This accession consists of "preview pages" for 9 mobile applications maintained by the Smithsonian Institution and made available for download via iTunes, Google Play, or a third-party developer's website. The pages include information about the applications, technical requirements, and customer reviews. The applications include supplements to exhibitions, educational programming, and interactive games. These pages were crawled between August 3 and September 19, 2017. The mobile applications themselves are not included in this accession. Materials are in electronic format.

The name listed in parentheses is the Smithsonian Institution unit that was primarily responsible for developing the application and may be different from the publisher listed on the preview page (Smithsonian Institution in most cases).
