Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of the online exhibition "The Life of a Vertebrate Fossil" located on the Department of Paleobiology website as it existed on July 26, 2016. The exhibition discusses the work of paleontologists at each stage of the life of a vertebrate fossil. It was removed from the website shortly after it was crawled. Due to technical issues, the Flash version of the exhibition does not load, but the HTML version functions properly. Materials are in electronic format.
