Preferred Citation

Smithsonian Institution Archives, Accession 11-230, National Air and Space Museum, Website Records

Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of the National Air and Space Museum website and mobile website as they existed in July and August 2011. The website, crawled July 29, 2011, includes information about visiting the museum's facilities, special events, exhibitions, collections, staff, donations, and membership as well as educational resources, histories of various aspects of the museum, press releases, online activities, and annual reports. The website also includes the online exhibitions, America by Air, Apollo to the Moon, Business Wings, Explore the Universe, Exploring the Planets, Fifty Years of Human Space Flight, GPS: A New Constellation, Looking at Earth, Milestones of Flight, Out of This World, Space Race, and Wright Brothers and the Invention of the Aerial Age. The Washington, D.C. museum, the Steven F. Udvar-Hazy Center, and the Paul E. Garber Preservation, Restoration, and Storage Facility are all documented in this single website.

The mobile website, crawled August 9, 2011, includes much of the same content, but its design is optimized for viewing on a mobile device.

Also included in this accession is the museum's blog, "AirSpace: Behind the Scenes at the National Air and Space Museum," which was crawled August 8, 2011. The blog provides a place for staff to write about their behind the scenes work from their own points of view. Materials are in electronic format.
