Administrative Information

Preferred Citation

Smithsonian Institution Archives, Accession 14-128, Smithsonian Institution. Office of the Under Secretary for Science, Website Records

---

Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of the Tennenbaum Marine Observatories Network (TMON) website, crawled January 24, 2014. TMON, also known as MarineGEO, is a growing partnership between the Smithsonian Institution and a diverse team of collaborators with mutual interests in understanding marine biodiversity and its role in the functioning of coastal marine ecosystems. The website includes information about the project, reports, research abstracts, and related materials. Materials are in electronic format.
