Administrative Information

Provenance

The collection was donated to the Department of Anthropology by Lispenard Seabury Crocker in 1961 (USNM Accession 232559). It was transferred from the object collections of the Department of Anthropology to the National Anthropological Archives by Chang-su Houchins between 1984 and 1989.

Related Materials

The Department of Anthropology object collections holds Chinese maps collected by Crocker under Accession 232559. Additional objects donated with this collection are held by the Department of Anthropology object collections and the National Museum of American History under Accession 232559 and 272145.

The Library of Congress holds the Edward S. Crocker and Lispenard Seabury Crocker Papers (MSS86263).

Processing Information

The items in this collection were originally cataloged individually by the NAA under numbers MS 7144-MS 7150; MS 7152-MS 7169; MS 7175-MS 7176; MS 7179-MS 7186; MS 7194-MS 7195; MS 7279; MS 7323; MS 7373; MS 7419; MS 7453-MS 7457; MS 7473; MS 7475; and MS 1998-28. English translations and other data were furnished by Chang-su Houchins.

In 2023, the collection was reprocessed and all items were incorporated into a single collection under MS 7144. Maps have been identified by their Japanese titles when possible. English translations and supplied titles have been placed in square brackets [].

Biographical Note

Katherine Lispenard Seabury Crocker (1902-1984) was born in Portsmouth, New Hampshire. She married Edward Savage Crocker II (1898-1968) in 1923. Edward was a foreign service officer for the United States government, and was stationed at many locations throughout Latin America, Europe, and Asia throughout his career. The Crockers lived in Japan from 1934-1942 while Edward served as first secretary at the American embassy.

Scope and Contents

The collection consists of forty-five (45) Japanese maps collected by Lispenard Seabury Crocker while stationed with her husband in Japan in the 1930s. The maps are woodblock prints, drawings, and photomechanical prints dating from the late seventeenth through the early twentieth centuries. They have been mounted on cloth and/or paper backing and descriptive titles in English were affixed to the mounts by the collector.

Please note that the contents of the collection and the language and terminology used reflect the context and culture of the time of its creation. As an historical document, its contents may be at odds with contemporary views and terminology and considered offensive today. The information within this collection does not reflect the views of the Smithsonian Institution or National Anthropological Archives, but is available in its original form to facilitate research.

Arrangement

The maps are arranged in order of creation and/or publication.

---

Exhibition Note

Items in this collection were included in an exhibit entitled "Around the World" held at the Historic Warner House, Portsmouth, New Hampshire, July 31-August 5, 1939.

- Map-folder 1, Item 1 [Kōya-san no zu \[Bird's-eye view of Mount Kōya\], 1681](#)
1 Print (black and white woodblock; 16.25 x 17 inches mounted on 21 x 31.5 inches)
Printer: Hayashi, Yoshinaga
Notes: NAA INV 10000045
USNM Ethnology Catalog 398538
The map shows the buildings, streets, and features of Mount Kōya and the nearby countryside. The map is oriented with North to the left. The date and printer's name are taken from the legend which reads "Empō ku kano-to tgori shōgatsu kitsujitsu hanjo Hayashi [no uj] Yoshinaga" (Printed by Hayashi Yoshinaga on an auspicious day of the first month of the year of the cock).
- Map-folder 1, Item 2 [\[Map of Nagasaki\], circa 1750](#)
1 Drawings (visual works) (ink; 47 x 26 inches mounted on 49 x 30.25 inches)
Notes: NAA INV 10000009
USNM Ethnology Catalog 398555
The map presents a bird's-eye view of Nagasaki harbor, including topological features, foreign ships, and other watercraft. Temples, shrines, streets, the restricted Chinese quarter, and Deshima, the Dutch factory, are identified by color. Lines connecting various inlets show distances.
- Map-folder 1, Item 3 [\[Map of Shimoda\], 1786](#)
1 Drawings (visual works) (ink; 54 x 34.75 inches mounted on 55.25 x 36 inches)
Notes: NAA INV 10000010
USNM Ethnology Catalog 398575
The map depicts a bird's-eye view of Shimoda-machi and nearby villages. Included are topographical features, the 1786 census report (number of households and populations by sex), location of the chief administrator's office, and locations of the coastal defense guard posts. The map is oriented with North to the right.
Mounted on the backing along with the map are a photographic view and a photomechanical print of "Tojin Okichi in Her Palanquin," by Tsuyao Segawa of Shimoda. Tojin Okichi ("foreigner's mistress") was the mistress of Townsend Harris.
The map is dated as "Meiwa san inu no toshi" (the third year of Meiwa, the year of the dog).
- Map-folder 1, Item 4 [\[Bird's-eye view of Nagasaki\], 1788](#)
1 Print (color woodblock; 26 x 25.5 mounted on 39.25 x 29)
Publisher: Toshimaya, Bunjiemon
Notes: NAA INV 10000013
USNM Ethnology Catalog 398548

A street map depicting Nagasaki, nearby topological features, and foreign ships in the harbor. Also shown is Deshima and the Chinese settlement. The map is oriented to the northwest. Included is a table that shows distances by land and sea to various places in Japan from Nagasaki. The print is signed Onata Bunjiyemon, whose trade name was Toshimaya (also known as Bunkindō). He was a well-known publisher of Nagasaki prints in the late eighteenth century. The map is dated "An'ei shichi tsuchi-no-e inu hachigatsu" (the eighth month of the seventh year of An-ei period, the year of the dog).

