Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of five Instagram accounts maintained by units throughout the Smithsonian Institution, including the Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M. Sackler Gallery, the Office of International Relations, the Smithsonian Associates, the National Museum of the American Indian, and the National Museum of African Art. The accounts were crawled between November 15, 2017, and March 24, 2018. Instagram is a program for applying filters to digital photographs and sharing photographs online. Due to technical issues, the crawls of many accounts are incomplete and may not function properly. Materials are in electronic format.
