Administrative Information

Preferred Citation

Smithsonian Institution Archives, Accession 18-160, National Museum of American History. Division of the History of Technology, Exhibition Records

---

Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of exhibition records created by Steven D. Lubar, during his time as curator within the Division of Engineering and Industry and later the Division of the History of Technology. The materials cover his work on the exhibition, Engines of Change: The American Industrial Revolution, 1790-1860. Included in the accession is a draft of the exhibition script from 1984, instructions and a review of a HyperCard Stack program that contained information from the exhibition, and the text of talk Lubar gave at the National Museum of American History after he had left the Smithsonian. Materials are in electronic format.
