Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of two websites maintained by the Smithsonian Institution Archives (SIA).

The main SIA website, crawled on June 16, 2013, includes information for researchers, staff, and the general public regarding reference, records management, and preservation. It also includes publications, resources for teachers, online exhibitions, historical images, and narrative histories of the Smithsonian Institution and its museums, research centers, activities, and staff. In addition, the website includes the blog, "The Bigger Picture: Exploring Archives and Smithsonian History."

"Click! Photography Changes Everything," a collection of essays and stories by invited contributors and visitors discussing how photography shapes our culture and our lives, was crawled on July 10, 2013. The website was originally created by the Smithsonian Photography Initiative which became part of SIA on March 31, 2009. Although the website continues to be maintained, content is no longer being added.

Materials are in electronic format.
