Scope and Contents

Series 12, Plants and Animals, 1831-1984, undated, contains approximately 4,000 pieces of sheet music and other materials documenting the development of and popular attitudes towards plants and animals in the United States. The materials are grouped by subject and arranged alphabetically by title within each folder unless otherwise noted in the container list. The dates of the sheet music refer to the copyright of the music and not to the subject on the cover, songwriter's life, or other events. In addition, there is one box of ephemera arranged in the same subseries order as the music listing, which is described following the container list.

Material related to this series within the DeVincent Collection may be found in Series 8, Geography; Series 13, Business, Commerce, and Law; and Series 14, Calendar, Time and Weather.

Arrangement

Arranged in 7 subseries.

- 12.1: Trees
- 12.2: Plants and Flowers
- 12.3: Animals
- 12.4: Fish, Mermaids, and Aquatic Animals
- 12.5: Birds

Sardanapalus (also spelled Sardanapallus) was, according to the Greek writer Ctesias of Cnidus, the last king of Assyria. The death of Sardanapalus was the subject of a Romantic Period painting by the 19th century French painter Eugène Delacroix, The Death of Sardanapalus, which was itself based on the 1821 play Sardanapalus by Byron, which in turn was based on Diodorus. (From Wikipedia, <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sardanapalus>, 10 March 2010.)

The sheet music cover depicts two warriors in a charriot driven by three horses.
