Language:	English .

Administrative Information

Provenance

The drawings in this collection were purchased from Charles Praetorius in two lots. The first group, consisting of 38 drawings of biological subjects, was commissioned by George Brown Goode, ichthyologist and Assistant Secretary in charge of the USNM, in 1889. The second group, consisting of drawings of ethnological subjects, was commissioned in 1893 for use in the World's Columbian Exposition. The ethnological drawings were accessioned by the USNM in March 1893 under 26851, but this number was subsequently cancelled. All drawings were later accessioned under 66766 in June 1921.

The drawings were transferred from the object collections of the Department of Anthropology to the National Anthropological Archives in 1970.

Processing Information

The drawings in this collection were previously cataloged by the National Anthropological Archives individually by their USNM Catalog Number.

The collection was reprocessed in 2023, and all drawings were incorporated into a single collection under MS 316516. The archivist replaced the titles previously assigned to the drawings and photographs with the titles and captions provided by the artist. Original spellings and capitalization were retained. Untitled drawings were assigned titles in square brackets []. The drawings were arranged in number order by their source album.

Restrictions

The collection is open for research.

Access to the collection requires an appointment.

Biographical Note

Charles Praetorius was a print-maker and photographer. Born in Vienna, he was employed by the British Museum to make photographs of works in the Museum and make photographs of prints and drawings in other British collections.

Biographical Note

John White (circa 1539 – circa 1593) was an English colonial governor, explorer, artist, and cartographer. White served as artist and mapmaker for Richard Grenville's expedition to colonize Roanoke Island in 1585. He later served as the governor of the second attempt to found Roanoke Colony on the same island in 1587 and discovered the colonists had mysteriously vanished.

Scope and Contents

The collection consists of sixty-nine (69) facsimiles of sixty-seven (67) watercolor drawings made by or associated with John White. The reproductions were created by Charles Praetorius by photographing the drawings, and subsequently bleaching and hand coloring the images. The drawings come from two sources in the British Museum: John White album (see British Museum Number 1906,0509.1.1 and a version of the John White album known as the Sloan album (see British Museum Number SL,5270.1-113). The original drawings date from 1585-1593, and are some of the earliest European depictions of the flora, fauna, and peoples of the Americas.

Please note that the contents of the collection and the language and terminology used reflect the context and culture of the time of its creation. As an historical document, its contents may be at odds with contemporary views and terminology and considered offensive today. The information within this collection does not reflect the views of the Smithsonian Institution or National Anthropological Archives, but is available in its original form to facilitate research.

Container Listing

John White album
68 Drawings

Notes: Copies made by Charles Praetorius of 66 drawings from an album of John White drawings held by the British Museum. The original album contains 75 watercolor drawings made by John White for a patron or friend. The drawings may have been assembled into an album by White himself for presentation or the drawings may have been given as loose sheets to his patron. The original title of the album is: "The pictures of sondry things collected and counterfeited according to the truth in the voyage made by Sr. Walter Raleigh knight for the discovery of LA VIRGINEA. In the 27th yeare of the most happie reigne of our Sovereigne lady Queene Elizabeth And in the yeare of our Lorde God. 1585."

The drawings include depictions of Southern Algonquian people, towns, ceremonies, and daily life; Inuit people; Timucua people; Tupinambá people; Picts; maps; and plants, fish, insects, birds, and reptiles. There are duplicate drawings of the two Timucua drawings.
