Administrative Information

Acquisition Information

Men's Clothing is a portion of the Business Ephemera Series of the Warshaw Collection of Business Americana, Accession AC0060 purchased from Isadore Warshaw in 1967. Warshaw continued to accumulate similar material until his death, which was donated in 1971 by his widow, Augusta. For a period after acquisition, related materials from other sources (of mixed provenance) were added to the collection so there may be content produced or published after Warshaw's death in 1969. This practice has since ceased.

Processing Information

In 2016, with funding provided by the Smithsonian Institution's Collections Care and Preservation Fund, the Archives Center at the National Museum of American History implemented the use of minimal level processing standards to increase information about and facilitate access to more of our collections. A large portion of stored material from the original acquisition received minimal level processing, which resulted in additions to this Subject category. This effort included basic arrangement and replacement of non-archival housing for long-term stability, but staples and other fasteners have not all been removed. Revisions to the encoded finding aid were made to reflect the added content in context to the previously processed material.

Minimal level processing and enhancement of the machine-readable finding aid completed by Nicole Blechynden, September 2017.

Scope and Contents

This subject category—Men's Clothing consists primarily of advertisements, price lists, receipts, correspondence on letterhead stationary, invoices, brochures, trade catalogs, patents, import and export documents, fabric samples, sample books, images and publications. The materials relate primarily to the production and sale of clothing for both men and boys in the United States. There are also some materials from England, Ireland, Canada, Japan, and France. The materials were created for the consumer market. Clothing items include shirts, collars, neckties, vests, suspenders, pants, overcoats, and hats. There are also fabric swatches included with the some illustrations of the clothing items, along with detailed descriptions. Oversize materials are comprised of printed advertisements, brochures, catalogs, displays, price lists, related publications and images that are primarily from periodicals.

Subseries 1: Manufacturers and Distributors, circa 1818-1943, undated

Manufacturers and Distributors records include bills, receipts, business cards, advertising cards, printed advertisements, business correspondence on letterhead stationery and invoices from manufacturers and sellers of men's clothing. Businesses range in size from sole proprietors or tailors to large manufacturers like Cluett Peabody, makers of the Arrow shirt, and large retailers such as Brooks Brothers. The companies were located primarily in the Northeastern United States including New York, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania, with several from other areas in the United States and a few from England and Canada. A number of the companies were located in Troy, New York, known as the collar city, as noted on the city of Troy, New York web site, www.troyny.gov. Some of the materials document family owned and operated businesses. The materials also reflect the changing ownerships and partnerships for many of the businesses. Materials are arranged in alphabetical order by the name of the company. When the name of the company was not available the materials were organized by brand name.

Subseries 3: Publications , 1881-1973; undated

Publications include articles, magazines and books. Article subjects include the manufacturing of linen collars and clothes in general. Many of the magazines document what was occurring in the clothing trade for men and juveniles. The books are housed in two folders. Clothes Make The Man by Elliott White Springs of the Springs Cotton Mills in Lancaster, South Carolina, and maker of Springmaid Sheets contains eight several short stories, business correspondence about the mills 1934-1947, and illustrations: Miss Springmaid 1949, undated photographs of "The Weave Shed", "The Bennett Rice Mill in Charleston" and a photograph captioned "We Love to Catch Them on a Springmaid Sheet", photographs of the company headquarters, exterior image of the company headquarters and interior office shot, office furniture made out of old factory machinery, and photos of women models appearing with SpringMaid products, the 1948 SpringMaid Beauty Contest, advertisements from the early fifties, and a "brief history" of the Lancaster and Chester Railway (South Carolina). The other book, Holiday Amusements describes party games, riddles, and tricks for entertaining. Materials are arranged first by type and then in alphabetical order.

Waterproof Linen, Advertiser

Image sequence on a single folded card, of Caucasian man and Chinese laundry proprietor. In first image, the Chinese man admonishes the customer about his unpaid bill. When the card is unfolded, a second image shows the customer demonstrating that his celluloid collar doesn't need to be laundered. Each picture has a dialogue caption; the customer seems contemptuous of the Chinese man, whose bill he has not paid. Text on verso: "Waterproof Linen, / Patented. / Ladies' and Gents' / Cuffs, Collars, & Bosoms..."

Horne, E.C. (dealer)

Caucasian salesman showing four Chinese men the new Celluloid cuffs. The Chinese men are shown with unattractive grimaces and exaggerated queues standing straight up. A box or pedestal in the right foreground is labeled, "The last / invention." The card scanned has the imprint, "For sale by / E.C. Horne, 10 Main Street." just under the image, with the Donaldson Brothers imprint below the picture border at right. Duplicate cards in the collection have the Donaldson imprint, but other dealers' rubber stamp imprints on either the recto or verso of the cards include Spear Custom Clothier, Weymouth; Lipscomb the Hatter, Worcester, Mass., etc.

Donaldson Brothers (Five Points, New York), Advertiser

A female figure in patriotic dress, holding a shield marked "invention," points to the "cheap labor" text, while a Chinese man at left holds his head, possibly weeping, while Uncle Sam looks on with a smile. A sign says "Gon Up / Chinese / laundry" and the caption at the bottom is: "'Othello' s occupation gone' the handwriting on the wall."

[Image\(s\): Off for China \[trade card\].](#)

Donaldson Brothers (Five Points, New York), Advertiser

Donaldson Brothers imprint at bottom of one card, but another does not carry it (imprint does not show in the copy which was scanned). Donaldson Brothers card also has advertising text on verso, along with a rubber stamp imprint from Moore & Smith, Watertown, N.Y. Illustration shows Chinese men boarding boats, one with sail marked "off for China," while Caucasian men wearing white shirts with celluloid cuffs and collars swim in the ocean. Caption at bottom: "No more washee washee, Melican man wear celluloid collar and cuff." The implication is that celluloid would put Chinese laundries out of business, forcing Chinese immigrants to return to China.
