Biographical Note

Carol F. Jopling received her doctorate in Anthropology in 1973 from the University of Massachusetts after completing her dissertation entitled Women Weavers of Yalalag: Their Art and Its Process. Prior to the field work for her dissertation, she visited Yalalag, Oaxaca in 1969 in order to study the art of the Zapotec people. She has long been interested in art, having taught courses in primitive and pre-Columbian art at the Catholic and American Universities in Washington, D.C. She also edited an anthology of articles about primitive art. It was published by E.P. Dutton in 1971 and titled, Art and Aesthics in Primitve Societies. Mrs. Jopling was a librarian for the Bureau of American Ethnology and the Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute in Panama.

Scope and Contents

The papers of Carol F. Jopling relate to her work as an instructor of primitive and Pre-Columbian art as well as her fieldwork in Yalalag, Oaxaca for her doctorate in Anthropology. The materials cover the years 1966-1975, the bulk being 1968-69. The collection can be divided into two sections. The first and smaller part contains correspondence relating to the publication of the book edited by Jopling in 1971. The second portion and bulk of the collection contains the materials relating to her work in Yalalag. This material contains correspondence, fieldnotes, photographs, color slides and cassette tape recordings. The majority consists of her fieldnotes and forms recording family history interviews and the results of the Welsh Figure Preference test. The fieldnotes often explain events which were photographed as well as describing the community life in Yalalag.

Please note that the contents of the collection and the language and terminology used reflect the context and culture of the time of its creation. As an historical document, its contents may be at odds with contemporary views and terminology and considered offensive today. The information within this collection does not reflect the views of the Smithsonian Institution or National Anthropological Archives, but is available in its original form to facilitate research.

Series 1: ART AND AESTHETICS CORRESPONDENCE, 1966-1972

2 Inches

Scope and Contents: Contains incoming and outgoing letters. Although there are a few personal letters interspersed, the majority concerns the process of publishing Art and Aesthetics in Primitive Societies. Also included are letters requesting permission to reproduce the articles and photographs contained in the book, publisher rejection letters, letters of congratulations or thanks for copies of the book, anonymous evaluations of the book sent by the publisher, and invoices of fees for duplication of articles and photographs. The letters were grouped together by Jopling according to the topic discussed within the contents of the letter. The majority were written to, or received from Cyril I. Nelson of E.P. Dutton, publisher of Art and Aesthetics in Primitive Societies. Other names include: Ronald M. Berndt, Henry Bascom Collins Jr., Brenda Gilchrist, Frank J. Malina, F. Clarke Newlon, Charlotte Otten, Harold K. Schneider, J. Zwernemann.

All folders contain letters requesting permission to reproduce the articles and photographs contained in the book.

Series 2: YALALAG CORRESPONDENCE, 1968-1975

*1 Inche ((1 inch))*Scope and Arranged Chronologically
Contents:

Contains incoming and outgoing correspondence in English and Spanish. Letters cover a variety of topics concerning Joplingâs work in Mexico. Also included are letters of introduction and miscellaneous letters to acquaintances. Of particular interest is an article on the Silver crosses of Oaxaca, a letter from Textile Museum in Washington D.C. acknowledging Joplingâs gift in Yalalag weaving, and letters from John Paddock discussing Joplingâs research in Mexico. Several of the letters are from residents of Yalalag, who are also referred to in the fieldnotes. These are Padre Apolinar, Carmelia Fabian, Augustina Fernandez, Roman Jimenez Mazas, Juan Alejo P., Agapito Fabian Santiago, and Nicodemus B. Vasquez. Others include Orin T. Howard and Kate Young (who is also referred to in the fieldnotes.)

Series 3: YALALAG WEAVERS WELSH FIGURE PREFERENCE TESTS AND FAMILY HISTORY INTERVIEWS

4 Inches

Scope and Contents: Contents include mimeographed forms on which scores of the Welsh Figure Preference Tests and Family History of individual weavers were recorded. Jopling assigned Numbers or letters to each weaver. The numbers/letters were used to identify weavers's photographs and test score sheets. Names, assigned number/letter and test scores were also recorded on 4x6 index cards, which were generally stapled to the family history interview forms. The forms were arranged numerically or alphabetically by the assigned number/letter. They were grouped together into folders which were labeled by Jopling as "Have Examples" and "Do Not have Examples" which seems to imply examples of weaving which had been or needed to be obtained by Jopling. The final folder contains mimeographed flowers, which were colored by the individual weavers and examples of their writing. Of particular importance is a list in file 5, which contains the weaver's names and their assigned number. Also included are various charts compiling tests and interview results.

Box 2, Folder 1	Welsh Figure Preference Test and Family history Interviews. Labeled "Have Examples"
Box 2, Folder 1	Includes numbers 1-2, 4-5, 11, 17-19, 21-24, 29-30, 32, 34, 38-42.

Series 5: FIELDNOTES ON YALALAG WEAVERS

5 Inches ((5 inches. 12 notebooks))

Scope and Contents: The fieldnotes contain 5 inches of typewritten notes, which are arranged alphabetically by subject and are transcriptions of the notebooks. The notebooks are, for the most part, arranged chronologically. However there are some subject entries within the notebooks. Many of the people and events, which were photographed or recorded on cassette tapes, are described in the fieldnotes.

The following people have extensive references: Agapita Poblano, Alicia Illescas, Augustina Fernandez, Aurelia Baltazar, Carmelia (?), Fabian Family, Francesca Dominquez, Hilaria Montez, Irene Matias, Limeta Family, Maria Zacharias, Rosenda Completo, Salustria (?), Shorter references to individuals can be found under the topic "Weavers".

Note: Individuals are arranged alphabetically by FIRST name.

Series 6: YALALAG TAPE RECORDINGS

15 Cassettes

Scope and Contents: The majority of the cassettes are recording of events attended by Jopling while she was in Mexico. They tend to alternate between speeches and music. There is a great deal of background noise from the crowds at the events. Many of the events are described extensively in the fieldnotes. The other tapes are interviews or conversations with various weavers in Yalalag. All conversations are in the local dialect. There are also references to these people in the fieldnotes.

Series 7: YALALAG PHOTOGRAPHS

Scope and Contents: The photographs are arranged by subject and include pictures of identified Yalalag weavers, events, examples of weaving and the waving process. The subjects photographed are often referred to in the fieldnotes. The largest group of photos is of the Yalalag weavers. These have been identified by Jopling and were labeled with their name and identification number given on the Welsh Figure Preference Tests found in Box 2. Some of these photos were arranged into groups of four with no apparent order and were photographed a second time. These have been labeled as Composite Photographs of Yalalag Weavers. On the composites certain names were checked or underlined. These pictures were then arranged into groups of two and photographed for a third time. However only negatives of the groups of two exist (box 10).

Series 9: COLOR SLIDES OF YALALAG

Scope and Contents: The slides are arranged alphabetically by subjects, which are parallel to those assigned to the photographs. Many of the slides duplicate individual photographs. Of particular interest is a set, which was number 1-52 by Jopling and appears to have been used as a slide presentation. Subjects in the slides are referred to in the fieldnotes.
