Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of "preview pages" for 19 mobile applications maintained by the Smithsonian Institution and made available for download via either iTunes or Google Play. The pages include information about the applications, technical requirements, and customer reviews. The applications range from tourist information to supplementary exhibition information to mobile versions of publications to interactive games. These pages were crawled between February 10 and March 9, 2016. The mobile applications themselves are not included in this accession. Materials are in electronic format.

The name listed in parentheses is the Smithsonian Institution unit that was primarily responsible for developing the application and may be different from the publisher listed on the preview page (Smithsonian Institution in most cases).
