Collection Overview

Repository:	Archives Center, National Museum of American History
Title:	Kalman J. DeJuhasz Papers
Date:	1908-1959
Identifier:	NMAH.AC.0304
Creator:	DeJuhasz, Kalman J. (Engineer)
Extent:	1.6 Cubic feet (5 boxes)
Language:	English .
Summary:	Technical papers, notes, and publications which reflect DeJuhasz's career as a mechanical engineer, inventor, and professor and particularly his interest in development of diesel engines, engineering instruments, and his invention of the engine indicator for measuring cylinder pressures.

Administrative Information

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Collection donated by the DeJuhasz Family.

Provenance

Collection transferred to the Archives Center from the Division of Engineering and Industry (now Division of Work and Industry), April 28, 1988.

Processing Information

Processed by Archives Center staff.

Preferred Citation

Kalman J. DeJuhasz Papers, 1908-1959, Archives Center, National Museum of American History

Restrictions

Collection is open for research.

Conditions Governing Use

Collection items available for reproduction, but the Archives Center makes no guarantees concerning copyright restrictions. Other intellectual property rights may apply. Archives Center cost-recovery and use fees may apply when requesting reproductions.

Biographical Note

Kalman J. DeJuhasz (born in Hungary, 1893) was professor of engineering at Pennsylvania State University (1928-1953). This material was collected through most of his professional career as engineer, inventor, and professor. He died in 1973 at State College, Pennsylvania.

Scope and Contents

This collection of technical papers, notes and publications reflects the career of De Juhasz as a mechanical engineer, inventor and professor of engineering. It particularly reflects his interest in the development of diesel engines, engineering instruments and specifically his invention of the engine indicator for measuring pressures in the cylinders.

Names and Subject Terms

This collection is indexed in the online catalog of the Smithsonian Institution under the following terms:

Subjects:

- Engineering instruments
- Mechanical engineering

Types of Materials:

- Notes
