Collection Overview

Repository:	Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery Archives
Title:	Raymond A. Hare Photographs
Date:	1930s -1960s
Identifier:	FSA.A1989.03
Creator:	Hare, Raymond A.
Extent:	6 Linear feet (2300 photographs)
Language:	English .
Summary:	Ambassador Raymond A. Hare (1901-1994) created this collection to document the architecture, cities, and landscapes of the Middle East, including Afghanistan, Egypt, Greece, Iraq, Jordan, Israel and Palestine, Iran, Syria, Turkey, and Yemen. A photograph album of 90 silver-gelatin photographs depicts minarets in Cairo, Egypt, with annotations in Arabic and English describing the date and title of each minaret. Two portfolios of photographs presented to Ambassador Hare in 1965 by the senior staff of the U.S. Agency for International Development Mission to Turkey to commemorate his service as Ambassador to Turkey from 1961-1965. Included are 52 matted photographs, many signed by the photographer Ara Guler and dated and captioned, documenting the art and architecture of the Seljuks and the Armenians at the Armenian center of Ani. The slides, 1930s - 1960s, created by Hare document Islamic architecture and people and place views of North Africa, Turkey, Egypt, and Syria.

Biographical / Historical

Ambassador Raymond A. Hare was born in 1901 in Martinsburg, West Virginia and raised in Manchester, Iowa and Boothbay Harbor, Maine. He received a B.A. from Grinnell College in 1924 and joined the Foreign Service in 1927. He retired in 1966 and throughout his career Hare served as U.S. ambassador to Egypt, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Turkey, and the United Arab Republic. He also served as the director general of the U.S. Foreign Service (1956-1958) and was affiliated with the Middle East Institute in Washington, D.C. as its president (1966-1969), national chairman (1969-1976), and chairman emeritus starting in 1976. As an amateur photographer, Hare documented Islamic architecture during his extensive travels in the Middle East, especially in Egypt, Syria, and Turkey. Ambassador Raymond A. Hare died of pneumonia on February 9, 1994.

Container Listing

Series 1: Notes, Turkey

Scope and Contents: MBS copied many of Hare's slides for the Islamic Archives and this collection was erroneously housed with the Smith Collection. This collection represents Hare's original slides and the notes he kept about the sites and his visits. Hare donated it to the Freer subsequent to the MBS donation and it is not included in the 1983 inventory of the Smith Islamic Archives. The Notes were contained in loose leaf notebooks or in envelopes. The original order of the notes and miscellaneous loose items is retained. The notes include information from published sources, maps, newspaper clippings, commercial photographs and dated comments about visits made by Hare and photographs he took.

Series 3: Egypt Notes; Slide Lists

Scope and Contents: MBS copied many of Hare's slides for the Islamic Archives but this collection represents Hare's original slides and the notes he kept about the sites and his visits. Hare donated it to the Freer subsequent to the MBS donation and it is not included in the 1983 inventory of the Smith Islamic Archives. The Notes were contained in loose leaf notebooks or in envelopes. The original order of the notes and miscellaneous loose items is retained. The notes include information from published sources, maps, newspaper clippings, commercial photographs and dated comments about visits made by Hare and photographs he took.

Hare noted site and other information on the cardboard slide mounts. Most mounts are also stamped by Kodak with processing date. The slides were stored in metal and plastic trays and often these included lists keyed to the position of the slide in the tray. In such cases the slot number is noted in pencil on the slide mount.
