Preferred Citation

Smithsonian Institution Archives, Accession 20-040, National Museum of Natural History, Website Records

Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of websites and subsites maintained by the National Museum of Natural History (NMNH) that were slated for removal as part of a process to redesign and consolidate the museum's web presence. Much of the content was incorporated into a more centralized website. Files from the web server were transferred for most of the websites and subsites. In addition, some of these sites were crawled. They primarily consist of online exhibitions and departmental and program sites and were received between May 17 and June 26, 2018. Materials are in electronic format.
