Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of the blog "National Museum of Natural History Unearthed" as it existed on both January 17 and February 5, 2018. The blog was initially established in May 2010 as part of the celebration of the museum's centennial anniversary and was dedicated to the history of the museum. It continued to highlight a variety of activities of the museum through August 2016. In May 2017, a final post was made announcing that the blog had moved to the Smithsonian Magazine website and had changed its name to "Smithsonian Voices." The "Unearthed" blog was taken offline shortly after these crawls. Materials are in electronic format.
