Biographical / Historical

Lockheed, started as Loughhead Aircraft Manufacturing Company in 1916 by brothers Allan and Malcolm Lockheed (originally Loughhead), achieved success with such aircraft models as the Vega; Electra; P-38 Lightning; and later the U-2 and SR-71 (Blackbird) as well as many other civilian, military, and transport aircraft. Lawrence D. McKinley started with Lockheed in 1939 as a final assembly installer and later worked on such projects as the P-38, logistics support with the Japanese Air Force, and the Lockheed L-2000 (SST Proposal). McKinley was named Configuration Manager of Lockheed's SST program in 1965 and retired from Lockheed in early 1967.

Scope and Contents

This collection consists of fourteen 11 by 14 inch four-color halftone offset litho prints showing various models of Lockheed aircraft. The collection also contains thirteen 8 by 10 inch black and white photographs also showing Lockheed aircraft, as well as one photograph that shows Lockheed employees. Aircraft depicted in the collection include Lockheed F-80 Shooting Star; Lockheed P2V (P-2) Neptune Family (various models); Lockheed TV-2 (TO-2, T-33B) Shooting Star; Lockheed C-121 Constellation/Super Constellation Family (various models); Boeing B-47B Stratojet (built by Lockheed's Georgia Division); Lockheed XF-90; Lockheed XR6O-1 (XR6V-1) Constitution; Lockheed F-94C (F-97A) Starfire; Lockheed WV-1 (PO-1W) Super Constellation; and what appears to be an artist's model for an early version of the Lockheed C-130 Hercules. People depicted in the collection include Lawrence D. McKinley; Harold Harrison; Jack Griffin; Ross Tyree; and Paul Schweich.
