04.GN.3504; FSA a.6 04.GN.3505; FSA a.6 04.GN.3508; FSA a.6 04.GN.3509; FSA a.6 04.GN.3510; FSA a.6 04.GN.3506; FSA a.6 04.GN.3507; FSA a.6 04.GN.3249; FSA a.6 04.GN.3169; FSA a.6 04.GN.3172; FSA a.6 04.GN.3170; FSA a.6 04.GN.3133; FSA a.6 04.GN.3137; FSA a.6 04.GN.3135; FSA a.6 04.GN.3364; FSA a.6 04.GN.3142; FSA a.6 04.GN.3490; FSA a.6 04.GN.3491; FSA a.6 04.GN.3334; FSA a.6 04.GN.3460; FSA a.6 04.GN.3460a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3328; FSA a.6 04.GN.3458; FSA a.6 04.GN.3165; FSA a.6 04.GN.3161; FSA a.6 04.GN.2763; FSA a.6 04.GN.3173; FSA a.6 04.GN.3174; FSA a.6 04.GN.3171; FSA a.6 04.GN.3487; FSA a.6 04.GN.3614; FSA a.6 04.GN.3705; FSA a.6 04.GN.3708; FSA a.6 04.GN.3476; FSA a.6 04.GN.3807; FSA a.6 04.GN.3806; FSA a.6 04.GN.3715; FSA a.6 04.GN.3712; FSA a.6 04.GN.3711; FSA a.6 04.GN.3714; FSA a.6 04.GN.3713; FSA a.6 04.GN.3390; FSA a.6 04.GN.3389; FSA a.6 04.GN.3473; FSA a.6 04.GN.3473a; FSA a.6 04.GN.3709;

4.15.3: Vol. 3, 1904-1934
217 Photographic prints (Volume one: 3 folders; b&w; 29.2 cm. x 22.8 cm.)
Creator: Herzfeld, Ernst, 1879-1948

FSA A.6 04.PF.15.v3

- Of most of his 3,890 glass negatives, Herzfeld had blueprints made which he arranged in 16 binders irrespective of the number on the negative. In addition to the 16 blueprint binders, he assembled 5 albums including two from the Samarra series labelled "Paläste und Moscheen-I and -II." The remainder of the photographs, from glass negatives and from cut films, sometimes identified by Herzfeld, were printed en masse for study purpose (labelled by Upton as duplicate prints) and which are, for the most part, unpublished. For his own research, Herzfeld also collected prints from many sources. Of those there are no negatives. Finally, in early 1970s, Joseph Upton reorganized the whole Herzfeld collection of photographic prints into 42 photographic files, assembling 10 additional files in excess of the 24 existing files arranged by Herzfeld himself. The eight remaining files, File 35 to File 42, are made of duplicate prints provided by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

- Title is provided by Xavier Courouble, FSg Archives cataloger, based on Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive.

- "Photo File 15, Volume 3", which was assembled by Joseph Upton, provides 217 photographic prints which relate to field study of various architectural buildings, as well as Arabic inscriptions from Aleppo (Syria).

- Additional information from Joseph Upton's Catalogue of the Herzfeld Archive reads, "The prints are from three sources: (1) those from glass negatives; (2) those from cut film; and (3) those for which there are no negatives. The Archive contains Herzfeld's glass negatives, numbered from 1 to 3850. Of most of these he had blueprints made which he had arranged in 16 binders by general categories, irrespective of the number on the negative. These formed the nucleus for the preparation of the Photo Files. The 16 binders of blueprints have been replaced by Photo Files, Nos. 1-16. The prints in each File are arranged in the same order as the blueprints; and the number of the negative is enclosed in parentheses. Following a brief identification, is a reference to the place where the print has been published, if that is the case and such publication has been located."

- "Photo File 15, Volume 3," is composed of 217 photographic prints, mostly from Herzfeld's study collection of photographs, which were added to this file by Joseph Upton. A few are related to the glass plates, "FSA a.6 04.GN.3912; FSA a.6 04.GN.3737; FSA a.6 04.GN.3619; FSA a.6 04.GN.3269; FSA a.6 04.GN.5507; FSA a.6 04.GN.5508; FSA a.6 04.GN.5520;

The monuments and inscriptions of Northern Syria were surveyed and collected between 1908 and 1914 by Moritz Sobernheim and Ernst Herzfeld as part of a broader project, sponsored by the Institut de France, that of Max
van Berchem’s "Matériaux pour un Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicarum." The drawings are related to this survey as well as additional expeditions to Aleppo (Syria) carried out by Ernst Herzfeld in 1907, 1908, 1910, 1914, 1916, 1917, 1918, and 1930.

- Handwritten caption accompanying Print 94-1 reads
"Aleppo. Shu'aibiyya. Great cornice. Film 5208."
