Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of the records of Jeffrey K. Stine, Curator of technology and environmental history, which document planning, development, and production activities for the exhibitions Manufactured Weather, Tunnels!, Extending the Legacy: Planning America's Capital for the 21st Century, Oil from the Arctic: Building the Trans-Alaska Pipeline, Science in American Life, and the Hall of Civil Engineering at the National Museum of American History (NMAH). The records also document exhibition proposals, as well as planning for an environmental history exhibition at NMAH. Earlier records date from when the Division of Medicine and Science was known as the Division of the History of Technology and the Division of Engineering and Industry, respectively. Materials include correspondence, memoranda, notes; proposals; a script; photographs and slides; and a brochure.
