Administrative Information

Preferred Citation

Smithsonian Institution Archives, Record Unit 315, National Collection of Fine Arts. Department of Twentieth Century Painting and Sculpture, Records

---

Historical Note

The Department of Twentieth Century Painting and Sculpture maintains works of artists born after 1880 or who were working by 1900. However, there is still some overlap with the artwork maintained by the National Collection of Fine Arts (NCFA), Department of Eighteenth and Nineteenth Century Painting and Sculpture.

The administrative history of the Department dates back to 1964 when Adelyn Dohme Breeskin, a specialist in contemporary art, became Special Consultant to NCFA. Breeskin became Acting Curator of the newly created Department of Contemporary Art in 1967 and Curator of the Department in 1968. The Department's name was changed to Contemporary Painting and Sculpture in 1970 and in 1974 it was changed to its present title. Walter Hopps was appointed Curator of the Department in 1974 and Breeskin became a consultant within the Department.

Container Listing

Series 1: EXHIBITION RECORDS, 1967-1975.

In most instances exhibition records for each exhibit are divided into three sub-groups: 1) research records; 2) administrative records; and 3) photographs and transparencies. The research records consist of preparatory material compiled for the exhibition catalog and/or exhibition, as well as bibliographies, biographies, chronologies, and research correspondence concerning the artist and his work. Administrative records include in-house memoranda, lists, forms, loan correspondence, and notes pertaining to the handling, placement, security, and display of the exhibited material. The photographs and transparencies include display items on exhibit, documentary photographs, and installation photographs.
