Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of three websites maintained by Smithsonian/Folkways Recordings, part of the Center for Folklife and Cultural Heritage.

The Smithsonian/Folkways Recordings website was crawled on December 26, 2019. Folkways is the non-profit recording label of the Smithsonian Institution, dedicated to supporting cultural diversity and increased understanding among peoples through the documentation, preservation, and dissemination of sound. The website includes information about the program and available products as well as educational resources and an online version of "Smithsonian Folkways Magazine." In addition, the website includes a blog featuring news and events that was crawled separately on March 16, 2020. The blog launched in 2006. Due to technical issues, some content may be missing and some features may not function as expected in this accession. The December crawl of the website did not capture the entire blog.

The "Ella Jenkins: The First Lady of Children's Folk Song" website was crawled on February 26, 2020. It includes biographical information, discography, song lists, awards, images, videos, and news related to Ella Jenkins. Due to technical issues, some videos may be missing from this accession.

The "Spirit of Seeger" website was crawled on March 17, 2020. It was created for what would have been Pete Seeger's 100th birthday celebration in 2019. It includes a calendar of events, biographical information, discography, album art, images, and videos. Due to technical issues, some videos may be missing from this accession.

Materials are in electronic format.
