Smithsonian Institution Archives, Accession 94-075, National Museum of Natural History.
Biodiversity Program, Program Records

Descriptive Entry

This accession consists of records that were maintained by Marsha E. Sitnik, Program Administrator for the Biodiversity Program. The Program supports research on biodiversity through a number of programs. These records are the administrative records for some of the programs supported by Biodiversity, including the Caribbean Coral Reef Ecosystems program (CCRE), the Biological Diversity in Latin America Project (BIOLAT), and the Charles Darwin Foundation for research in the Galapagos Islands. Materials include travel invoices, conference and workshop programs, grant and research proposals, fellowship applications, and other administrative records concerning these projects, including mission statements. The results of research carried out by these projects are not included here.
