Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of the online exhibition "Living Fossils of the Deep: An Expedition to the Bahamian Sea Floor" on the National Museum of Natural History (NMNH) website as it existed on April 15, 2016. The exhibition documents a 1999 expedition by NMNH and Harbor Branch Oceanographic Institute scientists to the Bahamas to study invertebrates and their surroundings. The web pages were created around the time of the expedition and remained largely unchanged until they were removed from the website shortly after this crawl. Materials are in electronic format.
