Scurlock Studio Records, Series 2: Color Photographs

NMAH.AC.0618.S02

David Haberstich and Vanessa Broussard-Simmons

The collection was acquired with assistance from the Eugene Meyer Foundation. Elihu and Susan Rose and the Save America's Treasures program, provided funds to stabilize, organize, store, and create digital surrogates of some of the negatives. Processing and encoding funded by a grant from the Council on Library and Information Resources.

Restrictions

Collection is open for research.

Gloves must be worn when handling unprotected photographs and negatives. Special arrangements required to view negatives due to cold storage. Using negatives requires a three hour waiting period. Contact the Archives Center at 202-633-3270.

Conditions Governing Use

When the Museum purchased the collection from the Estate of Robert S. Scurlock, it obtained all rights, including copyright. The earliest photographs in the collection are in the public domain because their term of copyright has expired. The Archives Center will control copyright and the use of the collection for reproduction purposes, which will be handled in accordance with its standard reproduction policy guidelines. Archives Center cost-recovery and use fees may apply when requesting reproductions.

Biographical Note

The Scurlock photographic studio was a fixture in the Shaw area of Washington, D.C. from 1911 to 1994, and encompassed two generations of photographers, Addison N. Scurlock (1883-1964) and his sons George H. (1920- 2005) and Robert S. (1916-1994). More...

Scope and Contents

The series color photographs consists of color photographs and hand-colored photographs, but there are also order envelopes and materials, and other photographic material types that were part of the order. The subseries are arranged as clients, subjects, weddings, and hand-colored photographs. Clients are arranged alphabetically by last name or the first word of an organization's name. Not all individuals, organizations, or businesses necessarily represent a client of the Scurlock Studio; if an individual or organization could be identified, the photograph was placed under the identified person or organization even if they were not a known client of the Studio. The majority of the photographs are individual portrait sittings but also included are family portraits, businesses, organizations, and informal images. The subjects are arranged alphabetically, and document images of non-humans and humans that could not be connected to a known client. Weddings and hand-colored are arranged in alphabetical order with clients preceding subjects. They were a large subject of the overall collection and the majority of weddings are color photographs but also included in the subseries are black and white and hand-colored photographs of weddings. The hand-colored photographs largely reflect the same subject matter of the subseries clients and subjects. In addition, not all photographs in this subseries were taken by the Scurlock Studio; there are photos by Abdou Daoud Ackad and other studios or photographers that were sent in to make copies.

Arrangement

Arranged in 4 subseries.

- 2.1: Clients Color photographs
- 2.2: Subjects Color photographs
- 2.3: Weddings
- 2.4: Hand-colored photographs

Container Listing

Subseries 2.1: Clients , 1946-1995

The subseries clients includes color photographs, order envelopes and materials, and other photographic material types that were part of an order. The clients are arranged in alphabetical order by last name or organization name. The identified individual or organization was not necessarily a client of the Scurlock Studio but may be an individual or organization that could be and were identified so the photograph was placed under that name. The majority of the photographs are formal portrait sittings of men, women, children, and families, but there are also images of organizations, businesses, and informal images. In addition, not all photographs in this subseries were taken by the Scurlock Studio; for example, the clients of Custom Craft sent in undeveloped film to be processed and photographs to have copies made.

Subseries 2.2: Subjects

The subseries subjects is consists of color photographs. The photographs are organized by subjects in alphabetical order and are photographs that could not be connected to a client. The materials document the commerical ventures of the Scurlock Studio and unidentified individuals and organizations. Subjects with a large number of photographs are advertising/commercial, art, buildings, children, groups, women, and men. In addition, not all photographs in this subseries were taken by the Scurlock Studio; for example, the clients of Custom Craft sent in undeveloped film to be processed and photographs to have copies made.

Subseries 2.3: Weddings, 1946-1981

The subseries weddings is predominantly color photographs but also included black and white and hand colored photographs, order envelopes and materials, photo albums and other display methods, and other photographic material types that were part of the order. The weddings are arranged with clients, by last name, preceding subjects in alphabetical order. The materials document the process of a wedding day from its preparatory stages to the reception. The photographs also document formal studio portraits of the bride and groom. In addition, not all photographs in this subseries were taken by the Scurlock Studio; for example, there are a number of hand-colored wedding photographs taken by Abdou Daoud Ackad.

Subseries 2.4: Hand-colored photographs, 1930-1982

The subseries hand-colored photographs includes hand-colored photographs, order envelopes and other materials, and other photographic material types that were part of an order. The hand-colored photographs are arranged by clients' last names and then subject in alphabetical order. The materials document formal portrait sittings, copies of hand-colored photographs, and unidentified individuals. In addition, not all photographs in this subseries were taken by the Scurlock Studio; there are photos by Abdon Daoud Ackad and other studios or photographers that were sent in to make copies.
