Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of web pages maintained by the National Museum of Natural History that were found to be non-compliant with Section 508 accessibility standards and, as a result, would likely either be removed or revamped. The pages found in this accession may only constitute a very small portion of a website and some features may not function as expected. Many are online exhibitions. Most of the pages were captured using a web crawler between April 27 and May 9, 2016, but a few were transferred directly from the web server. Materials are in electronic format.
