Biographical Note

Ives Goddard attended Harvard University (Ph.D., 1969) and taught there for several years. He was a linguist in the Smithsonian Department of Anthropology 1976-2007 and has been Senior Linguist Emeritus since 2007.

Scope and Contents

The papers are a miscellany that includes linguistic and ethnographic fieldnotes (1964-2005), teaching materials, student papers, papers for scholarly meetings, and research materials. There are handouts for an introductory course on Algonquian and papers and notes on Arapaho linguistic history, Conoy linguistics

(including a transcription of texts--Christian prayers copied from a book once belonging to Henry Harrison [1652-1700]), Delaware social organization and ceremonies, Malecite prosodics, Menominee phonetics (w-umlaut), and the Uto-Aztecan pronominal system. There is also a copy of a Yurok word list by Howard Berman and a copy of a manuscript on Alsea grammar by Leo J. Frachtenburg. Also included are Arapaho, English-Meskwaki, and Proto-Algonquian slip files; annotated printouts of draft editions of Meskwaki (Fox) manuscripts in the NAA; and transcriptions of sound recordings and texts.

Please note that the contents of the collection and the language and terminology used reflect the context and culture of the time of its creation. As an historical document, its contents may be at odds with contemporary views and terminology and considered offensive today. The information within this collection does not reflect the views of the Smithsonian Institution or National Anthropological Archives, but is available in its original form to facilitate research.