Map-folder 2, Item 1

[Jōshū Kusatsu onsen no ezu \[A pictorial map of Kusatsu Hot Springs in Jōshū\], 1790](#)

1 Print (black and white woodblock; 25.75 x 21.25 inches mounted on 29.75 x 24.5 inches )

Notes:

NAA INV 10000039

USNM Ethnology Catalog 398558

The map is a view of buildings, street scenes, and hot springs near Kasatsu. It identifies the names of hot springs and includes notes on their efficacies for various ailments. It also identifies temples and other points of interest. An inset lists place names and distances from Kasatsu.

A clipping of a photograph showing women at an open air spa and an English label are affixed to the map.

Kusatsu Hot Spring in 1790

Map-folder 2, Item 2

[Buzen \[no\] kuni Rakanji no shinkei \[True view of the Rakanji temple in the Province of Buzen\], circa 1800](#)

1 Print (color woodblock; 40.5 x 15.25 inches mounted on 43.75 x 18.25 inches)

Notes:

NAA INV 10000050

USNM Ethnology Catalog 398544

The map shows topographical features and various temple structures and monasteries, including the Buddha figures carved on mountain cliffs. There is also a handwritten poem in Chinese ideographs, perhaps by a Buddhist devotee, signed Issen dōnin and dated "Hōreki kino-to-u" (the year of the hare during the Hōreki period [1757-1763]).

An English label misidentifies the location of Rakanji as Nagasaki Prefecture (it is located in Ota Prefecture).

Map-folder 2, Item 3

[Ōshu Matsushima Shiogama zenzu \[A complete map of Matsushima-Shiogama in Miyagi Prefecture\], circa 1806](#)

1 Print (color woodblock; 34.5 x 13 inches mounted on 37.25 x 15.75 inches )

Notes:

USNM Ethnology Catalog 398550

Depicts Matsushima-Shiogama in Miyagi Prefecture circa 1806. An English caption title reads "Matsushima (about 130 years ago - 1806)" and is affixed on the lower margin of the backing. The map also bears the artist's seals and the carver's inscription "Tōto Masushi sen" (woodcut by Masushi of the Eastern capital [i.e., Tokyo]).

Map-folder 2, Item 4

: [Edo Kuwagata Shōshin hitsu \[View of Edo drawn by Kuwagata Shōshin\], 1810](#)

1 Print (color woodblock; 22 x 15 inches mounted on 25 x 18.25 inches)

Artist: Kuwagata, Keisai, 1764-1824

Notes: NAA INV 10000036

USNM Ethnology Catalog 398579

The map is a pictorial view of Tokyo, including Tokyo Bay and the Sumida River. It includes watercraft, dwellings and other structures, and townspeople.

Map-folder 3, Item 1

[\[Map of Tōkaidō\], circa 1820-1824](#)

1 Print (color woodblock; 23.25 x 17.25 inches mounted on 26 x 20.25 inches)

Artist: Katsushika, Hokusai, 1760-1849

Notes: NAA INV 10000005

USNM Ethnology Catalog 398561

The map depicts Tōkaidō, the road extending from Edo (Tokyo) to Kyoto and passing through the provinces bordering on the Pacific Ocean. The map is a bird's-eye view of the region and is decorated with sketches of houses, fields, boats, and so forth.

The painter and printmaker Hokusai was known by his principal gō (nom de plume) from 1797 to 1820; by Katsushika from circa 1807 to 1824; and by Taitō from 1811 to 1820. The map is signed "Katsushika zen Hokusai" (Katsushika known previously as Hokusai). The date of the map is suggested, therefore, to be between 1820 and 1824.

Map-folder 3, Item 2

[\[Map of Edo \(Tokyo\)\], 1849](#)

1 Print (color woodblock; 38 x 28 inches mounted on 40 x 33.75 inches)

Notes: NAA INV 10000003

USNM Ethnology Catalog 398576

A street map oriented to the west. A large hollyhock family crest identifies Edo Castle, the seat of the Tokugawa shogunate government. The locations of residences of lords of the fiefs are identified with their family crests. The map has a few illustrations to show ships in Edo Bay and some buildings. Included is a chart that shows distances from the Nihombashi area to local temples, shrines, and other points of interest. A colophon identifies the publisher, place, and date of the map.

Map-folder 3, Item 3

[Shiba Mita Nihombashi Takanawa hen ezu \[Pictorial map of the Takanawa area in the Shiba, Mita, and Nihombashi Districts, Edo\], 1850](#)

1 Print (color woodblock; 28.5 x 14 inches mounted on 33.25 x 20 inches)

Publisher: Owariya, Seishichi

Notes: NAA INV 10000002

USNM Ethnology Catalog 398549

A street map colored to identify temples, shrines, fields, and the houses of daimyo. The latter are also identified by family crests. The map is oriented to the West.

Map-folder 3, Item 4

[Tōto Kinryū-san Sensō-ji zu \[Picture of the Sensōji temple in \(or of\) Mount Kinryū in the eastern capital\], before 1850](#)

1 Print (color woodblock; 24.25 x 17.75 inches mounted on 29 x 22 inches)

Artist: Totoya, Hokkei, 1780-1850

Notes: NAA INV 10000016

USNM Ethnology Catalog 398551

A bird's-eye view of the temple grounds of Sensōji in the Asakusa district, popularly known as Asakusa Kannon (Goddess of Mercy) temple. Numerous Buddhist religious structures are depicted, as well as streets and dwellings in the surrounding areas and the Sumida River with bridges and watercraft. Additional imprints include Takashima Chūhei, Izumiya Shiei, and Ki(?)mura Hanzō, possibly printers and publishers. On the same mount is a small photograph of the "Modern Sumida River," which shows the river and part of an iron bridge.
